LANGDON OUSTED.

Gallagher Beheads Prosecutor.

Acting Mayor Dismisses District Attorney to Put Ruef in Place.

"Boss" Triumphs in Desperate Death-blow at Heney's Investigation.

Political Plot Deepens; Intrigue Waxes Warm, and Heelers Fatten.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Abraham Ruef, who was appointed District Attorney tonight by Mayor Gallagher, has filed his bond and qualified. Mr. Ruef's first official act was to discharge Asst. Dist.-Atty. Francis J. Heney and to appoint in his stead Marshall B. Woodworth, former United States District Attorney for Northern California.

Mr. Ruef announced that he would "proceed to secure indictments against the leaders of the municipal government."

but preparation of the Mayor's message and Ruef's appointment and official bond occupied the entire day, and the meeting of the Supervisors was not called to order until after 6 o'clock.

Langdon was merely suspended yesterday, his removal being deferred for a week, but he is out of office now completely, according to Ruef's view.

Ruef did not go to the board's meeting place, as he knew beforehand what would be done, and as soon as his appointment was officially made he qualified by filing his oath of office with the County Clerk and giving a surety company's bond for $10,000.

Heney had remarked during the day, when discussing the probability that Ruef might have Langdon removed, that a court injunction would keep Langdon in office, but Ruef says that an injunction will not lie in this case, as the power of the Supervisors to suspend an official cannot be questioned.

WOODWORTH APPOINTED.

Tonight Marshall B. Woodworth, former United States District Attorney, called at Ruef's office on Bush and Fillmore streets, and was appointed Assistant District Attorney in place of Heney, whom he denounced personally in the most bitter manner.

Ruef says, without a smile, that his object in taking charge of the District Attorney's office at this juncture is to promote an investigation of municipal conditions and not to smother the graft inquiry. He is afraid, according to his own explanation, that Francis J. Heney, William J. Burns, and others who are interested in the matter may avoid taking action, and he desires to be in charge so as to be sure that no guilty man shall escape. He also states that he intends to protect "the innocent."

Ruef proposes to take charge of the District Attorney's office tomorrow morning, and if he means to do so physically instead of merely technically, it is quite likely that he will encounter opposition. He will go into Presiding Judge Graham's court tomorrow afternoon, when the impanelment of the grand jury is to be completed, and assert his right to be recognized as the District Attorney.

Langdon and Heney will be here

of San Francisco, who deposed District Attorney Langdon in order to rescue Mayor Schmitz from the Grand Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The threat that Dist.-Atty. Langdon would be removed for appointing Francis J. Heney as special prosecutor of grafters has been carried out, and Abraham Ruef, "boss" of the city administration, has virtually appointed himself in Langdon's place.

Ruef's action in thus putting himself in a position of authority where he would have the right to advise the grand jury, and to get at all of the secrets of the Heney-Burns investigation, astonished even those who were aware of his consummate nerve.

Ruef's supreme self-confidence was shown when he exultingly proclaimed, wherever he went last evening, that he had effectually "turned the tables on his enemies," his apparent condition of mind contrasting with the evident trepidation of his henchmen, who gave indications of being alarmed at the audacity of his act.

All day Ruef and Acting Mayor Gallagher were together, perfecting details of the coup, and Gallagher's absence from the Mayor's office suggested that some important scheme was being prepared. Gallagher's nervous appearance betokened that he had something on his mind which disturbed him mightily, but his suave and cheerful political master, whose fertility of resources was being tested, and who studied out the acts that Mayor and Supervisors were to perform, gave no sign of perturbation.

As a new grand jury is to be organized today it was deemed of strategic importance to have Langdon and Heney ousted yesterday, so that Ruef might assume charge at once as legal adviser in the grand jury proceedings; at the same time and they will not submit to Ruef's authority. It will then be up to Judge Graham to recognize Langdon or Ruef, unless he is saved the necessity of a decision by some restraining order, which Langdon and Heney may be able to secure in the morning.

Political weather prophets have forecasted stormy events for tomorrow. Ruef admits that he intends to bring Heney, Burns and others before the grand jury, and to make them tell what they know and to produce what evidence they have gathered.

Heney and Burns have kept secret facts which they have discovered in regard to corrupt acts of administration, and their silence, taken with assurance that they have secured not only damaging but entirely convincing evidence, has been worrying administration men.

Langdon and Heney declare the attempt to remove them will prove futile. Heney said this evening:

HENEY'S STATEMENT.

"San Francisco is now facing the greatest crisis any city in this country has ever been called upon to face. The criminals have become the prosecutors. The situation has become appalling and every citizen who has a spark of manhood in him must do his duty and rise to overthrow the criminal power that has the municipality in its grasp. I do not think that the people of any city in this world have ever been forced to meet such conditions as prevail here now. Unless the people realize these conditions and men do their duty as citizens, the civic life of the city is as good as dead."

LANGDON NOTIFIED.

Langdon has been notified to appear before the board one week from today to show why he should not be removed from office.

SCHMITZ WAS THE GRAND JURY'S MARK.

Bell's Union Labor Bosses Denounce Heney and Investigators.

In Public Meeting the Advocates of Bell's Election to Governorship Spout Filth at Investigators of Municipal Scandals—The Union Labor Party Mayor Responsible for the Horrible Conditions in the Municipality.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Theodore A. Bell is politically a dead one.

The revelations of the frightful robberies and extortions practiced upon the people of San Francisco by the bosses of the Union Labor party, which placed Eugene Schmitz in the Mayor's chair, have settled his case.

Hundreds of Democrats have openly declared that they will withdraw their support from a candidate for Governor placed in nomination by the same gang that is responsible for Schmitz and his malodorous reign, and has now thwarted investigation by deposing Langdon and appointing Rue in his place.

It took some time for these people to wake up, but they have at last been aroused.

From all over the State reports come in that long-time Democrats have abandoned Bell. They are fully realizing the significance of the fact that the same party which brought upon San Francisco the rule of Schmitz and made possible all the crimes against which Langdon and Heney have arrayed the forces of the law—that this same party placed Bell on the official ballot as its duly nominated candidate for Governor, after he had made them the required pledges.

The new developments in the colossal scandal, the announcement that at last the bandits are going to get their deserts through the agency of a fearless grand jury's investigation, all these things have concentrated public attention on the one central and all important fact, namely, that Schmitz brought all these things upon the city, and that the Union Labor party took Schmitz from the fiddler's chair and made him Mayor.

Bell has made himself very scarce around these parts during the past few days. To his intimates he confesses his chagrin.

But for the latest coup of the gang, removing Langdon, the grand jury certainly would have impaled some of the noisiest men who have been active in the Union Labor party's campaign for Bell. The target they were aiming at, however, is Schmitz himself, Schmitz the phenomenon only made possible by Union Labor party politics and the one man who must be held responsible for the carnival of fraud, oppression and disgrace which San Francisco has endured the past four years.

GRAFTERS LAUDED AT BELL MEETING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the brazen effrontery and total disregard of decency, McCarthy, Tveitmoe and a score more in a large hall in this city filled almost to the doors, denounced in the vilest language the men who are making every effort to stamp out crime, and lauded graft, thievery and bribery.

This occurred at the mass meeting held in Dolores Hall Tuesday under the auspices of the Union Labor party, which nominated Bell for Governor. The hall was well filled, almost crowded, and the crowd cheered and applauded every fling made at decency until the rafters shook with wild applause and cheering.

It was a Bell meeting, essentially made up of trades-unionists, employés of the city administration, and their associates, such as toughs, hoodlums, vagrants, pickpockets, and men whose only occupation appears to be to hang onto the skirts of the small politician, follow him round to all meetings, and make himself solid so as to keep out of jail when caught in crime.

Of course some people were in the hall who had come there out of mere curiosity, attracted by the sound of music from a brass band and the glare of huge bonfires. Those, however, left the hall in disgust when McCarthy and Tveitmoe hurled broadsides of abuse upon Francis Heney, Judge Lawlor and others who are engaged in running down criminals and meting out punishment to these offenders.

In order to make as creditable a showing as possible, McCarthy and his men passed the word along the line that every union man must be in that hall on Tuesday evening and remain there until the meeting adjourned. Unlimited booze was promised as one of the inducements to stay until the meeting was over, and absence would incur the displeasure of the labor leaders.

The president and secretary of each union were made vice-presidents of the meeting, an additional inducement for those men to bring their friends so as to be seen on the platform alongside of the big guns, politicians and laborites, and the majority who combine the two within themselves.

Never before did these Labor Union party ruffians show their hand so openly as they did at that meeting in favoring crime and denouncing decency. McCarthy worked himself into a frenzy, and Tveitmoe bellowed like a mad bull, when speaking of Francis J. Heney, the man who landed the crooks implicated in the Oregon land frauds, and brought home to the criminals their crimes, even to United States Senators and members of the House of Congress. Heney has been retained by the outraged citizens of San Francisco to ferret out the crime rampant in this city. The funds to defray the cost of prosecuting that work has been guaranteed by some of our best and most influential citizens who expect to be reimbursed by popular subscription from public-spirited citizens having the best interest of the city at heart.

HENEY ROASTED.

In defending the grafters, the notorious thieves, corrupt judges and bribe-taking officials, McCarthy and Tveitmoe launched forth a tirade of invective against those who dare oppose the criminals. Heney was denounced as the archenemy of organized labor, because he dares to investigate the doings of the thieving officials voted into office by the labor vote, aided by their allies of the criminal element and the gutter of San Francisco.

The two champions of crime and destruction, McCarthy and Tveitmoe, denounced Heney as the greatest grafter in the world, whose most serious crime and gravest offense appear to be that he has successfully prosecuted criminals in high positions and landed them in jail, and that he has been chosen and accepted by both parties as one of the arbitrators in the controversy between the United Railroads and the Carmen's Union of San Francisco. He was accepted, so the carmen say, because he is known to be upright, fearless, honorable, and the friend of the wage-earner. Pin Head McCarthy and Square Head Tveitmoe painted quite a different picture of him last evening. According to their description Heney, until recently the friend of the workingman, had suddenly changed into a monstrosity, the sworn foe of all people who work, and one whose only object in life is to annihilate the poor wage earners, men women and children. Langdon came in for a liberal share of abuse because he had appointed Heney his assistant in the work of unearthing the gigantic graft which throttles San Francisco. Langdon, who but a short time ago was the idol of the trades-unionists, has fallen from grace, sunk into the deepest abyss of degradation, because he attempts to uncover the frauds perpetrated by the worst gang of grafters known in all history.

WHY THEY HATE LAWLOR.

LOS ANGELES WAIFS ESCAPING FROM FANATICS.

This is the gist of the decision handed down this morning by County Judge E. K. Caldwell in the proceedings brought by the State Humane Society for their removal.

G. C. Rose, the leader of the Brotherhood of Light Colony, and Mrs. Winnie Wheeler, one of the leaders, were formally arraigned this morning on the charge of manslaughter. They waived examination and are now seeking bondsmen.

The children still alive are from Los Angeles.

UTES ARE HALTED.

Two Troops Hold Red Men at Bay.

Five Cowboys Are Total of Scalps Taken by Braves According to Report.

Six Companies Rush to Scene as Fast as Steam Can Transport Them.

Prediction Is That Tragedy of Wounded Knee Will Be Repeated.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GILLETTE (Wyo.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two troops from the Tenth Cavalry at Fort Robinson are reported to have the Indians surrounded north of here, but are powerless to move them. The number of Indians in the band is said to be increasing. There were 350 of the savages when they left camp here, when orders were given the troops to compel the Indians to turn back.

When the six troops of the Sixth Cavalry from Fort Meade, which are now hastening here as fast as steam can carry them, shall overtake the big band of Ute Indians that have been committing murders and other crimes in this region and are now traveling north toward the Dakotas, there may be another Wounded Knee tragedy for history to record.

The soldiers have been ordered not to fire on the savages unless the savages open the fight, but if a shot is fired it is predicted that not one of the Indians will be spared.

It is reported that five cowboys have been murdered by the Indians since they broke camp on the Little Powder River, near here, and are now on the North and that they are daily running off and killing cattle and sheep and committing other depredations.

The fact that the savages are well armed and are in a mood to fight renders the situation critical and men familiar with it believe that another bloody Indian tragedy is impending.

CAMP IS LOCATED.
UTES REFUSE TO SURRENDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Oct. 25.—The band of Ute Indians that are to be rounded up by the United States cavalry and escorted back to their reservation are now on Little Powder River, about fifty miles north of Gillette, Wyo., and are temporarily camped there on account of the storm.

Maj. Grierson, in command of Troop M, Tenth Cavalry, which was sent to escort the Indians back to their reservations, decided after they refused to surrender to await reinforcements before rounding them up and orders have been issued by Maj.-Gen. A. W. Greely for the dispatching of two more troops of the Tenth Cavalry from Fort Robinson at once.

As soon as these troops arrive at the military camp north of Gillette the entire battalion will move forward and surround the Indian camp and demand the surrender of the Utes, who are 300 strong. If they still refuse to accompany the troops an attack will be the only alternative.

HOUSEMAID STEPPED ON THE DYNAMITE.

Building Blown Up and Powder Plant Endangered—Innocent Victim Dying—Two Men Arrested—Train Wrecking Plot Exposed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AETNA (Ind.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Explosion of a secret magazine of stolen explosives concealed in a boarding-house, fatally injured a young woman who unconsciously trod on the deadly mine today, blew up the building, endangering many lives and jeopardized the big powder plant.

The tragedy probably has furnished the solution of the mystery surrounding a plot to dynamite the Lake Shore Limited train at Pine station, one mile distant from Aetna, last night.

HOUSEMAID DYING.

Lena Beahlers, a housemaid, who innocently set off the explosive, lies in the hospital dying. One of her legs was torn off by the blast; the other was ordered amputated when she was dragged from the ruin.

Two men who occupied the room which Miss Beahlers was cleaning up when she stepped on the explosives, Carl Packard and Fred Gernerung, are under arrest at Crown Point. Officers saved them from the fury of a mob that sought to lynch them after the explosion.

The authorities are now working on the theory that the explosive was intended to dynamite the train in accordance with the threats made by bandits to wreck it if the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Company failed to give up $5000.

DUMMY TRAIN SENT OUT.

Last night a "dummy" train, carrying scores of detectives, was sent out ahead of the limited. Two shots were fired, the signal announced by the bandits. A moment later, the train stopped and the officers swarmed out, but the bandits escaped.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the smoke room of the House of Lords, the great topic of discussion is the rumored separation of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough. A member of the House of Lords asserted the separation is an accomplished fact, and that, under the terms of separation, the Duchess gets Sunderland House and the Duke waives all claim to any portion of the fortune settled on his wife at the wedding.

Thus the Duke gets nothing except the money which the Duchess spent on the restoration of Blenheim.

President of Centenary College Is Wounded in Region of the Heart, in the Chest, in the Thigh, in One Calf and in Each Arm, All Because of Meat.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JACKSON (La.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rev. Dr. C. C. Miller, president of Centenary College, one of the best-known Methodist educators in the South, was seriously stabbed by Prof. W. F. Dr. Miller has one wound in the region of the heart, one on the chest, one on the thigh, one in the calf of the leg and one in each arm.

Prof. Moncrieff has charge of the mess hall, and the students presented a petition to the president stating that they had been served with some meat that had been bought from a negro barbecue.

The president made an unexpected visit to the mess hall to investigate the complaint and a number of others which had been made, and then it was that the quarrel arose between them.

Prof. Moncreiff is under arrest, and Dr. Miller is under the care of physicians.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 25.—In a special train of four private cars a party of a dozen executive officers of the Santa Fé Railroad system, headed by President E. P. Ripley, left Topeka at 3 o'clock this afternoon for a tour of inspection of the Southwestern and Coast lines of the system. The trip will end at San Francisco in about two weeks, from which point the party will return to Chicago.

Among other members of the party are Second Vice-President J. W. Kendrick, Third Vice-President George T. Nicholson, Fourth Vice-President W. B. Jansen, Chief Engineer W. B. Storey, Assistant General Manager C. H. Gaunt and General Passenger Agent Connell.

MEN REJECT COMPROMISE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A compromise of two cents an hour increase in the wages offered by the railroads was rejected today by committees representing the switchmen's unions of the entire country. The men are holding out for the original demands submitted a month ago calling for a minimum scale of 42 cents an hour for firemen, 32 cents for helpers and an eight-hour day.

Despite the failure in negotiations, both sides expressed the belief tonight that there would be no strike.

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 25.—General Manager J. E. Hurley of the Santa Fé Railway today announced that all station telegraph operators who handle Western Union messages will hereafter be given 10 per cent. of all the revenue derived from this class of work. About 750 operators are affected and it means an addition of about $26,000 a year to their pay. Six weeks ago the Santa Fé increased the pay of 1000 other operators and the aggregate increase of income for the employés per year is $65,000.

SANTA FE RE-ELECTS ITS OLD DIRECTORS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 25.—All of the old directors were reëlected at the regular meeting of the stockholders of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad, held at the general offices at noon today. There was no opposition, and the block of 540,000 shares supposed to be controlled by the Standard Oil interests was voted by President E. P. Ripley.

The directors whose terms expired and who were reëlected were Edward P. Ripley of Chicago, Howell Jones of Topeka, Byron L. Smith of Chicago and Charles Steele of New York.

No attempt was apparent on the part of Harriman or any other interests to secure special representation on the board.

Immediately after the meeting of stockholders, the Board of Directors met and approved the actions of the Executive Committee in its extensions and purchase of additional lines.

President Ripley, while in Topeka today, gave out a formal statement in which he declares that his railroad company will not oppose the enactment of an anti-pass law by the Legislature, though he declares that he believes such a law will save nothing to the railroads. He declares that the Santa Fé does not ask to be favored in the matter of taxation, and asserts that it is capitalized for $30,000 a mile and could be duplicated at that valuation.

OGDEN RAPID TRANSIT.

HARRIMAN INTERESTS GET IT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 25.—A Herald special from Ogden says that negotiations have been practically closed by the Harriman interests to secure control of the Ogden Rapid Transit Company. The sale is said to include the suburban line known as the Ogden and Northwestern, which runs to Hot Springs, about five miles northwest of this city.

COLORADO SOUTHERN CONTROL.

WILL BE HELD JOINTLY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Tribune says reports were current in financial circles yesterday that control of the Colorado Southern Railroad was soon to pass to the Union Pacific and Rock Island, which would hold it jointly. There has been frequent rumors that the Rock Island was to take over the Colorado and Southern, but the story of joint control has not previously been heard. The traffic relations of the roads named are close and friendly who is a candidate for reëlection to the bench of the Superior Court. Every trades-unionist hates Lawlor with a hatred so deep-rooted and so bitter, that he spends sleepless nights in denouncing Lawlor early and late. Although generally known to the people in this city, never before was the cause of that hatred shouted publicly, and in a large hall filled with people as it was last evening. Lawlor it appears regards a criminal, a murderer, or even an offender who has committed so trivial an offense as stuffing the ballot box, a legitimate pastime in the eyes of every trades-unionist, in the same light in which he regards an offender of any other class of citizens, and even has the hardihood to send such offenders to prison, mindless of threats from labor leaders. That was the burden of McCarthy's and Tveitmoe's plaint when raiding Judge Lawlor. They shamelessly told why they thought Lawlor should not receive the votes of the trades-unionists—because Lawlor had sent to prison a man who was found guilty of stuffing the ballot box, and thus disfranchised other citizens. But the graver crime laid at Lawlor's door is that he sentenced one Buckley for term of years to the State Prison, because Buckley murdered a man in cold blood without provocation. Buckley was a union man, while his victim dared work without having first joined the union. Such acts in the eyes of trades-unionists, are not only permissible but laudable and should be rewarded.

Men who had sauntered into the hall out of sheer curiosity, left in disgust while the trades-unionists shouted themselves hoarse in appreciation of such talk. Judge Thomas F. Graham, Presiding Judge of the Superior Court of this city, and Judge Charles T. Conlan, who is a candidate for the Superior bench, both notorious pets of the Schmitz element, sat upon the stage exchanging pleasantries with McCarthy and Tveitmoe and others of that scum. They addressed the meeting, but neither found it worth his while to say one word rebuking the talk of McCarthy and Tveitmoe, or in defense of Judge Lawlor, who had been vilified in their hearing.

THEIR THREATS.

The slime vomited by McCarthy and Tveitmoe last evening has a tendency to disgust every right-minded citizen and turn him against Bell, who is the main topic of those rampant anarchists. They promised that, if Bell is elected, they will handle the State of California just as they are managing the affairs of the San Francisco municipality at present. The State has already been parceled out to the grafters, and they are prepared to suck the vitality of the rest of California just as they are now bleeding San Francisco to death.

It would be an excellent scheme to hire McCarthy and Tveitmoe to make those speeches throughout the country; they are sure to drive every decent vote from Bell.

CHAUFFEURS STRIKE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Three hundred chauffeurs employed by the New York Transportation Company which operates 350 public electric cabs went on strike today for an increase in wages. They are paid at the rate of 16 2-3 cents an hour for what time they work. They demand for the chauffeurs of the ordinary electric machines a uniform wage of $2 for a twelve-hour day. Another of the grievances is the cost of uniform they are compelled to wear.

For the drivers of vehicles hired to private families the men demand $2.50 per day instead of $2.31, the amount they are now receiving.

A non-union man who attempted to take one of the electric vehicles from the garage was set on by a crowd of strikers and dragged from his seat. He was being roughly handled when he drew a revolver and fired into the crowd. No one was hit. A big force of policemen who had been summoned when the trouble began arrived just after the shot was fired. They charged the crowd and made two arrests.

LAKE SHORE ROAD'S AGENT.

VICTIM WILL DIE.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A lone highwayman in black mask, armed with a stick of stove wood, entered an office on Liberty street, Santa Clara, shortly after 9 o'clock tonight and attacked Charles Schaefer. He stole $6. The victim is aged 50 years. He will die.

HARRIMAN "TO RESIGN."

Rumor Says He Will Give His Time to Important Development.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—There was a story in circulation here tonight that E. H. Harriman is to retire from the presidency of the Union and Southern Pacific railroads. According to the rumor, the plan is to make J. C. Stubbs, now traffic director of the Harriman lines, president, in addition to his present position.

Harriman will remain chairman of the Executive Committee of the system, so that he can keep his hand at the helm. His reason for retiring from the presidency is said to be a desire to devote more of his time to securing a line from New York to the Pacific Coast and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clearing skies, a heavy frost and southern winds are the ingredients forecasted to give Chicago a fine Sunday. Today Chicago came near being the coldest spot on the map. Medicine Hat lost its glory and far-away Calgary stood but a poor second to Chicago's 42 degs. for nine straight hours during the morning. In the afternoon a maximum of 54 degs. was registered. Minimum was 42 degs.

"GHOST SCARE"—REVENGE.

It was not a ghost that rattled the windows and doors at the home of Dr. L. L. S. Hall of Marshfield avenue, but the rejected and ejected suitors for the hand of Hazel Hall, his 20-year-old daughter. Vengeance was their motive. For ten days the mysterious rappings mystified the police and reduced Dr. and Mrs. Hall to a condition bordering upon nervous prostration. Today the young woman admitted the ghost scare was started as a means of revenge, but she refused to name the guilty parties, claiming that she was not sure just when her suitors had committed the acts.

CORSET MODEL'S CASE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Supreme Court today rendered a decision in the case of Gossard vs. Crosby, appealed from Woodbury county, in favor of the defendant. The Gossard Corset Company sought to recover damages of $10,000 from Miss Helen Crosby, a corset model, alleging violation of contract to demonstrate and display their goods. Justification was claimed in the fact that the company supplied Miss Crosby with an advance agent of whom she did not approve. Justice Weaver, reading the decision, reviewed at length the case of Lillian Russell, who broke a contract rather than appear in tights. The decision of a New York court adverse to Miss Russell was termed an "uncharitable conclusion."

GATES'S MAMMOTH GRIZZLY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles G. Gates, the "tenderfoot" plunger, has killed the biggest bear that has been slain in Colorado for many a day, and perhaps the biggest ever shot in the Rockies. In a telegram signed by young Gates, date Maher, Colo., he announces that himself and Melville Martin, his brother-in-law, have killed a grizzly weighing 1700 pounds. The bear was killed in the slopes of Cathedral Mountain, after two weeks' hunting.

STOLE CIRCUS BEASTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a lurid idea of becoming proprietors of a small-sized circus, C. J. La Rose and Edward Warren broke into a car of wild animals, standing on the sidetrack here, late last night, and made off with three cages of lions, tigers and leopards. They are being held pending action of the grand jury.

WILD-EYED "PROF." CUTS GILLETT'S TALK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PALO ALTO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When James N. Gillett, the Republican candidate for Governor, was concluding his address to the voters of Palo Alto this afternoon, G. Washington Davis, a faultlessly-attired attaché of the Stanford University, rushed from the crowd and quickly mounted the steps of the automobile from which the address was being made and commenced to gesticulate vigorously and to order Gillett to cease speaking.

The candidate had just uttered a positive denial of the claim that he was the tool of certain corporations, a claim made by opposition candidates, when the interruption took place.

The appearance of the wild-eyed "professor" stopped proceedings until a policeman had taken charge of Davis, and then the candidate continued, closing by saying that he hoped to leave a clean record in office.

DAVIS MUTTERS THREATS.

Davis broke from the officer, and muttering threats, rushed to his room in a near-by hotel, from which he was arrested later, and hurried to San José for hearing on an insanity charge.

The man's connection with Stanford University is that of inspector and corrector of manuscripts, but the political campaign has unbalanced him to a noticeable extent, and it is believed he intended violence to Gillett.

Congressman Hayes, his brother, J. O. Hayes, who wa defeated at Santa Cruz for the gubernatoriol nomination, and other prominent politicians were in the crowd, as was also Miss Effie Gillett, daughter of the candidate, who is a student at Stanford.

Much excitement followed the incident.

Gillett and party went on to Redwood City after the meeting.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Counting the minutes which seemed but few between them and death, five men adrift on a bit of wreckage off the Florida coast, saw one of their companions, whose sufferings had driven him mad, throw himself into the sea to death, and not long after a ship saved their lives.

The five survivors were landed here today by the British ship Heatherpool, which arrived today from Liverpool. The survivors are Frank Rivers, foreman of Mariana & Co.; Gus Johnson of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Ben Clark & of Somerville, Mass.; Abner Bell of Florida, and John Campbell of Florida.

After Attempting to Shoot M. W. Simpson Miss Isabelle Davis Hales Him to Court, but Relents and Withdraws Allegations When Hymen Blithely Beckons Her.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
OAKLAND, Oct. 25.—State Senator M. W. Simpson, who is on trial for a felony charge, made by Miss Isabelle Davis, a telephone operator of Alameda, this morning was married to Miss Davis by Superior Judge Harris. The prosecution of Senator Simpson will now cease.

Several months ago Miss Davis attempted to kill Senator Simpson by shooting at him.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Car Kills Child.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Jeannie Fox, aged 5, ran before a Sutter-street car at Webster street yesterday, and was struck and killed. The baby lived with her parents at No. 1825 Sutter.

British Ship Ashore.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The Merchants' Exchange reports a four-masted bark ashore at Port Stevens, near the mouth of the Columbia River. It is believed that the vessel is the British ship Iverna.

To Study Slope History.

BERKELEY, Oct. 25.—The University authorities are now formulating plans for the establishment of an academy of Pacific Coast history which shall concentrate the interest of the students in ethnology, archaelogy, the native languages, as well as in the political, commercial and industrial history of the Pacific.

Are Slow in Marrying.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 25.—L. D. Hayes and Hulda Hansen, the young Oakland couple, who were arrested here last night at the skating rink, are still in custody. They left Oakland last Saturday, and they say they intended to be married in this city, but did not have the funds. They both deny any wrongdoing.

Prepares for Trial Trip.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The new armored cruiser South Dakota, sister ship of the California, is nearly ready for the builders' preliminary trial trip. She is to be placed in dry dock at Hunter's point today, to be cleaned and painted, and within the next two or three weeks, it is expected, will be in trim for a run on the bay.

Soldiers Confess Robbery.

SALINAS, Oct. 25.—Barber Young and Bugler Johnson of the Twentieth United States Infantry, stationed at the Presidio in Monterey were arrested last night, charged with having waylaid, beaten and robbed George Smith of Santa Cruz. After being placed in jail, Young confessed to being the robber. A portion of the loot was found on a hill. Both men are new recruits.

Month Old Fire Still Burns.

SALINAS, Oct. 25.—It is reported that the fire which started a month ago on the Palo Colorado Creek is still burning fiercely. Since Monday it has burned over the ranches of A. Dani, A. E. Cooper, Mrs. Cooper Vasquez, J. Miller, Joe Schmidt, Sam Ling, and A. Clark. The Idyllwild Hotel was saved only by persistent efforts. All culverts and bridges for thirty-six miles down the coast are destroyed. The latest report says the fire is below the Posts on a range nearly four miles from its starting point.

ESPEE DENIES STRIKE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—E. E. Calvin, general manager and W. S. Palmer, general superintendent of the Southern Pacific Company, deny the report that any strike is imminent in any branch of the service. Palmer made the following statement today:

"There is no joint committee representing the trainmen in session with the Southern Pacific officials. The only questions are those that have come up in the usual order under the agreement between the Southern Pacific and its trainmen, and these relate solely to conductors and to switchmen, the latter being represented by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. A great many details are under discussion between the general superintendent of the Southern Pacific Company and the committees, representing these two orders, but relations are not strained, and there is no doubt whatever as to a satisfactory outcome.

"It is particularly desirable that this should be known everywhere at the present time since the possibility of a strike that would tie up all the railroads in California would seriously affect the State at a very critical time.

"There is no question under consideration between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Southern Pacific as reported."

COAST MARIE IS CHAMPION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Coast Marie remains queen of all speedway trotters and pacers. In the final matinée races held on the Speedway, today, Charles S. Rice's speedy black California pacing mare easily scored two more heats and the race in the class A event for pacers. Her season's record shows a total of thirty-eight points and eighteen heats. She was awarded the Morrisini cup, representative of the championship.

LOCAL CAPITALISTS GO DOWN TO RICHES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JOHNNIE (Nev.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Los Angeles capitalists who came to Johnnie yesterday in a special train to celebrate the completion of the Las Vegas and Tonopah Railroad were given a royal reception and were accorded treatment they say they never will forget. The town was decorated, and conveyances awaited them, which took them on a tour.

They were lowered seven hundred feet into the bowels of the earth, and to some of the tenderfeet this was a novel experience. Every one was given a specimen of ore that was shot full of coarse, visible gold. The last night the visitors were given a reception in the office of the Johnnie Consolidated Gold Mining Company, and many speeches were delivered.

James A. Pirtle, president of the Bank of Los Angeles, said: "I have been down seven hundred feet into the Johnnie mine, and what I saw opened my eyes to the vast commercial possibilities that are open in this section to the merchants of Los Angeles. I advise them to come in now while the golden opportunity awaits them to enter a growing country. Several other properties that we visited promised to grow into gigantic mines."

James R. Collins also spoke in glowing terms of the commercial possibilities open to Los Angeles business men here, and also remarked upon the opportunities for investment which now present themselves in different ways.

Col. C. S. Young, the former partner of ex-United States Senator Stewart, and who has been identified with mining in Western America for the last forty years, said that this trip opened his eyes to a new and growing country. He added that it will not be long before a larger and greater Comstock than was known in former days will be opened to the world.

Carl F. Schader, vice-president of the Ocean Park Bank, and general manager of the Johnnie Consolidated Gold Mining Company, acted as toastmaster and thanked the visitors for their patience in enduring the hardships of a trip to the desert, which caused smiles to circulate the room, because all remarked they had experienced no discomforts from their jaunt. Mr. Schader gave the visitors some data, which stated that the veins of Johnnie had been proven for 700 feet. He stated that a free-gold belt semi-circled the district a little north of the center, while in the northwest vast galena deposits had been opened. He said that in the northeastern part of the district and the southwest many copper properties had been disclosed, which indicated that in his judgment a big copper strata underlay the whole district.

LANGDON IS OUSTED.

pervisors, Gallagher announced that he had "asked his friend," Abraham Ruef, to "accept the office of District Attorney," and that Ruef had "consented" to do so.

The suspension of Langdon follows his appointment of Francis J. Heney as Assistant District Attorney for the purpose of securing indictments of officials alleged to be guilty of grafting and malfeasance.

It has been openly announced that Heney and Secret Service Agent Burns have been investigating matters with which Mayor Schmitz, Acting Mayor Gallagher, Abraham Ruef and the Board of Supervisors, were connected. Langdon is at present a candidate for Governor on the Independence League ticket.

The suspension of Langdon was, it is practically believed, caused by the sole desire to secure the dismissal of Heney from office.

Mayor Gallagher gave twelve reasons for suspending Langdon, the chief of which was "in neglecting his duty in absenting himself for more than thirty days from the county to go on a campaign tour, while the city was suffering from an invasion of depredations of criminals."

ACTION A SURPRISE.

The action of Acting Mayor Gallagher came as a tremendous surprise, following the sensation of a few days ago, when it was announced that Francis J. Heney, of national fame as a prosecutor, had been appointed Assistant District Attorney to investigate the charges of gigantic grafting by public officials and political bosses in this city.

Two days ago it was reported that Gallagher would take such action, and the press has been speculating whether or not he would have the boldness to take such a step, particularly as considerable newspaper criticism had been directed against himself as a Supervisor.

Mayor Schmitz, who is serving his third term as Mayor, having been elected by the Union Labor party, is now in Europe on a sixty-day leave of absence and Supervisor Gallagher is acting in his stead.

It is conceded everywhere that the suspension of Dist.-Atty. Langdon is made solely for the purpose of getting rid of Heney.

For the past few months Heney, acting for the Citizens' Committee, has been investigating the charges of official boodling and has been assisted by a corps of private detectives headed by William J. Burns, the noted Federal secret service agent, who had secured permission from his Federal superiors to engage in the work of purifying San Francisco's official affairs.

A new grand jury is to be completed tomorrow, and Heney had announced that he would at once go before it with evidence that would secure the indictment of a number of men high in public life. It was stated that a great mass of evidence had been secured pointing to criminal acts among officials, and included three confessions.

MYSTERIOUS RICHES.

A score of men, who came into public life through the recent political upheavals, who were poor in purse, recently have been exhibiting signs of wealth in the way of handsome homes, costly business places and lavish expenditures of money.

Heney declares he has obtained knowledge of how these suddenly-acquired riches were obtained.

It has been openly charged that many saloons, criminal classes, disorderly houses, etc., were severely taxed to be allowed to flourish in peace. The Board of Public Works also is accused by taxpayers and newspapers with levying tribute in all directions. This board has almost control of the construction of buildings, and it is alleged illegally taxed contractors and house owners before allowing the erection of new edifices.

One newspaper has been constantly insisting that $700,000 has been paid by a street railway company for certain important privileges, and declared that it could furnish proofs to an honest grand jury. This was one of the matters to be presented to the new grand jury.

Coupled with many of these insinuations, rumors and accusations, is the name of Abraham Ruef, the acknowledged "boss" of the politics of San Francisco, and commonly known as "Abe" Ruef.

Ruef is a lawyer, and it is he who has been appointed by the acting Mayor or to the position of District Attorney. He is acknowledged to be a man of ability, learned in his profession, and a skilful politician. He is credited with having become very wealthy within the past few years.

When Schmitz was first elected Mayor, he publicly announced that he attributed much of his success to his "friend" Ruef, and ever since has been on acknowledged intimate relations with the political leader. Ruef has often been termed "the power and guiding hand" behind the municipal throne.

GALLAGHER'S "REASONS."

Acting Mayor Gallagher this evening at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors read a long statement giving twelve reasons for suspending Langdon. Among them were neglect of duty, inefficiency, and absence from the county for more than thirty days to campaign the State as a candidate for Governor on the Independence League ticket.

Prior to today no objection was made to Langdon's absence, the office being in the hands of competent assistants.

Langdon tonight is to speak at Woodland, Yolo county. It is believed that injunction proceedings will be instituted tomorrow to prevent the Supervisors from removing him from office.

While it was known that the administration was considering the removal of Langdon as a bold counterstroke to the appointment of Heney, only a few of the politicians were aware that Mayor Gallagher had determined to take this action today.

Today was the day for the regular weekly meeting of the Board of Supervisors. The usual hour for the session is 2 o'clock. It was 6 o'clock this evening before the board, which had evidently been informed of Mayor Gallagher's intention, met. Fifteen of the eighteen Supervisors were present, Supervisors Rea and Furey being absent, as well as Duffy, who was recently appointed to the Board of Works.

AT THE MEETING.

Mayor Gallagher entered the room at 6:30 o'clock, and immediately was surrounded at the door by the members of the board. The Supervisors then took their seats, and after some unimportant routine business had been transacted, Mayor Gallagher arose and announced the suspension of Langdon, and instructed the clerk to read the charges and specifications as set forth by the Mayor. When these were read Supervisor Sanderson made a motion that the Mayor's suspension of the District Attorney be approved by the board and that Langdon be ordered to appear before the Supervisors next Thursday and answer to the charges.

The motion was adopted by the board. There was no roll call. Having had his action in suspending the District Attorney approved by the Supervisors, Mayor Gallagher then informed the board that he had asked "his friend," Ruef, to temporarily occupy the office of District Attorney and that Ruef had accepted the appointment.

It was evident from the expression of their faces that this move was not looked for, and that the Supervisors were amazed at the Mayor's bold step.

ABE NOT RELUCTANT.

When the meeting adjourned, Mayor Gallagher was asked whether Ruef had shown any hesitancy or delicacy in accenting the appointment of District Attorney in view of the statements made that he was one of the principal parties against whom the investigation was directed.

"Not at all," replied Gallagher.

Asked if he had anything to say regarding the removal of Langdon, the Mayor said that his action and the charges against the District Attorney spoke for themselves.

Ruef announced that he would appear before the grand jury tomorrow in his official capacity, and that if Heney were present he would be allowed to remain only as a private citizen.

Ruef further stated that when the grand jury was organized he would have subpoenaes issued for Heney and Detective Burns and compel them to surrender the evidence they have gathered.

HENEY'S STATEMENT.
WITHOLDS THE FACTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Francis J. Heney has announced his possession of evidence tending to show corruption in municipal affairs, and today issued the following statement in reply to repeated requests for an announcement of the facts said to have been secured by an officer of the Secret Service Department:

"I recognize the fact that the community is entitled to know the facts which are in my possession at the earliest moment, but it would be neither wise nor proper for me to try my case in the newspapers or to make any charge against any person in advance of action by a grand jury or otherwise than in the manner prescribed by the statutes of this State. I must, therefore, decline to answer any and all questions in regard to the nature of the facts which are in my possession or in regard to the person or persons against whom evidence has been secured. I am confident that no newspaper will consider me discourteous for taking this position."

CHARGES IN DETAIL.
GALLAGHER'S "REASONS."

The charges against the District Attorney and the reasons for his dismissal as set forth in the Mayor's communication to the Board of Supervisors, contain twelve specifications or counts, of neglect, direlection and violation of duty, and inefficiency.

The first specification is neglect of duty in that the District Attorney had "for the greater part of the past thirty days absented himself from the city without leave and neglected his official duties, being engaged in a campaign for the office of Governor." That during this time "there were many crimes of violence which tended to injure the reputation of the city by reason of the fact that Langdon had rendered no effective assistance in the proper prosecution detection and prevention of these crimes."

The second specification recites that "during a period of about thirty days newspapers have published that Langdon and others coöperating with him was, and for months past had been, in the possession of evidence sufficient to convict certain officials of the city of serious crimes. That the charges have been repeated daily with the knowledge and cognizance of the District Attorney and notwithstanding this knowledge the District Attorney had failed to cause the arrest of any of the said officials and if the charges so publicly made were not true the District Attorney had knowledge of their falsity and untruth and yet notwithstanding said knowledge had failed to cause the arrest of the publishers or the editors of the newspapers for publishing said statements for criminal libel."

Under specification three the District Attorney is charged with "violation of duty in having failed to advise various municipal officers as to matters relating to their duties;" that he had "entered into a combination and conspiracy for political purposes and to bring discredit upon the administration, and had assumed a position inconsistent with his duty to the Police Commissioners and chief of police thereby tending to impair and demoralize the police department."

Specification four says that "Langdon as District Attorney in addition to neglecting his public duties, instead of aiding the authorities, did, on the contrary, engage in and assist in a combination in the interest of certain insurance companies and other persons to injure and defame the character of the chief executive of the city, Mayor E. E. Schmitz. That Schmitz deemed it advisable in the interest of the rehabilitation and upbuilding of the city to visit the German empire in his official capacity for the purpose of stating the true facts concerning the conflagration before the government and home officials of the German Insurance companies, which have denied liability, and to use his personal influence with the government and insurance companies and have the latter pay their losses incurred here. That a combination was formed for the purpose of weakening, injuring and defaming the character and reputation of Mayor Schmitz; that his efforts might be discredited in Germany."

POLITICAL.

THREE TO ONE FOR GILLETT.

Big Vote for Big Candidate in This Section.

Canvass Shows Great Slide to Republican Leader.

Southern California Hands Victory to Him.

Los Angeles county will go three to one for Gillett for Governor.

In Los Angeles city there will be one vote for Bell, the Union Labor and Democratic candidate, to three for Gillett, the independent Republican candidate.

Southern California, as a whole, will go to the Tehachepi with so great a majority for the popular candidate of the Republican party as to overcome any lead that Bell of the Union Labor and Democratic paries may bring down to that point—and it is not conceded that he will have any lead. On the contrary, all the reports from the North indicate that Gillett will come to the divide with many thousands of votes to the good.

These statements are backed by a thorough canvass of a portion of Los Angeles city and county, by authentic reports from other Southern California counties and by data gathered by the Republican State Central Committee at its headquarters in San Francisco.

NO IDLE DREAMS ARE THESE.

No idle dreams are contained in these estimates. They have been made by men who are in the closest touch with the political situation. Their hand virtually is on the pulse of the voter. They have gone through the territory named. They have counted the beats for Gillett and the throbs for Bell, and their diagnosis is as nearly correct as it can be twelve days before the election.

Every disgruntled Republican has been counted in the Bell column. That candidate has been given the benefit of every vote promised by Democratic and Union Labor supporters. He has been given an equal proportion of the small doubtful vote, and with all these things in his favor, the result of the canvass has been to show that Gillett is the favorite candidate.

Practically one-third of the outlying precincts in Los Angeles county have been canvassed, and one-sixth of those in the city of Los Angeles.

The canvassers have registered the intent of every voter that could be reached. The result is as given above.

INDEPENDENTS FOR GILLETT.

One of the strongest points in favor of Gillett is the fact that the large independent vote of the county will go practically solid for the head of the Republican State ticket. Whatever may be the differences on local affairs, the hard-headed citizens of the county will be almost a unit for Gillett.

This element includes not only Republicans, but Democrats. Members of the latter party have picked out many candidates on the Republican ticket as the best man to elect to county office. They also have gone higher up on the ticket and have registered their desire for the election of the Republican choice for Governor. They have been free to express themselves in opposition to the candidate of their State party who has allied himself with the Union Labor party, which now is in control in San Francisco and whose public officials are now on the rack under most serious charges of graft and wrong-doing in places of trust.

BIG REPUBLICAN WAVE.

A remarkable showing of the wave of Gillett enthusiasm is afforded by the canvass of Los Angeles county, now being conducted by the Republican County Central Committee.

Thirty-eight precincts outside of Los Angeles city have been canvassed, and the returns show that out of a little more than 5000 votes, 4090 will be for Gillett and 1213 for Bell. This is a ratio of more than three to one for Gillett.

This canvass has been made in sections of the county where the Union Labor and Democratic parties have been shoutin- the loudest. It includes precincts such as El Monte and Rowland, that in the past have gone Democratic rather than Republican.

It includes portions of the great and prosperous San Gabriel Valley, where the Democrats have pretended that Bell has made some of his greatest gains.

There are precincts in the territory canvassed that show more than one hundred votes for Gillett to a mere handful for the Union Labor and Democratic candidate. The actual figures for one of these precincts indicate 118 votes for Gillett and 5 for Bell.

Monrovia, Pomona and other wide-awake cities are overwhelmingly for Gillett. One of the two precincts at Sawtelle is so overwhelmingly in favor of Gillett that the canvassers found less than a half dozen votes for Bell out of a total of 125.

THREE TO ONE HERE.

Conditions have been found to be similar in the city of Los Angeles. Eighteen precincts have been canvassed—Gillett, 1671; Bell, 548. This canvass includes three precincts of the Eighth Ward, a Democratic stronghold. If there were any Bell enthusiasm it would crop out in the Eighth Ward and it would overcome the Gillett lead in other precincts.

All the wild and extravagant claims of the Union Labor and Democratic shouters are proved by these returns to rest only on the clanging of bells; on a deafening noise created for the purpose of drowning the voices of the victorious Gillett hordes who are marching to the polls to elect their candidate in triumph. The Bell campaign of bombast and mud-slinging simply has lined up the great body of thinking people in the cause of reason and common sense.

OTHER COUNTIES IN LINE.

From other counties in Southern California the same enthusiastic forecasts are made of a wonderful victory for Gillett. Los Angeles county and Southern California are ready, if needed, to save the State for the Republican party. They have done it before; they will do it again if called upon.

Orange county promises to give Gillett a plurality of 200, which is 400 more than it gave Pardee four years ago.

San Diego will come up with a lead of 2000 for Gillett. In the last State campaign Pardee had a plurality of only 665 over Franklin K. Lane.

Riverside county is depended upon to give Gillett a plurality of at least 2000. It gave Pardee 1409 in 1902.

A plurality of at least 1500 for Gillett is expected in San Bernardino. Four years ago it gave Pardee 1171.

The forecast for Gillett in Santa Barbara is a plurality of at least 1000, as against one of 428 for Pardee in the campaign of 1902.

Ventura county Republicans say Gillett will have a lead of about 1000, as compared with a Pardee plurality of 459 for Pardee in his campaign.

SEE EVEN BRIGHTER HOPES.

Republican speakers who have just returned from Santa Barbara and Ventura counties say they expect to see even greater pluralities for Gillett in those sections, basing their estimates on the great enthusiasm displayed for the Republican ticket and upon the anti-Bell feeling among the prosperous ranchers and business men.

The most conservative estimates of local Republicans who are in touch with conditions here is that Los Angeles county will give Gillett a plurality of 20,000, and that at the Tehachepi he will have a lead of at least 3,000 over Bell. Other estimates of the Gillett plurality in Los Angeles county place it at 25,000.

These are large figures from a large section for a large man.

Both Candidates Hold Many Meetings Daily and the Campaign Is Pressed Vigorously by All Parties. Republicans Draw Crowds in the Northern Counties.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—With Hughes in Ithaca tonight and Hearst at Madison Square Garden in this city, the gubernatorial campaign was carried on at widely separated points and with unabated vigor. At Madison Square Garden there was a gathering of union labor to ratify the nomination of Hearst by the Democratic and Independence League parties and three speeches by the candidate, one in the Garden and later outside at either end of the big building.

Hughes, the Republican candidate, began his speech-making today at Binghamton, where he delivered two talks to large crowds, and traveled thence to Ithaca, where he spoke to an enthusiastic multitude.

FAIRBANKS DRAWS CROWD.

THEY FIGHT TO HEAR HIM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 25.—At the biggest political rally in the history of this city, Vice-President Fairbanks addressed an audience of more than 5000 persons at the Auditorium tonight in the interests of the State and Congressional Republican candidates. After the big building was jammed with people, those who could not gain entrance on account of the crowd fought for admission.

BARLOW-SMITH ROSTRUM BOUT.

CONGRESS CANDIDATE FAILS TO MAKE REPLY.

Democratic Nominee, in Bakersfield Joint Debate Attacks the Course of the Republican Aspirant on the Owens River Question and the Latter Ignores the Matter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At one of the greatest political meetings ever held in Bakersfield, C. A. Barlow, Democratic nominee faor Congress in the Eighth District, and Congressman S. C. Smith, the Republican nominee, met in joint debate here in their home town. The sensational feature centered about the right of Los Angeles to acquire the water of Owens River.

Mr. Barlow, in his opening speech, declared himself strongly in favor of the diversion of the water of that desert country to the queen city of the south, and he pledged himself if elected, to Congress to use his best efforts in behalf of the project.

Referring to Congressman Smith's opposition to the interests of Los Angeles, Mr. Barlow said that the Congressman's one successful bill had enabled the Edison Electric Company to acquire rights and franchises worth millions, and he asked Mr. Smith whether or not his opposition to the Los Angeles plan was not in the interests of that company. The question was so direct and so pointed that the great audience awaited Mr. Smith's answer with eagerness and impatience.

The surprise was complete when he closed his speech, totally ignoring what was almost a direct charge on the part of his opponent. The Congressman took up and discussed fully every other point touched upon by Mr. Barlow, but he completely ignored the water question, not referring to it by as much as one single word.

"He made a strong talk for the tariff and argument for the continuation of the Republican party in power and when he took his seat after a brilliant peroration the big audience sat in surprised silence because of his failure to refer to what was considered the chief point in his opponent's address.

"Mr. Barlow in his twenty minutes' closing speech then directly charged that the Congressman had by ignoring the question answered it in the affirmative and said that his opposition to Los Angeles must be construed as being the interest of the Edison company the sympathy of the 1500 people present was clearly with Mr. Barlow, and when he made his deduction as to Mr. Smith's position, he was cheered again and again.

MYSTERY OF THE OCEAN.

NORFOLK (Va.) Oct. 25.—A maritime puzzle that may be the result of an ocean tragedy came ashore near Cape Hatteras today, in the shape of more than 40. life preservers. Between Hatteras and Big Kinnakett, the beach is strewn with cork jackets. Some are marked "Selani." Two bear the name "Sneekf." Three miles north of Big Kinnakett a part of a white yawl boat and a fragment of a boat's gunwale washed ashore. There are no marks on this wreckage.

Principles at Stake, or Only Spoils?

BY G. W. BURTON.

To one who reflects with any amount of consideration upon what our form of government was intended to be and what it is, the failure to reach the high ideals of its founders is pitiful. We are in the midst of one of the most important campaigns ever carried on in American politics. The present is a crucial period. There is a national crisis before the face of every American citizen.

There have been abroad here among us all kinds of crude ideas and there have been built up here among us all kinds of unjust practices, both utterly incongruous, in fact, radically in antagonism with the principles on which our government has been founded. One would naturally think that citizens of our boasted intelligence and our loudly proclaimed patriotism would be guided at the present time in the casting of their votes by serious considerations as to the principles at stake and not by an unworthy desire to see some friend or associate in some insignificant local office.

On the election to take place on the 6th of November and its results will hinge in a material degree the Presidential election two years hence. Coming nearer home, on the election of the Governor depends in a large measure whether the sane ideas of American government and of American business principles shall be maintained in the future or this State shall be endangered by being put into the hands of men allied with and tied to that infamous, ignorant, conscienceless and cruelly unjust gang that has created and maintained a reign of terror in the city of San Francisco for many past years.

One would think that a main consideration in all our minds would be: Shall we cast our votes in such a way that the result in the State of California two years hence will help in a powerful way to maintain the present fiscal and financial systems which have proven so efficacious for ten long years, giving us an era of unparalleled prosperity, or shall the result here be such that two years hence the vote of California will be held up to further the political ambitions of those who would take us back to the conditions prevailing in our industries from 1892 to 1896, and to the recrudescence of the unphilosophical, uneconomical, utterly false, dangerous and diaphanous dreams which kept the country in a turmoil of fear during the memorable campaign of 1896.

Would it not appear that in casting our vote on the 6th of November we should sit down seriously before performing that act and ask ourselves deliberately whether it is patriotic, wise and befitting our American citizenship to endanger putting the State government in the hands of people who will owe their political success to the upholders and advocates and promulgators of the utterly unjust, un-American, and thoroughly selfish propaganda represented by Eugene Schmitz and his understrappers, who destroy property, maim and kill their fellow-citizens, in an effort to establish a system of government for a class, a government for the selfish advantage of a small portion of the community to the utter disregard of the rights of the great mass of the people, and denying to nine-tenths of the commonwealth the right to earn a living. Here is the parting of the ways. Here is the crisis. By the Constitution of the United States and our endowment of manhood suffrage we now all stand upon the same high and dignified plane of absolute equality before the laws. By the proposed revolution in our governmental system represented by Bell, the tyrannous, the unjust, the unscrupulous, the dishonest, the grafters, lawbreakers of San Francisco are elevated to the control of not only our government functions, but of the management of our industrial systems, and the rest of the body politic is thrust down into a condition of semi-slavery.

With this crisis confronting us, wherever you go you scarcely hear any discussion of these great fundamental principles of government from the mouths of those who are most deeply interested in political affairs.

It is all nothing but a low, base scramble for office.

Not that that office may be administered in the best interests of the people generally, but in order that some friend, associate or crony may succeed in handing himself in an office for the mere enjoyment of the emoluments of the place.

It actually calls for the highest degree of optimism on the part of us all not to become utterly discouraged as we hear men of position in the social and business world, men of intelligence, men generally of honest aims and not lacking in patriotism, devote their whole time, so far as politics is concerned, to the landing in office of some acquaintance, friend or crony. In our political conventions the delegates come in from the several districts, often lined up and herded together like a mere bunch of steers under some aspirant for an office, and these American citizens, enjoying this great dignity of sovereignty, actually disregard the great consideration of who is fittest for office, but trade their little bunch of satellites this way and that way.

This scramble for office was just as keen among the independents as it was among the members of either end of the duplex, double back action political machine run in conjunction by the Democratic and Republican push working hand in hand together. On the ticket of the independents there are men who have been allied with machine politics as long as they have been known in the city of Los Angeles. They have been cogs in the big machine and never turned an inch except under the impulsion of the main forces and under the guidance of the master hand of the political boss.

Now all these are facts. They are said with due recognition of the good and patriotic elements in all political parties of all names and aspirations. But they present a condition so unworthy of American citizenship and so exceedingly important to the welfare of the commonwealth at this particular juncture that they demand of every man among us the most dispassionate profound and careful analysis of the situation in all its elements and factors.

I have no hesitation in appealing to the high intelligence and patriotic impulses of the great mass of the Republican voters of Southern California and to that exceedingly large and important wing of the Democratic party who in three past national campaigns cut themselves loose from their old-time alliance when that party went out in a chase through quagmires in the dark after political ignus fatui never heard of before in Democratic conventions at any time in the whole history of that great national party.

I appeal to these in the name of their high intelligence, of their known patriotic impulses, of the high dignity, with which they are clothed as sovereign citizens of the United States, and as persons deeply interested in the general welfare of the great commonwealth to case aside the petty consideration of electing to office this or that candidate for local political honors and to cast their vote with an enlightened conscience, and a clear one, too, in their own eyes, as they think will be in the long run the best for our State, for the greatest honor of our common country, for the continuance of industrial peace in Los Angeles and in all the country round about, and for continued prosperity in the nation at large.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

Within a day or two Los Angeles county will be awash with a flood of samples of the official ballot that is to be put to be used at the general election of November 6. County Clerk Keyes got the first installment yesterday from the printers and tomorrow they will be placed in the mails, one for each of the more than 80,000 registered voters of the county. They will have ten days to study it and to determine how to mark it when they step into the polling booths one week from next Tuesday.

The ballot is an enormous thing. In dry goods parlance it is two-thirds of a yard wide by five-sixths of a yard long, with an added inch for good measure, 24x31 inches by the tape line.

Eight columns appear on the ballot, six of them containing the names of candidates, party and independent, one a blank column and the eighth containing the fourteen constitutional amendments upon which the people will vote. This is one column in excess of the capacity of the voting machines, which the city and county of Los Angeles recently joined in purchasing at great expense.

The Non-Partisan County Organization candidates have a position on the ballot in the column headed by the State ticket of the Independence League. Below the names of the Non-Partisan candidates appear the names of Ben E. Ward, independent candidate for County Assessor, and Dr. E. O. Sawyer, independent candidate for Coroner. In the ballots used in the Third Supervisoral District appear the names of the independent candidates for Supervisor, Dr. W. A. Lamb and Charles M. Smith. The names of other independent candidates for various offices will appear in the same position on the ballots used in their respective districts.

Omitting the names of candidates for constable and justice of the peace, the number of which varies in the different townships, there are 187 names on the official ballot, under the various party and independent headings. In this respect the ballot is said to be the largest ever prepared for an election in Los Angeles county.

Remarkable proof of the exceedingly large number of double and even triple registrations is shown by the official report of County Clerk Keyes on the total number of voters of Los Angeles county whose names remain on the Great Register for the general election of November 6. It has been found that nearly 7000 were made because of the fact that names of voters appeared more than once on the register.

The total number of names appearing on the Great Register on September 26, when registration ceased for the coming election, was a little more than 88,000. Making the usual allowance for deductions due to transfers and double registration, Mr Keyes estimated some time ago that the total registration for the county would be something above 86,000.

The records, now correct, show the registration to be 80,967. Of these, the voters registered from the city of Los Angeles number 51,354, while 29 613 are registered from the county, outside of Los Angeles.

The large number of deductions was caused in great part by the fact that there were numerous special elections in the city and county after January 1, when the new Great Register was opened. Some voters registered two and even three times for these various elections, and the corrections were made only upon the arrangement of the Great Register for use at the November election.

The greatest number of registrations in the city of Los Angeles is in the Sixth Ward, where the total is 10,432. The Eighth Ward, with a registration of 2035, contains the smallest number of voters. Registrations in the other wards are as follows: First, 5910; Second, 5020; Third, 5355; Fourth 7005; Fifth, 6310; Seventh, 7191; Ninth, 3695.

There will be some additions to the number of voters who may take part in the city election, owing to the fact that registration for this election has continued since the foregoing totals were reached, and closed only yesterday.

Horrible! Horrible! County Assessor Ben E. Ward has been giving out information from the public records. He has permitted the public to look into the books that are open to every citizen of the State. He has aided them in obtaining the information they sought; has taken hours of his private time and with his wife has copied records that any one may copy if they so will; has taken money for himself and his family for his services.

These are the foundation facts of the latest roorback sprung by the political bushwhackers who are trying to break into the County Assessor's office. It is only one of several savage attacks made upon Ward. Threats are made that more are to come. With black-face type and terrifying speech this last crushing onslaught is brutted about in all its naked awfulness, or awful nakedness.

It seems that some commercial organizations desired a list of the taxpayers of Los Angeles county. The information was valuable to them. Had they so desired they could have sent their clerks to the Assessor's office to compile the data they sought. Instead, they placed the task in Ward's hands, agreeing to pay him for his services.

Ward took the lists home with him. In the evenings, after his day's work was done, he went through the records and with the aid of his wife, gathered the information that was wanted. His error seems to have been in the fact that he preferred to spend his evenings this way rather than at some downtown bar with a bunch of ward heelers around him. He ought, of course, to have given the job to some precinct workers who could bring a few delegates into a convention.

This was last winter. Ward was a "good dog" then. He was not seeking office against the will of Luther Brown and some other party bosses. No one thought then of charging him with a felony or a misdemeanor or anything else at that time.

The monstrous nature of the offense has developed only now, when Ward has the temerity to ask reelection to office without the consent of the political crowd that found him good enough to nominate and elect on previous occasions, but who suddenly have found that he is a mouster with a forked tail.

Gaining Confidence of Prison Officers, He Waits for Opportunity, and Suddenly Springs Upon Guard as He Is Making His Rounds—Uses Wrench and Also Stabs His Victim.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A daring attempt to liberate fifteen prisoners from Harlem jail was frustrated today, but not until one keeper had been seriously beaten that he may die and another sustained a broken arm and serious bruises.

Henry Carlin, a prisoner who had gained the confidence of the prison officials and had been permitted unusual liberties about the prison, is charged with being the leader of the outbreak and inflicting the injuries upon the prison guards.

Carlin had been detailed as a watchman on one of the upper tiers. As Robert M. Cuskley, one of the regular keepers, reached the third tier on one of his early rounds, Carlin sprang from a dark corner and struck him on the head with a wrench. Cuskley fell to the floor and a fierce fight ensued. He was stabbed in the neck and may die.

ALLEGES "THIEVERY" OF RAILROAD CARS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alarmed at inability to take care of business offered and harassed by congestion in the transportation world, the American Railroad Association today declared the trouble due to "car thievery" by the smaller railroads.

The association decided it was necessary to penalize the stealing of cars to such an extent that it will become unprofitable. It is proposed to raise the per diem charge to a figure which will make it unprofitable to use foreign cars longer than is absolutely necessary.

FIGHT TO STANDSTILL.

GRAIN MEN IN TORMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The special committee on steamships and grain interests appointed a week ago to secure from the railroads some modification of their attitude on the grain question has had a number of meetings with the trunk-line people, but have not been successful. The railroads are still refusing to take new shipments of grain, and many exporters who have committed themselves to definite shipments are unable to make such shipments and are thus suffering severe losses.

Many of the receivers are in favor of all joining together, employing the best legal talent possible, and fighting the railroads to a standstill.

SOLAR TIME GOVERNS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Austin, Tex., says: The State Supreme Court yesterday rendered a decision that solar time, and not railroad or standard time, must govern legal proceedings.

The case was one involving a valuable tract of land. The jury had brought in a verdict three minutes past midnight, as measured by standard time, or fifteen minutes before midnight by solar time. The trial judge held that the term of court expired at midnight, standard time, and refused to enter judgment.

The Supreme Court ordered the entering of the verdict, on the ground that solar time governs the court.

"PREPS" BEAT POMONA TEAM.

High School Fifteen Wins a Doubtful Victory.

Defeat Braces College Men for Stanford Game.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 25.—The Pomona rooters were treated to a surprise Wednesday afternoon, when the football team was defeated by the fifteen from Pomona High School, in the last Rugby preparatory game of the season. The final score was 6 to 3 in favor of the preps.

The college team put up a fairly good game during the first half, scoring once shortly before the end of the half. Both High School scores were made near the end of the game, after many substitutions had been made in the college line-up, when Evans crossed the goal line twice in quick succession for the preparatory men after a series of fumbles had brought the ball close to the college line. No goals were kicked from the tries.

The first High School score came from a scrum on the college 15-yard line, when in the dust and gathering darkness Evans secured the ball and rushed it across the line practically untackled, hardly seen by the college backs. The try for goal failed, and the college kicked out from the 25-yard line. High School returned the punt, and fell on the ball near the goal line on the college fumble. In the succeeding play Evans again picked the ball out of the dark and smuggled it quickly across the line for the second score. After the try for goal the college men braced, and took the ball into High School territory before the whistle blew.

Although the defeat is a humiliating one for the college, it does not represent the merits of the two teams. Except for poor passing, and some evidence of staleness, such as was shown in last week's practice, and to some extent in the game against California, the college team played fairly good Rugby and advanced the ball well. The High School team played an exceptionally speedy game, and may be given full credit for their victory, but scored on the slump of the college men rather than on their own brilliancy.

One of the greatest factors in the preps.' victory appeared to be their three-quarters' formation, which played almost entirely upon the defensive. The three-quarters' men would plunge forward the moment that the ball was in play, taking it for granted that their own forwards could not scrum it to them, and so were frequently able to down the college backs for a loss, before the passing was well started.

The practice was good for the college men, and should enable them to put up all the better game against Stanford next Saturday, unless they fail to recover from their staleness before the end of the week.

The changes in the line-up that have been seen this week were retained, Vahe filling the half position, while Stevenson played full and Chisholm five-eighths. Otherwise the line-up was the same as that used against California last Saturday.

Thursday and Friday the men will have only light practice, to enable them to secure speed and rest for the big Saturday game. Tulloch will try to whip the backs into better form, and break up the high passing that resulted in such losses this afternoon. By Saturday the team should be in as good condition physically as against California, and better versed in a knowledge of the Rugby game.

THATCHER QUITS.

LEAVES HOLE AT OCCIDENTAL.

Walter Thacher, who has been on the Occidental football team for three years, and who was elected captain of this year's baseball team, has left school, and will not return this year. Next year he may enter the mining school at Berkeley. Thacher was one of the best ground-gainers in the football squad, and his place will be hard to fill. Last year he was on the track team, and during the baseball season was conceded by many to be the best intercollegiate shortstop in the south.

Notwithstanding the loss of Beal at left and Thacher at fullback, the prospect for a successful year in football at the Presbyterian College is better than it has been since the U.S.C. game. A strong second team has been organized and it will take the field against the 'varsity, beginning next Monday. Several of the men on the academy team will play with the "scrubs," and the 'varsity will have strong practice for the remainder of the season. Practice has been suspended for the remainder of the week on account of the inauguration of Dr. Baer, but it will be taken up again in earnest next week. Smith, who was a strong man at center on the second team last year, will be out for the same position next week. Burke, Carver and Manier of the "prep" team, will also line up against the first team. Holderman, Edwards, Highstreet, Walker, Ross, Brooke, Thomson and Deckman will be the line-up.

Bird will be used in the back field to fill the vacancy left by the retirement of Thacher. Hodge is back in the game after a ten days' absence, and will play his old position at quarterback. Gray Merrill has been playing in Hodge's place, and has proved himself a competent substitute in that position. He may be used there regularly before the season is over. If this is done, Capt. Bruce Merrill will be moved to fullback and Hodge and Marshall will be the halves. Coach Merrill had not picked a man to take Beal's place, but Edwards is the most likely candidate at present.

SANTA MONICA GAME.

The academy team is rounding into shape under the direction of Coach Goheen, and will play the Santa Monica High School team at Santa Monica Saturday afternoon. There are several strong individual players in the line-up, and the team work is good. The average weight of the players is 140 pounds. Lane and Lowry, the center men, are strong and are well reinforced by Faries and Bollback, the guards. Gault and Bradbeer at the tackle positions, although this is their first year at the game, have developed rapidly under Goheen's coaching, and can hold their own against boys of their weight. Manier at left end is the nerviest player of the lot. He has never played before, but has great natural ability. With a year's experience he will be of 'varsity caliber. Dieterle at the other end, is light and fast. He runs well with the ball.

The back field is the strongest part of the team. "Young Prexie" Baer at quarterback is a good general, and, although rather light, is strong on defense. He passes accurately and has plenty of grit. Holderman and Carver at the halves are strong men, weighing 160 pounds. Carver is very strong and fearless. Holderman is fast and picks his openings well. Burke has also been playing in the back field, and will get into the game Saturday. Baker at fullback is heavy and hits the line hard. The team has been using some of the open plays which the 'varsity has been employing, but will also use line plays. A large number of rooters will go to Santa Monica with the players.

DR. WHEELER BRINGS THE RUGBY MESSAGE.

"WHAT a lot of you there are," was the greeting of Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, as he stood on the platform of the Polytechnic High School yesterday, face to face with young America, nearly fifteen hundred strong.

Boys and girls were before him in rows and tiers clear up to the gallery and standing about the back of the large auditorium, with bright anticipation and cordial welcome answering Dr. Wheeler's challenging glances.

At first he could scarcely make himself heard for the cheers, true schoolboy thunder, that echoed to "Wheeler, Wheeler," and then quieted to catch the words of wisdom that were to fall.

Dr. Wheeler soon won his audience, and was entrapport with each dignified member of the board of control, as well as each new little chap who sat before him.

"What great good you can all do for the State," he said, impressively, "if you make use of the opportunities that surround you here, but what a terrible responsibility you must face at the day of judgment if you fail to profit by such advantages!"

"I am glad you have started straight here," he continued, getting down to business, "to play Rugby, the California game. [Enthusiastic cheers.] We are all one educational family in the State, from the kindergartners in the primary school to the State University, and we all have one interest, and I hope we are all going to play this same game.

OLD GAME WORN OUT.

"The old game is worn out," said this educational authority, "which in this day and generation seems to mean athletic authority. The East thought it could stand another trial, but the West has gone to the fountain head and started another game. I hear only one word about the matter at Berkeley, and only one word about it at Stanford. They are all for Rugby. It is a good game. Every man has a chance. In the old game only five men touched leather, now every one plays, every one passes, and thank the Lord, every one kicks. What's the use of football, when you don't use your feet on the ball?" he asked.

Other Rugby advantages enumerated by its ardent advocate, President Wheeler, is the possibility of going home after a hard game and doing some studying in the evening, "which is also very desirable," he added.

"I believe in a virile game," he explained. "I did not object to the old game because it was rough, but it had gone into the doell drums, it was no longer a sport, but a lot of evolutions like the training of a ballet corps. Here is a game now, a man's game, real and hearty, and a man can play it without being previously trained with absolutely the same set of fellows, and with the knowledge of their relative positions.

"Boys and girls," said Dr. Wheeler, after he had delivered himself of his Rugby message, "what shall I say to you? What in the world shall I say to you that shall be of first importance, something that you can use and take home with you?"

WORLD AS WE MAKE IT.

"I think the thing that makes the most difference is what you do for yourselves. There is no salvation handed out in tickets at this school or any other place. You have only one life to live. I mean you up there," he said, bringing it home to each one, "you, and you, and you, singly, and alone.

"This is a glorious world. Los Angeles is a glorious world. If it isn't it is your fault. It doesn't make any difference about the location; it does not make any difference about the climate, but it does make a difference what the light in your soul is. Every man makes his own world, and every man makes his own climate."

"How many of you Polytechnic boys and girls have made up your minds to be first rate? How many of you have made up your minds to be second rate, and how many of you are going to travel third class? A certain proportion of you will go to the dogs, a certain mathematical proportion will smoke cigarettes and supply the dram shops and do things to soil your souls, and if the law does not get you your reputation will.

"You can be first rate. It's up to you, make the most of your life."

The members of the Stanford Rugby football team will arrive in town this morning on the "Coaster," and will make their headquarters at the Hotel Angelus. The boys will be entertained here by the Stanford Club and friends.

CHANGE MEETING DATE.

Pentathlon of Y.M.C.A. Will Be Held at Time of State Convention This Year.

The second meeting of the subcommittee on the athletics of the California A.L.N.A. was held last evening at the home of George W. Braden, physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association at Pasadena.

Mr. Braden, chairman of the committee, read reports from almost every physical director in the State, sent in response to a letter from the committee, inviting the associations to enter teams in the State Pentathlon.

From these reports it was shown that the associations favored holding the Pentathlon at the time of the State Young Men's Christian Association convention, instead of on December 4, and it was voted that for this year the Pentathlon should be held on the date of the State convention.

Questions regarding the rules of the contest will be answered by circular letter.

For the basketball schedule the following system of play was decided upon: Redlands and Riverside teams to play a series of games, and the winner to play the winner of a series with Pasadena, Long Beach and Los Angeles; also for a series of games between Santa Barbara and San Diego, and the winner of this series to play the winner of the Redlands, Riverside, Pasadena, Los Angeles and Long Beach series.

MISS PARMER IS CAPTAIN.

Chosen to Lead the Stanford Hockey Team Against the California Aggregation.

Miss Ethel Parmer of Los Angeles has been elected captain of the Stanford girls' hockey club, and will have the distinction of leading a Stanford team in an intercollegiate contest with California in her freshman year. This is an achievement that has seldom, if ever, been accomplished before at the northern university. Hockey is a game that only has been taken up during the past year, and its popularity has been such that it has been put on an intercollegiate basis in a short time.

Miss Parmer has made a splendid record as a player since she has been at college, and showed considerable athletic prowess while still living in Los Angeles. Upon entering Stanford she became a member of the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority.

Three-Cushion Billiards.

A large and interested crowd of sports watched the three-cushion game last night at Berry's rooms between Clark and Lyon, and the latter won easily by a score of 40 to 28. Clark made the high run of five early in the game and later on made four, but even these did him no good, for he was very much off his regular game, and had hard luck in running into safety shots. Lyon took eighty innings to run 40 points and had several high runs of 3. The game tonight will be between Kennedy and Lacey.

RULES COMMITTEE MEETS.

Provision for Drawing Back Men from the Line Will Be Thoroughly Discussed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—There will be a meeting of the intercollegiate football rules committee tomorrow night in New York at the Murray Hill Hotel. The session is called in answer to the request emanating from the conference of football officials held at the Murray Hill two weeks ago for the purpose of interpreting the code. A number of additional questions have arisen since that meeting calling for a decision.

All these will be settled at this meeting. Most of them are of minor importance, but the question of the meaning of the rule prohibiting the drawing back of men from the line to carry the ball or for interference is far reaching in its significance. This will be among the matters taken up. It is expected that with the exception of the western members there will be a full attendance of committee membership.

DECOURSEY TO MEET ATTELL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 25.—Articles have been signed for a match between Abe Attell and Billy DeCoursey, to take place November 18, before the National Athletic Club. They are to weigh in at 124 pounds at 3 o'clock. Eddie Robinson of Los Angeles probably will referee.

MEN READY FOR FIGHT.

Attel and Baker Are Down to Required Weight.

Both Boxers in Good Shape for Big Bout.

No Chance of Gans-Nelson Go in Los Angeles.

Harry Baker is fit for his challenge battle for the featherweight championship of the world with Abe Attell, Tuesday night, and will have no excuse if he loses. Reports regarding his injured right hand are exaggerated and when the San Francisco boy steps into the ring he will be in good condition.

Baker has cut out boxing for several days and is confining himself to road work, shadow boxing, foot work and wrestling. He did sprain his hand a trifle early in the week, and it is for that reason that he is doing no more boxing, for he does not want to take a chance of serious injury. He is down to weight, and only needs to keep in condition to enter the ring in good shape.

Eddie Webster, who put Jim Flynn into the ring in such good condition when the latter fought Tommy Burns, is looking after Baker, and leaves nothing undone in the routine of the day's work. He is a conscientious trainer and has a willing subject in Baker, who likes to prepare for a battle.

Eddie Menney has shown versatile ability by jumping from the role of sparring partner to wrestling partner, and gives Baker a good work-out in either. He is strong and a good boxer, and gives promise of developing into a first-class man.

M'CAREY VISITS BAKER.

Tom McCarey and a party of friends made a trip to Baker's camp at the East Side Athletic Club, yesterday afternoon, and looked the lad over carefully. McCarey expressed himself as satisfied with his inspection, and urged Baker to get into the best possible condition for the bout. It was McCarey who brought Baker out in the latter's battle with Frankie Neil, and "Uncle Tom" looks upon him as a sort of protége of his. This is Baker's great chance, but he has the hardest task of his career, past or future, before him.

Baker is but 18 years of age. There is some doubt in his camp as to the actual date of birth. Baker's brother holds the correct day is October 10, while his uncle says he was in the house at the time the youngster came into the world, and that the date is July 10. Harry leans to the data furnished by his brother, which makes him 18 years and 16 days old.

Harry took a swim in the sulphur pool at the Eastlake Baths, Wednesday, the last plunge he expects to enjoy before the fight. The bath weakened him and caused him to skip some of the hard work, but the slight break in the routine of training did him good and kept him from going stale.

Out at Attell's camp everything is serene so far as training goes, but the little champion is worried by the illness of his wife, who is ailing. Abe cut out a part of his training yesterday, to be able to sit by her bedside, but he worked all the harder later in the day. Abe is down to weight and is not worrying over the outcome of the battle. He is a veteran of so many encounters and has always been so successful that he worries little over stories of the prowess of an opponent. He looks in grand shape, although he carries lines of black under his eyes.

Attell will take no chances with Baker. The latter's victory over Neill was a bit more impressive than the drubbing handed Frankie by Attell, and dopesters are figuring on those two fights as a basis. But the dope is a little misleading, for the two boys fought Neil in wholly different styles. Attell met Neil at his own game—slugging; Baker was cautious, on the other hand, and fought a careful battle. There is enough uncertainty about the fight to cause much speculation. Attell undoubtedly will be the favorite, but Baker has a strong following which is anxious to get down on odds for a chance. Baker is the only man in sight to give the champion a real argument.

Kid Dalton is sparring daily with Attell, and incidentally preparing for his battle with Sheek, which comes off as a preliminary to the big bout. Attell says the boy will be heard from some day, and speaks highly of his present ability.

GANS AND NELSON.

Considerable excitement was caused in fighting circles yesterday, by the rumor that Joe Gans and Battling Nelson might fight here. Manager McCarey said that he had not even considered making an offer. There is little chance for the two to get together in Los Angeles, although there is a remote possibility of it.

A purse of $30,000 is expected by the fighters. McCarey said he would offer that amount in a minute if he could pull off the fight, but as to whether he will or not—that is an entirely different question, he says. It would require a great deal of hustling to make the bout pay, because of the settled opinions on the Goldfield fight. The talk of a match in Los Angeles is not considered with seriousness at the present time.

SH PITCHER EXPLODES.

g Dye Wants a Try-out and Gets One.

trouble with the Loolocs yesterday that they first tried a pitcher, according to rumor, thought he one of the best in town. Later, found one who used to be the best ch, and between the two the piled up twelve runs off twelve eight passes, a hit batsman and ves by the Looloos. Dye has a world of speed, could easily hit the side of a barn, if the barn wouldn't be in the way to get out of the way. ny hitting any particular knothole in the barn, or even the door, could have about as much chance of failing to get a job in the Courthouse "knowing" somebody.

started off yesterday by passing Then Wheeler hit a double over base that sent Spencer to Then Mister Dye handed Kid a pass and filled the bases. Dye was acting captain of the team during the absence of Dillon, and went over to the pitcher's box to feel Dye's pulse and consult him as to whether or not he felt like an attack coming on. While Dye was looking in Dye's left ear from where he came from, Dye was seized with a sudden attack of St. Vitus's dance and jerked his arm as if to make a balk. This scored Spencer. Wheeler to third and Kid to second. Then the Human Interrogation managed to pitch one that Kid fouled up to Buckley. He stepped over this that he filled the bases again with a pass to Irwin. This was enough to drive any man to breakfast food, but poor Dye, he had gone as far as nine "balls" in two pitched to Kid, when Brashear yanked him by the ear and stuck in Nagle.

Nagle couldn't do much better, for he filled with Walthour by passing Walthour, forced in Wheeler and sent Walthour to third and Irwin to second. Then two airships sailed up, for Wilson and McClelland, forcing in Walthour and advancing Irwin to third. Then Wilson went to bat and made a bounce to right field, scoring Walthour, but the ball hit McClelland running from first to second and was forced out, hit by batted ball. Thus ended the agony by fouling to Nagle.

Seven runs ended the game in which they served the purpose of only one more aspiring, ambitious spring boy back to the minor ranks. He is certainly a fine illustration of the

In the first inning there was a man on base trying to do much, for Dye's curves kept slapping Nagle on the leg, and the team behind him batted the ball in a scandalously careless manner. The Seals made more hits in any other way by inches of two, while we were at the time getting them in were knocking one off Wheeler. Our first run came from three singles, and the second from two swats, a fielder's choice and a long fly.

We want to know how the other teams made their runs, look at their records for errors. A life's history of plays would be too much to have done.

Nagle had to quit after one inning on account of his leg hurt. The same might be said of Dye, but he quit because his eye was as hard on the eyes as fighting. This happened:

CHICAGO'S NEW LEAGUE.

Capt. Anson Takes the Fever and Will Put a Team in the Field Next Year.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Exciting and interesting times are anticipated in the semi-professional baseball ranks next year. This is expected to result from the erection of new parks in the "territorial possessions" of the clubs in the intercity association.

Capt. A. C. Anson announced today that he will have an up-to-date club located on the South Side near the old Washington Park race track and another park is to be located near the Gunthers' on the north side. There is a chance that Anson's park may be blacklisted by the "trust," but the old veteran says he is going ahead just the same.

Close Driving Finishes.

We Are Compelled To Change the Date

Heck Gold Mining Stock Advances to Twenty Cents 9:00 P. M., Nov. 1st, Instead of Saturday, Nov. 3rd

It Will Then Go to 30 Cents, or Maybe 50 Cents in the Next Few Days

NEARLY 60,000 SHARES OF HECK GOLD MINING STOCK SOLD YESTERDAY. Our entire 15c allotment went at one fell swoop. Never in the history of mining, has a conservative company made such sales, with the possible exception of those made during the boom days of '49. Only by special permission of the Heck Gold Mining Company are we now able to sell you at 15 cents, but we have to renig on our time limit. Unfortunately, we thought we could deliver stock at 15 cents, up to Saturday night, November 3, but remember we reserved the right to return subscriptions if we were oversubscribed.

To prevent any misunderstanding, we make the following announcement, to deliver to any subscriber, stock at 15 cents 'till Thursday, 9:00 P. M. At that hour the stock will go to 20 cents, then we will be compelled to raise the price to at least 30 cents within a few days thereafter.

Please bear in mind that the phenomenal sale of this stock does not account for our rapid increase. Development is going on daily and rich ore is looming up in great quantities.

To any one proving we did not sell 50,000 shares yesterday, we will pay to any charity named by this paper, the sum of $1000. This is sufficient guarantee, and any person desiring to examine our books can do so, provided, if our statements are true, they will purchase at least 1000 shares of stock.

Why Heck stock is selling:

1st. It is surrounded on all sides by producers.

2nd. It has the most favorable outlook of any mine in this rich section. It's practically at the door of the famous Gold Rhodes mine paying $1.00 a year on each share of its stock in dividends. A good mine in Arizona is worth two prospects in any other country.

3rd. It adjoins directly the German-American, which mine we understand, has been held at $400,000.00.

4th. The Heck mine is handled by men "who know," and who offer the best references right here in Los Angeles. Its superintendent is the president of the company, and he is working continually on the mine, and is the only officer receiving a salary, and that is only $5.00 a day. This self same man has been mining for thirty years, and is pinning his life long hope on this one property.

5th. Our Company has examined thoroughly into this property, and we know whereof we speak. Incidentally, we can furnish bank or other references ourselves.

You must get in quick.

An opportunity is knocking at your door that you cannot afford to side step.

Call, write, telephone or telegraph your order at our expense. Your future is weighing in the balance.

"Gentlemen: Complying with request, I may say that the fact that I have devoted more than a quarter of a century of my life to the development of Arizona mines, and am staying with the work, may be accepted as a somewhat emphatic expression of my opinion regarding the resources of the Territory and its future as a producer of mineral wealth.

"Yours very respectfully,

"PEEPER" TURNS TO PEPPER TWO.

MYSTERIOUS FUGITIVE WOUNDS PURSUING CITIZENS.

For the Fourth Time in Six Months the Unknown "Nosed" About the Premises of Louis Johnson and John Weber—Both Give Chase and Are Shot.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

FREMONT (O.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As the result of a running battle with a mysterious "Peeping Tom," Louis Johnson, a prominent resident of this city, is suffering from a bullet wound in his right leg, and John Weber will probably die from the effects of a wound in the groin.

The entire police force and a posse of citizens are searching the city for the unknown man, and unless some clew is found before daylight that will lead to the gun user's identity, bloodhounds will be procured from Bellevue and placed on the trail.

This is the fourth time within the last six months that the mysterious man has made his appearance, either at the home of Johnson or his son-in-law, John Weber, who lives next door. Once before he engaged in an exchange of shots with Johnson, and on another occasion he attempted to burn Weber's home.

This evening young Weber discovered the "Peeper" at Johnson's window, and with Johnson gave chase. The "Peeper" turned on his pursuers, wounding both. No cause of the harrassing of Johnson is known.

Suit and Overcoat Values

ENTIRELY OUT OF THE ORDINARY

Fifteen dollars is a very popular price for a suit or overcoat, but there are many garments sold for $15 that are not what they ought to be. There is more profit in that kind (for the dealer,) but the customer invariably goes elsewhere the next time. This store is making a special feature of smart suits and overcoats at $15 which are proving a genuine treat to every purchaser and adding wonderfully to our reputation for giving the best of values. For example:

Five Cents
A Share

Active development work on five of our gold claims will begin November 1, and on that date the price of treasury stock will be advanced to ten cents a share. The recent placer strike on our property alone is sufficient to warrant advancing the price to 50 cents or $1 a share, but we will continue to fill orders at the low price of five cents until the evening of the foregoing date, after which there will positively be no more for sale at that figure, so act quickly.

Manhattan Gold Mad

Following is what the Manhattan Daily Mail has to say of our property: Mining activity is at fever heat in the vicinity of the Indian Chief claims, owned by the Manhattan Mining Venture Company, located east of the Bulldog property. Rather unexpected and valuable placer ground has been developed on the former property during the past seven days.

Dry washers are now at work producing gold. The gold granules are coarse, sharp and angular, showing that the metal has not been carried far from the point of liberation. While the present results are good much better are confidently expected.

The finding of gold in such quantities has had the effect of renewing activity in that section of the district. Property owners in the neighborhood are preparing to begin a campaign of development for the purpose of finding, if possible, the mother lode.

What We Own

Our corporation, the Manhattan Mining Venture Company, owns free and clear eight valuable gold mining claims, five of which, the Indian Chief Nos. 1, 2, 3, and Indian Chief Extension Nos. 1 and 2, are located in the heart of Manhattan—Nevada's newest and richest gold mining district. The remaining three claims, known as the Butterfly Mine, are located in the Round Manhattan District, near Manhattan, only one-half mile from the old Ophir Mine on Twin River, which produced 7½ millions in gold from 1873 to 1900.

Outcrop Assays $470.45

In addition to the placer strike just made on the Indian Chief claims, this property also contains outcropping quartz ledges that assay as high at $470.45. Expert mining men who have examined these claims say that these outcropping ledges assaying $470.45 are bigger and more valuable as depth is attained. In proof of this statement the Bulldog Company, now operating two claims immediately adjoining our Indian Chief property, have sunk a shaft only 70 feet deep, and are taking out $1000 ore. The ledges on our property are identical to those of the Bulldog Company. On the other side of our property $1500 ore is being mined from ledges that also outcrop on our property. The Butterfly mine also is rich in gold ore and it will be developed as soon as the Indian Chief claims are on a dividend paying basis.

Estimate of Profits

When we tell you that it only requires $85 free milling ore to put a mine on a handsome dividend paying basis, you can readily imagine about what our company should pay when we begin taking out $470.45 ore, to say nothing of what it should earn when $1000 and $1500 ore is reached, and the placer deposits have been mined. We think we are very conservative when we say that we believe our mines will make ourselves as well as those who join with us rich. One or two months' work alone on the Indian Chief claims should yield enough gold to make this stock now selling at the low price of 5 cents, worth as much as $2 or $3 a share on the open market.

About the Company

Our corporation, the Manhattan Mining Venture Company, is an Arizona corporation with a capitalization of $1,500,000, shares fully paid and non-assessable, each with a par value of $1.

These shares now being sold are treasury stock, and just enough is being offered to put our property on a dividend paying basis. When the desired amount has been secured, and it is now more than half raised, the stock will be taken off the market entirely and not another share will be offered to the public. The original allotment of shares at 5 cents each, although placed on the market only 10 days ago, has already been oversubscribed, but we will continue to fill orders at that figure until the evening of November 1. Not a share will be sold for less than 10 cents after that date. Buy now and share in this and all future advances in the price of this stock of which there will be many.

Features of Our Company

In offering you stock of the Manhattan Mining Venture Company we are not asking you to invest in a prospect—but a bonafide gold mine. The company is a clean company. It has responsible, honest, pushing American business men at the back of it, whose desire is to make our property the richest gold mine in the State of Nevada, or the United States, for that matter. The company owns the eight claims free and clear. We do not have to raise money to pay for them. They are already bought and paid for.

When you invest in our company it will not be six months or a year after you buy stock, or maybe never, before you hear from it again, but you will receive a report every now and then setting forth the progress being made in the work of putting this property on a dividend paying basis—in other words, it is the idea to keep every stockholder, whether he owns 10 or 1000 shares of stock, as well posted on the business as the mining engineer who is on the ground and has charge of the miners employed in the work of developing the mines. The Manhattan Mining Venture Company presents what we believe is one of the best mining opportunities in existence today.

Do not make the mistake now of delaying in the matter of making an investment in this legitimate mining enterprise until the price of stock advances. Get in on the ground floor of a proposition and share in all future advances. That is the way to make money. If you can't take as much stock as you would like to now, buy what you can afford and then take some more later on—only don't pass up a good proposition and get left out entirely. We expect to make a big roll of money out of this mine for ourselves, and you will share it with us when you have invested in a few shares of this stock, and thereby have assisted us in opening up a mine and getting the gold—that we know is there—out of it and on the market.

Get busy now and bring or send in your order for $10, $25, $50 or $1000 worth of this valuable stock at once, because—remember—the price advances to 10 cents November 1, and there will be very little for sale even at that price. Unless you act quickly you will lose out entirely.

If you desire additional information about this exceptional enterprise before investing, fill in your name and address on the coupon below, for that purpose, and send it to us. We will immediately send you one of our booklets telling all about our gold mine and Manhattan, Nevada's newest and richest gold mining district.

If you have the time, come in our office, see the samples of rich ore taken from our property, and talk it over with us. But whatever you do—do it quickly.

PRICED

ONLY 12 LOTS OFFERED.

PRICE $1200 EACH.

$400 CASH, $20 PER MONTH.

These lots are located right in the heart of the best improved section of the southwest. Around them are clustered elegant homes. They are located on

23RD AND 24TH STS.,

BETWEEN NORMANDIE AND LA SALLE.

The street car system is of the best, only a block or two to a street car line, and you have the choice of 2 different railway systems. This section is well built up, and is growing rapidly.

We offer 12 lots in this locality at $1200 each, knowing full well that they are under the market, and that they will sell out rapidly. There are only 12 for sale. We offer them at this price and at these terms for a few days only.

Come to our office and let us take you out and help you select one of these lots. Remember the terms are very unusual. It is seldom that you can buy such a choice lot for $400 cash, and then pay $20 a month on the balance due.

The lots are 50 feet by 125, and, as you know, are located on good streets and in a fine neighborhood.

There is not a lot among these 12 but that can be sold at a higher price before the payments are completed, but if you want a lot for a home, you cannot select a nicer, cleaner, more progressive neighborhood in which to live See us at once.

CHAPTER IV.

These are golden days for VERMONT AVENUE. Several pieces selling at a quick advance on the busy part of THIS BONANZA STREET, every day. Hereafter VERMONT AVENUE property will always be GILT EDGE, but it will never again be procurable at such prices for the CHOICEST LOCATIONS as we can offer you today.
VERMONT AVENUE
is destined to be the great trunk line of travel for the new southwest. It is the link now welding at the hands of an enthusiastic electorate, which is connect the grandest southern harbor of the United States with the grandest metropolis of the United States. In this wonderful conjunction will surely lie your fortune; if you have but the wisdom and courageous faith to grasp this sovereign opportunity.
NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.
Now is the time to get in for that great advance which will infallibly take place between the approaching annexation, Nov. 12, and the paving of this fine commercial highway; three months hence.
Glance at what you can do today—

For $6000, you can buy a SOUTHWEST CORNER near Jefferson, in the finest and most active business section of all VERMONT. It's the best thing left on the whole street at ORIGINAL prices.
For $7000—You can buy over 100 feet, also near Jefferson, with improvements. By all odds the best thing on VERMONT for the money.
For $4500—You can buy 50x150, near Jefferson, also improved; additional stores could be put on this at small expense, making a BIG INCOME PRODUCER.

VERMONT TO THE SEA.

The inquiry for VERMONT AVENUE frontage between Washington and Santa Monica ave., during the last week, has been something remarkable. I never saw real estate more active in my experience. Investors are beginning to see the wonderful possibilities of this famous thoroughfare as a business mart between Los Angeles and the sea, and it seems that they are going to be right.
The moral of this little preamble is that if YOU want to buy anything on VERMONT you would better do so at once. Just to illustrate the way things are going, I took a run out to look at three pieces of property at 11 o'clock yesterday. Two were corners and one an inside piece. They were three of the finest things on the whole street. He liked each one of them so well that he couldn't make up his mind which to take, or whether to take anything at all. I told him to decide soon, as there was no telling when the trio would be broken. He left me at 1 o'clock, saying he would "look around" and let me have his decision this morning.
But he waited a little too long. At 2 o'clock another man came in and bought the best piece of the three. Profitable buying on VERMONT these days. Better get busy. Put that advice in your investorial notebook for immediate use.
I am just going to mention two pieces today. They probably won't interest you unless you know VERMONT pretty thoroughly, but my opinion is that neither of them will be long on the market more than a few days longer. Both are corners. Both are near business centers—one just off JEFFERSON, and the other quite an near 24th. One requires $2200 cash—less than HALF—and the other takes about $4000. There are just THREE of the really fine corners left on VERMONT around $100 a foot. Two of them are mentioned in this ad. and I'm not going to tell you who has the other. The main point is this: if you want one of them—make up your mind QUICKLY.

FOR EXCHANGE—

We offer a lovely country home in exchange for Los Angeles property.

The property consists of 2 acres of fine orange orchard, situated near the corner of Alhambra street and Alhambra Road, Alhambra, and about 5 blocks from the Monrovia electric car line and Huntington Drive. Is under a high state of cultivation and in profusion may be found besides the oranges, loquots, figs, pears, apples, etc., to say nothing of many varieties of roses and other flowering shrubbery and plants.

The place is improved with a splendid 9-room strictly modern home—has two fine baths, upper and lower—2 artistic fireplaces, 5 bedrooms, large closets, combination fixtures, with electricity now in use. Telephone, spacious deep porches, and in fact a beautiful, strictly up to date home. The grounds are nicely laid out with drives and walks, all thoroughly oiled, leading out to a splendid stable—double upper floors, stalls for 4 horses, with running corrals, completely fenced (wire) cow corral. Also has small house in rear for home help. Water is fine, clean and plentiful and the view of the new Westwerth and mountains beyond is ideal. The section in which this property is located is the very finest of suburban California and contains many magnificent houses of wealthy retired business men.

The price of $12,000 is exceedingly conservative and we shall demand that the figure you place on your Los Angeles property shall be entirely free from any padding or it will be useless to try to interest us. We prefer improved property and must be situated on high land, preferably in the western or Westlake Park Premier section. House must be modern in every way, with full 10 rooms and well located, on fully improved street.

Prisoners for Debt.

Some remarkable figures relating to imprisonment for debt are given in the last published county court returns. During 1905 the total number of debtors imprisoned on judgment summons in the county courts was 11,405, and of these no fewer than 7451 served their full term. Both figures have been steadily rising since 1900, when the committals numbered 7800, and 4892 of the prisoners served the full term. This increase, moreover, has been out of all proportion to the increase in the number of the judgment summonses heard.

Another instructive feature of the return is the amazing disparity it exhibits in the practice of different judges. For instance, in Durham, etc., 19,670 actions were determined, and the number of debtors imprisoned was 28; while in York, Ripon, etc., where the actions numbered 22,296, no fewer than 471 debtors were imprisoned, 243 of them serving the full term.—[London Truth.

Useless to Explain.

Jim Jackson was brought before a western judge, charged with chicken stealing. After the evidence was all in, the justice, with a perplexed look, said:

"But I do not understand, Jackson, how it was possible for you to steal those chickens when they were roosting right under the owner's window and there were two vicious dogs in the yard."

"Hit wouldn't do yer a bit o' good, jedge, for me to 'splain how I kotched dem chickens, fer yo' couldn't do hit yerself ef yer tried it fohty times, an' yer might get yer hide full er lead. De bes' way fer yer to do, jedge, is jes' ter buy yo' chickens in de market."

DUTY PROJECT REJECTED.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Budget Committee has rejected the project of M. Poincare, retiring Minister of Finance, to impose a duty of 20 per cent. on objects of art and collections whose productions date prior to the nineteenth century.

Prisoners for Debt.

Some remarkable figures relating to imprisonment for debt are given in the last published county court returns. During 1905 the total number of debtors imprisoned on judgment summons in the county courts was 11,405, and of these no fewer than 7451 served their full term. Both figures have been steadily rising since 1900, when the committals numbered 7800, and 4892 of the prisoners served the full term. This increase, moreover, has been out of all proportion to the increase in the number of the judgment summonses heard.

Another instructive feature of the return is the amazing disparity it exhibits in the practice of different judges. For instance, in Durham, etc., 19,670 actions were determined, and the number of debtors imprisoned was 28; while in York, Ripon, etc., where the actions numbered 22,296, no fewer than 471 debtors were imprisoned, 243 of them serving the full term.—[London Truth.

Useless to Explain.

Jim Jackson was brought before a western judge, charged with chicken stealing. After the evidence was all in, the justice, with a perplexed look, said:

"But I do not understand, Jackson, how it was possible for you to steal those chickens when they were roosting right under the owner's window and there were two vicious dogs in the yard."

FOREIGN TRADE IS GROWING.

Exports of Manufacturers and Food Stuffs.

Forms Sixty Per Cent. of the Country's Aggregate.

Exports of Raw Materials Show a Decline.

Manufactures and foodstuffs prepared for use now form 60 per cent. of our exports, against but 55 per cent. a decade ago, while articles in a natural state form but 40 per cent. of the exports, against 45 per cent. a decade ago. In the imports manufactures and foodstuffs prepared for use now form but 54 per cent., against 57 per cent. a decade ago, and articles in a natural state form 46 per cent., against 43 per cent. of the total imports a decade ago.

This statement is a summarization of the analysis of the exports and imports of the United States under the new grouping recently adopted by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and applied to the records of our foreign commerce in each year from 1896 to 1906.

The new grouping divides the imports and exports, respectively, into six great groups: "Foodstuffs in crude condition and food animals;" "Foodstuffs partly or wholly prepared;" "Crude materials for use in manufacturing;" "Manufactures for further use in manufacturing;" "Manufactures ready for consumption," and a final group entitled "Miscellaneous." A combination of the three groups, "Foodstuffs in crude condition," "Crude materials for use in manufacturing," and "Miscellaneous," gives the total of articles imported or exported in the natural state, while a combination of the three other groups, "Manufactures ready for consumption," "Manufactures for use in manufacturing," and "Foodstuffs partly or wholly prepared for use.

This combination of the groups year by year shows, as above indicated, that articles prepared for use form a steadily increasing share of the total exports, and the articles in a crude state a continually decreasing share, while in imports the share prepared for use shows a decrease and the share imported in the natural state an increase in the period from 1896 to 1906.

This new analysis of the foreign commerce, which will be published in full in the monthly summary, shows that the export group "Foodstuffs in a crude condition, and food animals," which includes chiefly grains, live animals, and fruits in the natural state, increased from $128,000,000 to $173,000,000 in the decade, but formed in 1906 but 10 per cent. of the total exports of domestic products against 15 per cent. in 1896, this reduction in percentage being due to a more rapid growth in certain other classes, especially manufactures. The group "Foodstuffs partly or wholly prepared," composed chiefly of meats and dairy products, flour, oil cake, cotton-seed oil and dried and preserved fruits, grew from $219,000,000 in 1896 to $348,000,000 in 1906, but formed only 20 per cent. of the exports in 1906 against 25 per cent. in 1896. The group "Crude materials for use in manufacturing," composed chiefly of cotton, coal, tobacco and crude mineral oil, grew from $352,000,000 in 1896 to $540,000,000 in 1906, forming 29 per cent. of the exports in 1906 and a like percentage in 1896.

The group "Manufactures for further use in manufacturing," composed chiefly of copper in pigs, bars, and ingots, iron and steel in a partly manufactured state, leather, lumber and naval stores, grew from $75,000,000 to $223,000,000, forming 13 per cent. of the total exports in 1906, against 9 per cent. in 1896. The group "Manufactures ready for consumption," of which the exports are chiefly iron and steel manufactures in finished form, refined mineral oils, cotton manufactures, agricultural implements, cars and carriages, boots and shoes, and manufactures of wood, grew from $183,000,000 in 1896 to $462,000,000 in 1906, forming 27 per cent. of the exports in 1906, against 21 per cent. in 1896.

In the imports of the group "foodstuffs in a crude condition," which is composed chiefly of coffee, tea, cocoa, fruits and nuts and spices, grew from $130,000,000 in 1896 to $136,000,000 in 1906, but the share which it formed of the total was in 1906 but 11 per cent., against 17 per cent in 1896. The group "foodstuffs partly or wholly prepared," composed chiefly of sugar, wines and liquors, dried and canned fruits and fish, grew from $119,000,000 to $141,000,000, but the share which it formed of the total was in 1906 but 12 per cent., against 15 per cent in 1896. The group, "crude materials for use in manufacturing," which includes in the imports chiefly hides and skins, India rubber, silk, wood, fibers, cotton, tobacco, uncut diamonds, gums and chemicals, grew from $198,000,000 in 1896 to $414,000,000 in 1906 and formed 34 per cent. of the total imports of 1906, against 25 per cent. in 1896.

The group "Manufactures for further use in manufacturing," chiefly composed on the import side of tin in bars, copper pigs and bars, diamonds cut, but not set, iron bars and billets, tin plates, wire rods and pig iron, grew from $181,000,000 in 1896 to $321,000,000 in 1906, forming 18 per cent. of the imports in 1906, against 13 per cent. in 1896. The group, "Manufactures ready for consumption," which includes on the import side chiefly manufactures of cotton, wool, silk fibers and miscellaneous articles, grew from $227,000,000 in 1896 to $284,000,000 in 1906, forming 25 per cent of the imports in 1906, against 29 per cent in 1896.

AN ELEPHANT DENTIST.

Judy, Piano Wire and Rope Yank a Molar from Jaw of Tom, Who Aids in Operation.

A New York dispatch says: To the uninitiated it may have looked like a tug of war between two elephants, when each end of a taut rope was in the mouth of the elephants, but, in fact, it was a plan devised by Peter Barlow, the elephant trainer, to extract an aching molar from the lower jaw of one of his elephants.

Tom, the clever elephant that does a cake walk, shaves an elephant, beats the snare drum, and is leader of the elephant band at Luna Park, has been suffering from an aggravated form of ulcerated tooth for several days. In order to reduce the swelling and relieve the pain Tom has been wearing in off hours a poultice on the side of his face weighing twenty-five pounds. The poultice did not suffice, and, therefore, the only thing left to do was to pull the tooth.

But who could accomplish this, and where could a pair of forceps be obtained large enough for the operation were the problems that puzzled the animal man. Barlow solved them yesterday by making one of the working elephants do the trick.

Tom sat on his haunches and opened his mouth, when Barlow used a drill to bore a hole through the side of the offending tooth, which was in the lower jaw. After this a piece of piano wire was passed through the hole and tied in a loop; a stout piece of rope was tied to the wire and the loose end given to Judy.

Judy took the rope between her teeth and at the word of command pulled with all her strength and Tom leaned back to aid her, fully understanding what was being done. The tension was so great that Tom was pulled to a standing position, but the tooth came out and he settled back with a sigh of relief.

Judy is one of the working elephants that were used in the construction of Luna Park. She has pulled with her teeth two tons with ease. Judy can lift a bale of hay and carry it as easily as a boy can lift an apple.

NEW RULES FOR FUEL ALCOHOL.

REQUIREMENTS SENT TO THE REVENUE OFFICIALS.

Government Hedges Manufacture and Traffic in New Product With as Many Safeguards as Are Around Distilling of Ordinary Spirits. Gist of the Law.

Denatured alcohol and the conditions under which it may be manufactured and sold, has been made the subject of a long order by John W. Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The fact that tax has been taken off alcohol fit only for fuel does not mean that it may be manufactured indiscriminately, as the same apparatus might be employed for the manufacture of whisky and other distilled liquors. For this reason the actual work of turning out fuel alcohol has been delayed pending the issuance of the regulations.

Minnesota, with its big harvest of cereals, is an ideal location for fuel alcohol distilleries, and many inquiries as to the terms under which they may be set up have been received at the local internal revenue office. The regulations, which are given in outline, are a complete answer to these questions. They will become effective January 1.

All packages used to contain completely denatured alcohol must be of a capacity of not less than five gallons or not more than 125 gallons. They must be painted a light green, and in no case is a package of any other color to be used. Upon each head of the package shall be stenciled in red letters, of not less than one and one-half inches by one inch in width, the words "Denatured Alcohol."

Upon the stamp head of the package there shall be stenciled the serial number of the package, the name of the distiller denaturing the spirits, the number of the denaturing bonded warehouse at which the spirits were denatured, and the district and State in which it is located, the date upon which the contents of the package were denatured, and the serial number of the denatured alcohol stamp.

Each package must bear a stamp manufactured of white paper.

The lettering on the stamps must be in red.

The stamp must also show the wine gallons, proof and proof gallons of the package to which the stamp is attached. It must also bear the name of the officer who inspected the contents of the package.

WHERE NOT TO BE KEPT.

Denatured alcohol shall not be kept on the premises of dealers in wines, fermented liquors or distilled spirits, rectifiers of spirits, manufacturers of and dealers in beverages of any kind, manufacturers of liquid medicinal preparations; or distillers. Druggists, however, are exempt from the above provisions.

Under the language of the law, it is held that denatured alcohol cannot be used in the preparation of any article to be used as a component part in the preparation of any beverage or liquid medicinal preparation, nor can it be used in the manufacture of such articles as perfumery.

Denaturing alcohol withdrawn from bond for denaturing purposes shall consist of methyl alcohol and benzine.

To every 100 parts by volume of ethyl alcohol of the desired proof, not less than 180 degrees, there shall be added ten parts by volume of methyl alcohol and one-half of one part by volume of benzine; for example, to every 100 gallons of ethyl alcohol, of not less than 180 degrees proof, there shall be added ten gallons of approved methyl alcohol and one-half gallon of approved benzine.

Alcohol thus denatured shall be classed as completely denatured alcohol.

Methyl alcohol and benzine intended for use as denaturants must be submitted for chemical test and must conform to the specifications.

Distillers, wholesalers and storehouses must keep a sign in legible and durable letters posted in a conspicuous place on the outside of their building.

They must keep a record of the goods manufactured, received, in stock and disposed of. This record shall at all times be open to the inspection of internal revenue officers.

Persons who wish to deal in denatured alcohol must secure permits from the collector of internal revenue. These permits can be canceled at any time in case of willful violation of the law.

Distilleries and warehouses must be constructed under government supervision.

Suitable office accommodations for the internal revenue officer on duty must be provided.

If it becomes necessary for an officer to leave the denaturing bonded warehouse during the process of denaturing, he must close and lock all openings to the tanks and must retain the key in his possession, and all other persons must leave the building.

Zodiac and School Children.

A Brooklyn school teacher with a leaning toward the occult has hit on a new plan for governing her large and somewhat unruly classroom. She manages it, she says, entirely by the signs of the zodiac. She ascertains under what constellation each child was born, and arranges them accordingly. For example, she will seat all the Tauruses together, and next them she will put only those children of a complementary nature, such as the Capricorns. She knows just what tendencies she has to meet in each group of children—in the Ariases she must expect impatience and extreme aggressiveness—in the next, Tauruses, she must look for stubbornness, perseverance and extreme loyalty, and so on throughout the twelve signs. She finds great merit in her system and says that the discipline of her schoolroom has never been so good or so easily maintained as it now is.

No Use in Growling.

What's the use of growling, even if it is hot? Naturally it is hot in the middle of August. Who would not be surprised if it was not? The most unlikely thing that could be imagined, with the possible exception of the election of Mr. Bryan two years hence, would be the finding of two or three inches of snow on the ground tomorrow morning anywhere in this part of the country. But it doesn't do a particle of good to fret and fuss and fume about it. It isn't going to be hot forever and forever, like young love promises to be. Anyhow, it isn't going to be hot forever in this world.—[Kansas City Journal.

PLANS RIVAL OF SEATTLE.

Jim Hill Talks of Building Brand New City.

Purchases at Frankfort Set Gossips Talking.

Continuation of His Fight With Harriman.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 19.—At Gray's Bay, about sixteen miles inside the mouth of the Columbia River, and nearly opposite Astoria, Or., James J. Hill will build a city. His agents are known to have bought land in and about the town of Frankfort, and Hill will change the name of the town to St. James. While this is not official, and speculators are not warranted in making immediate investments, the story comes from various Puget Sound points that Mr. Hill has decided to make St. James a rival of Seattle.

The present town of Frankfort is not a bustling place, although it is laid out in town lots. The bay on which it fronts has deep water, and is an admirable place for Mr. Hill's railroad interests. There are twenty-one feet of water at the present time off Frankfort. Four miles below is Knappton, a townsite principally owned by Dr. A. S. Nicholls of Portland. For a time it was thought this point would be the site selected by the Hill roads, but there were difficulties in the way, and Frankfort was found as well suited to their purposes.

The Hill plans are said to include great docks and wheat warehouses, elevators and switching yards. From Frankfort it will be possible to dispatch ships loaded with grain from the inland empire, and lumber from the Columbia River mills, without taking it to Puget Sound. The tonnage will "roll down hill," so to speak, in the cars of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern lines, to the proposed point of export. It is said that the scheme will not affect Portland's commercial prospects, as the commerce will practically be carried on here, and Portland will remain the clearing point.

Frankfort, or St. James, will be more than 100 miles nearer the sea than Portland, and the Hill scheme will save all the towage and time consumed in bringing the cargo business to the Portland docks. St. James is expected to become the central shipping point of the whole Columbia River basin.

The Hill companies have, it is claimed, secured control of all the land in the vicinity of the proposed townsite. There will be no speculators invited, but legitimate investors and development projects will be encouraged.

Hill's determination to build an ocean port at Gray's Bay will commit him fully to the improvement of the mouth of the Columbia River by completion of the government jetty, which was left unfinished on account of insufficient appropriation. It may be expected that all the power and influence of the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Burlington political departments will be thrown into the scale in favor of government appropriations for future work, if the Gray's Bay project becomes a reality. It would be impossible to send the big Hill steamers over the bar until the harbor is deepened. By the time the Portland and Seattle Hill's new road now under construction, is completed from Kennewick to St. James, the Great Northern's engineers hope that the channel will have been deepened to forty feet, and access given to all ocean-going vessels.

"When you have forty feet on the Columbia River bar we will send our ships to Portland," Mr. Hill declared at the Portland banquet, where he was guest of honor, some months ago.

The project to build a transshipment port at Gray's Bay has been under consideration by the Hill lines for two years, it is said. At first, it was intended to permit a private corporation to organize the town, but Hill insisted that his railroad companies should handle the project, and guarantee fair treatment to all investors and enterprises, provided they were not antagonistic to the Hill interests.

The great rail highway that the Hill lines are building into Portland overshadows every other feature of the north bank line. The improvements at Portland, Gray's Bay and Everett mean a distribution of the Hill business that, heretofore, has been centralizing at Seattle. Hill broke into now has terminals at that place, and no whas terminals at that place, and at Bellingham, Tacoma, Everett, Seattle, Gray's Harbor, Willapa Harbor, Gray's Bay and Portland. A continuation of the Hill-Harriman fight on the north bank, from Kelso, on down the Columbia River to the sea, is now in prospect, and both lines are expected to build northward, along the coast, to Willapa and Gray's harbors. There are large untapped timber resources in this region.

WILLIAM P. STRANDBORG.

Down on His Luck.

At the noon hour today a prominent Wall-street banker was hurrying out of his office when he suddenly stopped upon noticing a man cross the street and tipped his hat very respectfully. The man was carrying a sandwich board emblazoning the merits of a near-by quick-lunch parlor, and looked altogether seedy. A friend of the banker, who had observed the momentary performance, started to guy him. "Who's your friend?" he asked. "He is a man I have considerable respect for," was the reply. "He was once a prosperous citizen down here, and worth several hundred thousand. He lost everything and finally had to come to this. Even the best of us are liable to go the same way, you know, and that is why I am not afraid to be respectful to a once brilliant man."

EXCHANGE LOBSTER FOR CRAB.

The Fish Commission Will Plant Lobsters in Pacific and Crabs in Atlantic.

A Washington dispatch announces that Pacific Ocean crabs as big as good-sized turtles are to be planted on the Massachusetts coast, and in return the Massachusetts coast will give up a brood of its finest lobsters to be put in Puget Sound. Arrangements have just been made by the United States Fish Commission for these experiments, whereby it is expected the East will eventually have on the Atlantic Coast a supply of the mastodonic Pacific crabs, and the Pacific Coast will raise its own lobsters without sending to the East for them.

The lobsters destined for this trip across the continent will be taken from Wood's Hole in Massachusetts. They will be carefully packed in seaweed and their comfort and wants will be attended to by Prof. Gorham of Brown University, an expert on lobsters. When Prof. Gorham has safely started his charges on their work of multiplying in Pacific waters he will gather up a brood of the Pacific crabs and bring them East to perform a like mission on the Massachusetts coast.

Some years ago lobsters from the East were taken to San Francisco and planted in the Pacific. The people who had charge of the experiment were not aware that the lobster is a crawling critter and does not swim. Those particular lobsters were put in ninety feet of water, and they went to the bottom. They have not been seen or heard of since. The lobsters about to be shipped will be placed in shallow water in Puget Sound and the officials of the Fish Commission expect to see them thrive and propagate as they do in the East.

She Got Wrong Garment.

"Oh, it was awful—awful!" said the girl with the bright brown eyes. "At the same time it was screamingly funny—and yet I want to shed tears of mortification every time I think about it.

"It happened at the Van Attas's affair the other night. The Van Attas are rather exclusive people, you know, and I fairly thrilled with delight when I read their invitation. The night of the affair I spent hours getting ready. I put on my prettiest gown, of course, and prinked and preened as I had never done before. When everything was at last complete I surveyed myself in the mirror. And if I do say it myself, I was radiant. The excitement of anticipation had given my cheeks a glow and my eyes a sparkle that I felt would fetch the first man that saw me.

"As I entered the crowded reception room in the big mansion that night I drew from my shoulders a little white silk scarf I had snatched up from a corner as I left my room, and handed it out to the maid. I saw a young man standing near the doorway look at the scarf and then at me with a rather queer expression in his eyes. At the same time I noticed that the face of the girl he was talking to was frozen with horror. In surprise I glanced at the scarf as the maid stepped up to take it, and—oh—oh—oh, what do you suppose I was holding out by one sleeve? A gauze under vest!"—[New York Press.

Counterfeit Lamb Chops.

Even lamb chops are no longer secure against adulteration, writes a Washington correspondent to the Boston Post. Butchers can now make them out of almost any old thing. Prof. Wiley, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, appeared before the House Committee to tell of the adulteration of wines, and to illustrate the expertness of adulterators, he said:

"I dropped in a butcher's the other morning and ordered some lamb chops sent to my home. When I got home I looked at the chops, not because I suspected anything, but because of their excellent appearance. The bone of the lamb was there, but in some manner meat—what kind I do not know—had been neatly pressed on it. In cooking the meat would have adhered to the bone, and only a careful examination would have shown the deception."

About the Same Time.

A New Yorker who had buried a very particular friend was wending his way to the cemetery with a bouquet of flowers to place upon the newly-molded grave.

On his way he overtook a Chinese, who also, it seems, had a dear friend buried there. The city man, noticing the Chinese was carrying a plate of rice, questioned him what he was going to do with the rice. "Oh, me putiee on glave of welly dlear fiend."

"Oh, ho!" said the other, meaning to jeer the Chinese. "And whin do yez think your friend will ate the roice?"

The Chinese, having noted the flowers his questioner carried, very readily answered: "Oh, me thinkee samee timee your fliend come smellee posee."

Wild Flowers in Alaska.

The wild flowers of Alaska are the most beautiful in the world. The season lasts only three months, but during that time bluebells, honeysuckle, wild roses, sweet peas and myrtle run riot over the hills and bloom even at the foot of a glacier. The ground is perpetually frozen and about two feet thaws out during the summer season. The melting ice furnishes plenty of moisture and the warm sun makes nature jump.—[Leslie's Weekly.

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure For It.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ills., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition, resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion. Catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

JAPAN SEEKS SCHOOL RIGHTS

AMBASSADOR AOKI CONFERS WITH SECRETARY ROOT.

Protesting Case of Exclusion of Japanese Country Children from San Francisco Schools He Avoids Formal Protest, but Makes Strong Plea on Ground of Old Friendship.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Viscount Aoki, the Japanese Ambassador, at a conference with Secretary Root at the State Department today, requested in behalf of his government that the United States see that the Japanese pupils in California were accorded their full rights under the treaty of 1894, including the right of children to freely attend the public schools of San Francisco. Secretary Root will take the matter up with the President and VISCOUNT AOKI.

Japan's diplomatic representative in this country he officially requests of the United States Government fair treatment for Japanese in California.

It is likely that representations will be made to the authorities of California. The Ambassador said that the exclusion of Japanese children from San Francisco schools was the chief cause of sharp criticism of the United States. He was inclined to discount the "other reasons given for sentiment against this country."

The friendship between Japan and the United States is too genuine and of too long standing to justify any formal protest on the part of Japan. Cases of wrongs her citizens may suffer in some localities in the United States," said Viscount Aoki. "There is no misunderstanding in Japan concerning the true situation. Of course, the Japanese fully realize that the action against the Japanese children is regarded as extremely severe by Viscount Aoki.

"After all the years of friendship between the two nations it seems too bad that the innocent Japanese school children should be subjected to such action," said the Ambassador. "Such action of the local authorities of the country is resented very bitterly by the Japanese."

SENTIMENT IS REGRETTED.

WILL PROMISES FAIRNESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Oct. 26.—In a dispatch from Tokio the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the Japanese Foreign Office has received a reply from Ambassador Shumeo Aoki, at Washington, to the effect that the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools of San Francisco was quite a local affair. The American government was not aware of the details of the incident until after the receipt of telegrams from Japan.

The American Ambassador at Tokio, Mr. Wright, has given a pledge that the United States will not discriminate between Japanese and other foreigners, and that she undertakes to protect Japanese interests fully.

Baron Kentaro Kaneko, a member of the privy council, the correspondent continues, said the incident was lamentable. In view of the increasing friendship between the United States and Japan. He applauded the moderate tone of the Japanese press, which he believed to be based upon gratitude. He said further there was undoubted evidence that Japan was deeply pained at the action of the San Francisco authorities, but it was unanimously held that the exclusion of Japanese from the San Francisco schools was an outcome of the campaign in the United States.

WILL IMPROVE CONDITIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive dispatch.] Secretary Bonaparte today received telegraphic assurances from Mayor Madigan of Vallejo that steps would be taken to improve the social conditions in that town, as suggested by the department several days ago. The promise is in response to the request of Forbes Brown, a clerk in the Island navy yard, about saloons and "dives" in Vallejo being used as lures to bluejackets, who later were drugged and robbed and otherwise maltreated. Secretary Bonaparte, who has written to Mayor Madigan about the matter, is pleased to learn that the latter will do what he can to remedy the bad conditions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Secretary Root has requested the Japanese government to cause the arrest and punishment of Japanese poachers who attempted to land on the seal islands of Alaska recently and who escaped to Japan after some of their party had been killed. Fifty-five Thousand Workmen Knock Off to Celebrate Illegal Holiday—Operators Invoke Contract Which Compels Union to Collect $10 Each from Every One of Them.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Illinois mine owners will attempt to collect a fine of $550,000 assessed against their employés who constitute the Illinois branch of the United Mine Workers of America. This step is without a parallel in labor-union history.

It is the purpose of the operators to penalize the miners for taking a holiday on October 12, which was "Virden" day. Heretofore observation of the anniversary of the big fight at Virden in 1898 was a local affair, but this year every one of the 55,000 miners "knocked off" to celebrate.

Under a clause of the agreement made by operators and their employés a few months ago, miners may take only certain specified holidays, and if they take more each man that "lays off" is to pay a fine of $10 through the union.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Under a ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, transportation over railroad lines no longer may be given to newspaper publishers or editors in exchange for advertising space.

A protest against this ruling has been received from the Massachusetts Press Association. In response to the protest, Chairman Knapp of the commission says, in part:

"This ruling of the commission in no way interferes with, or abridges, the rights of private contracts. The newspapers and their advertising space may be freely exchanged for any species of property upon such terms as may be acceptable to the parties to the transaction. But the facilities of the public carrier are not private property, nor are they subject to bargain and sale like merchandise. The right to travel or have property carried by railway, like the right to a common highway, is not a contract right, but a political right, the very essence of which is equality.

"Conceding that the advertising arrangements in question are ordinarily made and carried out in good faith, it seems plain to me that these arrangements must involve some measures of discrimination, and it is not easy for me to see how an honest newspaper can seriously object to a ruling of the commission which appears to be in obvious accord with the provisions and the purposes of the regulating statute."

CHURCH GIVES UP BUSINESS.

Mormon Institute Selling Out Important Holdings in Commercial World.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) Oct. 25.—Reports that the Mormon church as an occupation is to retire from commercial business were further verified today when it was officially announced that the Utah National Bank had been sold to W. S. McCornick of the private banking firm of McCornick & Co.

The price paid by McCornick for a majority of the bank's stock is not stated. The bank's stock was largely owned by the church. In the past four months the Mormon church has disposed of its big holdings in the Utah Light and Railway Company, which controls the principal public utilities in this city; its Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad interests, with its great pavilion at Saltair, and its big retail department store at Ogden.

EARLY SETTLER GOES BEYOND.

O. R. DOUGHERTY DIES AT HIS LONG BEACH HOME.

End Comes Suddenly at Midnight. Was One of the Pioneers of the Indiana Colony of the Early Days of Pasadena and Was Active in Prohibition Politics.

O. R. Dougherty, pioneer of Pasadena, died suddenly at midnight last night in Long Beach.

He was one of the early settlers of the Indiana colony and used to own a considerable area of land of what is now South Pasadena. He was prominent in Prohibition politics and was an active and familiar figure in most of the conventions of that party.

Among his public services along other lines was that in the Pioneer Society of Southern California, of which he was a member.

Of years he had rounded but fourscore. He leaves a widow, four sons and two daughters, Paul C. Dougherty, of The Times, H. O. Dougherty, also of Los Angeles, Clarence Dougherty of Artesia, Eugene Dougherty of San Bernardino, Mrs. W. E. Bridges of North Grand avenue, Los Angeles, and Miss Ruth Dougherty, a student in the State University in Berkeley.

Death came at the family home at No. 1000 East Ocean avenue, Long Beach.

IS BURNED IN BLAZING TENT.

HORRIBLE AWAKENING JUST AFTER MIDNIGHT.

Sleeper Comes to His Senses to Find Himself in Burning Cloth Habitation With Every Avenue of Escape from the Frightful Fire Apparently Cut Off—Is Disfigured.

J. D. Reese was horribly burned while asleep in a tent about 12:15 o'clock this morning, at Fourth street and Wilshire boulevard. The crackling of the flames about the blazing bedding awakened Reese. When he awakened he found that he was surrounded by a sea of blaze.

Reese dashed toward the rear of the interior of the tent, to find that there was no avenue of escape. He finally tore a hole through the canvas and got out. Securing two gunnysacks, Reese rushed back into the tent and attempted to put out the blaze, which by that time was eating up the canvas.

He was partially overcome, and his screams for help attracted others in the vicinity. He was assisted to the Receiving Hospital by Frank Spear. The fierce blaze had burned the skin so that it hung in shreds on his face and his hands were a mass of burns. Reese's hair and clothing were badly burned.

For the past few weeks Reese says that he has been working for a grading camp, but he claims to have a mine in Searchlight, Nev. Reese believes that the fire originated by some one of the employés of the camp lighting a match upon entering the tent and dropping it in the straw on the ground, when he went out.

CHARGE AGAINST GOVERNOR FAILS.

COMMITTEE EXONERATES TERRITORIAL MAGISTRATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The president has received the report of a committee recently sent to Oklahoma to investigate charges preferred against Gov. Frantz, of that territory. The report completely exonerated the Governor and undoubtedly will be approved by the President.

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Oct. 25.—The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad Company today announced that, beginning November 1, a straight fare of 2½ cents would be charged in Indiana.

OLD AGE

Depends Not Upon Years, But Upon Vital Force

At the recent Convention of Physicians there was a good deal of discussion in regard to old age and the usefulness of persons over sixty years old. Some at fifty call themselves old, and really appear so, while others at seventy years seem active, vigorous and young.

It was the opinion that it was not years, but the loss of vital force that makes a person old. Weakened digestion, thin blood and poor circulation soon start functional powers and vitality on the wane, and then the symptoms of old age quickly appear, as the system then has not the power to replace waste fast enough.

A member of the Owl Drug Co. says: "That old feeling may be warded off and overcome, and we wish every person in Los Angeles who feels old, whether they are so in years or not, would try our cod liver preparation, Vinol. We know that it has vital properties which repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength. It is an ideal body builder for old folks."

This is because Vinol is a genuine cod liver medicine, containing all the medicinal curatives and strength-making elements of cod liver oil taken direct from fresh cod livers, with tonic iron added. We will return your money if it does not do exactly what we claim for it. The Owl Drug Co., 320 South Spring street.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Los Angeles, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

15c Allotment Heck Gold Mining Stock All Sold

May Then Go To 30 Cents or 40 Cents Immediately Without Notice

NEARLY 60,000 SHARES OF HECK GOLD MINING STOCK SOLD YESTERDAY. Our entire 15c allotment went at one fell swoop. Never in the history of mining, has a conservative company made such sales, with the possible exception of those made during the boom days of '49. Only by special permission of the Heck Gold Mining Company are we now able to sell you at 15 cents, but we have to renig on our time limit. Unfortunately, we thought we could deliver stock at 15 cents, up to Saturday night, November 3, but remember we reserved the right to return subscriptions if we were oversubscribed.

To prevent any misunderstanding, we make the following announcement, to deliver to any subscriber, stock at 15 cents 'till Thursday, 9:00 P. M. At that hour the stock will go to 20 cents, then we will be compelled to raise the price to at least 30 cents within a few days thereafter.

Please bear in mind that the phenomenal sale of this stock does not account for our rapid increase. Development is going on daily and rich ore is looming up in great quantities.

To any one proving we did not sell 50,000 shares yesterday, we will pay to any charity named by this paper, the sum of $1000. This is sufficient guarantee, and any person desiring to examine our books can do so, provided, if our statements are true, they will purchase at least 1000 shares of stock.

Why Heck stock is selling:

1st. It is surrounded on all sides by producers.

2nd. It has the most favorable outlook of any mine in this rich section. It's practically at the door of the famous Gold Rhodes mine paying $1.00 a year on each share of its stock in dividends. A good mine in Arizona is worth two prospects in any other country.

3rd. It adjoins directly the German-American, which mine we understand, has been held at $400,000.00.

4th. The Heck mine is handled by men "who know," and who offer the best references right here in Los Angeles. Its superintendent is the president of the company, and he is working continually on the mine, and is the only officer receiving a salary, and that is only $5.00 a day. This self same man has been mining for thirty years, and is pinning his life long hope on this one property.

5th. Our Company has examined thoroughly into this property, and we know whereof we speak. Incidentally, we can furnish bank or other references ourselves.

You must get in quick.

An opportunity is knocking at your door that you cannot afford to side step.

Call, write, telephone or telegraph your order at our expense. Your future is weighing in the balance.

"Gentlemen: Complying with request, I may say that the fact that I have devoted more than a quarter of a century of my life to the development of Arizona mines, and am staying with the work, may be accepted as a somewhat emphatic expression of my opinion regarding the resources of the Territory and its future as a producer of mineral wealth.

Falls Far, Walks Far.

After L. H. Limbby, a carpenter, had fallen thirty feet from a scaffold in San Pedro yesterday afternoon, he walked to a house about a half-mile away for medical aid. He had sustained internal injuries, and severe bruises to his limbs. For some time after the fall Limbby remained unconscious. On advice of San Pedro surgeons he was sent to the Emergency and General Hospital.

Hurt Jumping After Hat.

G. Zeigler's hat was carried from his head by the wind as he stood on the rear of a Grand-avenue car, No. 451, last night, and he leaped after the sailing headpiece. He fell out of the entryway of the electric to the pavement. The car was slowing down for the Sixteenth-street crossing. Zeigler was picked up unconscious by a friend and the car crew and taken to the Receiving Hospital. He had sustained only slight concussion, but was severely bruised about the head and body. In his fall from the trolley car Zeigler claims to have lost a valuable watch. N. B. Davidson, a friend, says he had reached Zeigler's side immediately after the car stopped and saw no watch. Zeigler is now at his home, No. 205 West Thirty-first street.

WATERS GETS OFF EASY.

O. F. Waters was before Justice Austin yesterday for sentence for beating his wife, and although he declared that the woman with whom he lived, and who is the mother of his child, is not is wife, this fact did not save him from scoring remarks from the court, nor lighten the fine. He was considered lucky to escape with a fine of $50, although he whined like a whipped kid.

GIFTS TO SAGE SERVANTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Russell Sage yesterday made several cash gifts to servants of the Sage family out of the fortune of almost $100,000,000 left to her by her late husband, who did not make them any bequests. Charles Boss, the coachman, who has served the family for forty years, received a cash present of $2000. William Boss, his son, also received $2000. Three female servants of the household, all of whom have records of long service, each received $2000, and the caretaker of the Sage town house in Fifth avenue was given $1000. Mrs. Sage is building a $4000 cottage for Charles Boss near the stable at Cedar Cross.

SILVERWARE IS HIGHER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—People who buy silverware for holiday presents will pay higher prices than those lately prevailing. An advance was declared yesterday by a number of manufacturers who sent out new lists effective at once. Other manufacturers are revising their catalogues, and will announce higher prices within a few days. Increased cost of silver bullion and of labor are the reasons for the advance, the second this year.

MURPHY KID SICKLY GRAFT.

But Political Money Goes to Help Murphy.

Smooth Games Put Up to Bleed Candidates.

Commercial Travelers' Is Cold-blooded.

Ward heelers and petty grafters are proceeding to fill out the hollows between their hungry, gaunt ribs. Eating time has come again after the long famine.

As fast as the candidates announce themselves as modestly willing to accept nominations, in the coming city convention, these vermin take after them like a lot of hornets.

Some of the schemes by which they extort and blackmail mone, from politicians—even from the astute city central committeemen—are really funny.

One of them—a dirty, gritty, beery person—is collecting money for "Murphy's sick baby." No one believes there really is any Murphy; but every one is afraid to say there isn't—least there should be and Murphy should "get sore."

He of the tender sympathies and the beer smell had the nerve to ask Jack Wright of the City Central Committee yesterday to help poor old Murphy and the "baby."

"You know," he said, "that Murphy is a strong worker in the ward, and he can't get out and work because he has to stay home and take care of his sick kid, who has scarlet fever."

He pulled out a bundle of dirty, greasy cards which he said were the subscriptions of well-known men who mingle in the political life of the city. Each had a generous amount down after his name, but the name itself was scrawled in a queer looking hand—the same in each case.

Undoubtedly all were fakes. The names were rudely printed on the cards instead of written; evidently a scheme to avoid the danger of a forgery charge.

"I don't seem to remember Murphy," said Wright, sarcastically.

"You don't know Murphy?" said the fellow in astonishment. "Why Murphy is a great friend of yours. He told me to come to you. Murphy controls a lot of votes down in that ward."

In the end he was content to take $1 and get out.

HE'S COLD-BLOODED.

One of the most cold-blooded attempts at blackmail was passed out to one of the central committeemen yesterday by a well-dressed commercial traveler who does not live in Los Angeles. He has business relations, however, with fifty or sixty men who work for his firm here. In a certain sense they are under him, and he is in a position to make them fear him.

This vampire went to one of the committee yesterday and without mincing matters, demanded to be paid $50 for his "services." He said he could swing every one of these fifty or sixty votes; for $50 he would swing them the "right way." He said these votes would undoubtedly carry others with them.

Although he richly deserved it, he was not kicked down stairs, and two or three times around the block and finally given to a policeman to be clubbed to death. He may even try the same graft again.

Night before last, one of the candidates for City Council from the Third Ward was called to his door by a man whom he never saw before. Having introduced himself, the man came at once to the point, which was that he wanted the candidate to go on his note for a small amount.

"I have got myself into a pretty bad business mix-up," he said, coolly. "I have a vote myself in this precinct, and I control several more that I will swing for you. I'm going to help you. You ought to help me."

He was referred to the candidate's political manager.

A BLACK SCHEME.

A few nights ago one of the best-known city candidates was invited to attend a meeting of a new colored Republican club. He got an automobile and loaded it with a bunch of spellbinders, who were to tell the enthralled negroes what a fine work of the Almighty he (the candidate) was.

They went poking through back alleys and snooping around streets that loomed up as black as the life to come.

Finally, they had given themselves up for lost, and the candidate was picturing with despair the hall gleaming with light and the eager faces—a vote each—of the waiting audience—and the candidate missing.

At last they saw a lantern swinging around in the darkness ahead, and a man with the lantern took them in tow. They had to leave the auto and weave through black, filthy alleys until, at last, they came to a miserable shack where a mere handful of black men were squatting cheerfully around a keg of beer. The idea was that the candidate should pay for the keg. He flung a few cigars to the colored Republican club, and left without paying for the beer.

THIS GRAFT QUEEREST.

Perhaps the queerest of the grafters is a little Hebrew in the Eighth Ward. It is claimed that he was driven out of St. Louis for living the life of a political vampire there.

He lives by assiduously reading all the things in the newspapers that people do not wish to have read of themselves.

For instance, if some crap shooters have been arrested by the police, he rushes around and collects tribute from them on the promise to "square it" with the officials and get them out of trouble. He always tries to "make good." He goes to the proper authorities and demands that the crap shooting be allowed to go, claiming for them that they have political influence.

Although he hasn't influence enough to control his own vote, he is said to be able to force candidates to disgorge coin by claiming to have mysterious backing, which is to be had for a consideration.

He takes contracts to force boards of supervisors to order flea powder or something of the sort, for the county institutions; and claims that he carries through the bluff by political threats.

This fellow travels on his nerve with a vengeance.

The commonest political graft of all, of course, is the organizing of fake political clubs and collecting "initiation fees," from all the candidates. They are all now in working order.

CATHOLIC CLUB.

FRIENDS TAKE LOT OF GOLD.

MACMILLAN'S NUGGET ATTRACTS SOUVENIR HUNTERS.

Man from Nevada With Yellow Chunk Valued at Two Thousand Dollars Yesterday Morning Claims He Found It Worth Two Hundred Dollars Less Last Night.

Peter MacMillan, one-time seller of cigars on Spring street, but for the last year and a half a bold gold miner of the vicinity of Manhattan, Nev., returned to this city yesterday. He announced to his friends that he had "struck it rich" when he helped to locate the Hindocraft mine, which is controlled by W. J. Arkell, who at one time was the owner of the comic weekly, Judge.

MacMillan carried with him a sack of gold nuggets representing his entire worldly wealth, and in this sack he had one especially large nugget, which he valued at a little less than $2000.

He registered at the Hotel Hayward and shortly afterward started out to interview his local friends. He carried with him his prize nugget as a guaranty of his financial standing.

He returned to his hotel last night, and says that he has lost faith in human nature. His prize nugget, worth almost $2000 yesterday morning, was worth $200 less last night.

He had displayed the heavy piece of gold to his friends, and he relates that six of them—those who were most enthusiastic over his success in the gold country—broke off "souvenirs" from the nugget, and these "souvenirs" ranged in value from $10 to $50 each.

When MacMillan weighed his nugget last night he found that his souvenir-hunting friends had robbed him of over $200 in actual gold.

He has had his nuggets photographed and deposited the original gold in a safe-deposit vault where no more "souvenirs" can be broken off by admirers.

BEARS ENORMOUS WEIGHT.

Two Hundred and Forty Thousand Pounds Deflects Concrete Girder Only Eighth of An Inch.

A weight of 240,000 pounds was sustained over 100 hours by a reinforced concrete grider, and the end of the test was witnessed yesterday afternoon by representatives of the Santa Fe railroad, the Chamber of Commerce, the city administration, and half a score of contractors.

The girder is in the new freight house being built for the Santa Fe railroad near La Grande station. The girder is 38 feet long between columns, 13 inches wide and 33 inches thick.

The girder is one of forty which makes up the supports for the second floor of the freight house. It was designed to carry 152,000 pounds, but the above enormous total was piled upon it to show the wonderful strength contained in the concrete and steel reinforcements.

After the weight had rested upon the beam almost four days the deflection from a straight line was found to be but one eight of an inch, which is considered an excellent showing.

The great building is being put up by Carl Leonardt, and was designed by Harrison Albright. Following the inspection of the loaded girder an informal meeting of those present was held in the Chamber of Commerce, and the subject of reinforced concrete for structural purposes was fully discussed.

DREAMS OF COOKERY.

Beautiful Exhibits Take Prizes at the Southern California Association's Annual Event.

Castles in the air pale before the dreams of cookery shown at the prize culinary exhibition and fifth annual ball given by the Southern California Cooks' Association at Turnverein Hall last night. It took thirty feet of continuous table to hold the stupendous burdens of culsine architecture.

Rivalry was close, and it took the judges almost an hour to award the prizes. In the culinary class the Imperial Café captured first, with a salmon, four feet long, swimming in a sea of mayonnaise dressing, artistically garnished. The second award went to the Jonathan Club, whose chef, Louis Chevaller, demonstrated his art with a salmon encased in jelly. The fish was pictured on the surface in a realistic manner. The Café Bristol entered a boned turkey encased in jelly and surrounded by wax animals and fowl. This exhibit took third prize.

In confectionery, Carl Sattler received a merited first, with a four-tier wedding cake, topped with the figure of a chef, neatly executed. On the other tiers were a figured turkey, an entree of chops, and a lobster salad. Second award went to the Jonathan Club exhibit of a Greek temple in float design, with candy horses. A candled ham was given third prize, and was made by Fred Jones.

Fred Jones won first in the pastry class with a game pie. Granne & Tube's Roman temple took second, and an ornamented charlotte russe, exhibitor unknown, was given third.

FRESHMAN BANQUET.

The members of the freshman class of the College of Law were tendered a banquet by the upper classes in the grill of the Woman's Exchange, Gavin W. Craig was toatmaster, toasts being responded to by John Haas, J. P. Hogan, Newmire, Doran, Stayton, White, Porter, Cobinson, Westoyer, Vaughan, A. L. Stephens and D. A. Schwitzer.

FRUIT TIE-UP THREATENING.

Trade Wants Canned Goods, Can't Get Them.

Shortage Due to the San Francisco Rush.

Not Enough Boxing Lumber. Prices Go High.

Millions of cans of fruit ready for shipment and clamored for by the trade cannot be moved because no boxes are to be had.

An alarming shortage in shook lumber threatens the big combine of California canneries with a tie-up of this year's output. Vegetable packers, and in fact all users of box lumber, are confronted by a condition that has never been known before in the history of this State.

Never before have the lumber mills been so hard pressed, and it will be impossible for them to supply the demand for boxes this year unless they utilize the higher grades of lumber for the purpose. This fact, it is claimed by the shook lumber dealers, is responsible for the startling increase in the cost of orange boxes and all boxes used in the fruit industries.

Local jobbers are complaining that they are unable to get canned goods of almost any kind that are put up in California, and that they will be unable to fill promptly their future delivery orders for this season's output of canned fruits.

TRACED TO NORTH'S DISASTER.

In the opinion of the lumber dealers, there is good and sufficient reason for this condition, which they claim has been occasioned by a number of causes, but all traceable to the San Francisco fire. It is believed that the condition is only temporary, but that it will probably extend through this year. When the merchants of San Francisco rushed to reopen their stores, they demanded the cheapest possible lumber, and wanted it in a hurry. They were willing to pay the price in the interest of time. The result was, and is, that San Francisco practically has "a corner" on the season's cut of pine lumber in this State, and is bidding for more to be used in temporary construction. In addition to this fact there is a shortage of cars on the Southern Pacific Railroad, particularly box cars, such as have to be used for the handling of shook lumber. Offered as another reason for the shortage by the lumber dealers is the statement that lumber hands engaged in the mills and in the forests left for San Francisco shortly after the fire on the supposition that they could earn more money in the stricken city. The dealers say that it is impossible to get enough men to run the lumber industries at their full capacity, and that these conditions have forced the mill owners to advance wages all along the line.

NORTHWEST CAN'T HELP.

Asked why Oregon and Washington could not be called on to alleviate the strained condition in the market, a prominent lumber dealer said yesterday: "The Northwest has nothing to offer us in lumber suitable for boxes. All of the pine up there is hard pine, and when cut thin for box purposes will split into pieces. What little soft pine there is near the seacoast of Washington and Seattle, is used locally. You do not meet with pine boxes in the Northwest. All the boxes are made of spruce, and there is a limited supply at that.

"I see no remedy for the condition except for the mills to go into the higher grades of lumber for box purposes, and if they are forced to do this, the packers will have to pay more for their boxes. Of course, in the end the increase will come out of the pocket of the consumer, for there is bound to be a sharp advance in the prices of canned goods, oranges, and a small increase in crated vegetables. Owing to bad storms in the Shasta and Truckee lumber district, the mills were forced to shut down and lost about thirty days' work. These mills will be unable to work much later than December 1, and the scale of the season shows that the demand for boxes can only be filled by going into the higher grades of lumber. Under ordinary circumstances only 25 per cent. of the sawmill cut can be utilized for box lumber, and almost all of this is wanted by San Francisco. When that city begins to work into permanent construction, the supply of cheap lumber will again come up, but at present it cannot possibly cope with the demand."

SOME PRICES DOUBLE.

The price of 21 cents that has been set for orange boxes will probably hold for this season. In the canning interests, 24-can boxes cost 12½ cents. Twelve-can boxes (gallons) are nominally 19 cents. Vegetable crates are costing for celery, 27 cents; cabbage, 24 cents, and for cauliflower, 19½ cents. These prices are from 25 to 100 per cent. higher than the prices a year ago.

NEW MASONIC LODGE.

Five Hundred Persons Attend Ceremonies of Institution of Mizpah, Which Has Seventy Members.

The institution and installation ceremonies of Mizpah Lodge No. 378, F. and A. M., which took place at the Masonic Temple last night, were attended by 500 persons and were solemnly impressive. In the absence of Grand Master E. H. Hart, Past Grand Master Motley H. Flint, acted as installing officer, and received from Acting Grand Marshal William A. Hammel, the following officers of the new lodge for installation: Charles Edward Sebastian, W. M.; William Washington Richards, S. W.; James William Calder, J. W.; Royal Francis Clark, treasurer; Ora Taylor, secretary; Frank Gill Tyrrell, chaplain; Michael Roy Raftery, S. D.; Bartholomew Marchese, J. D.; Charles Edward Dixon, marshal; James Rice Powell, steward; Harry Lindsay Bateman, steward; Adolph J. Maas, tyler.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, the assemblage repaired to the banquet-room where a well appointed supper was served. Addresses were made by Motley H. Flint, R. G. M.; William R. Hervey, P. M.; W. Ona Morton, Lee C. Gates, Dana R. Weller, inspector; Leo V. Youngworth, Master Hollenbeck. The words of welcome were extended to Mizpah by Frank G. Tyrrell, and Charles E. Sebastian acted as toastmaster. There seventy members in the new lodge.

ST. PATRICK'S BAZAAR.

Opening Night Adds Five Hundred Dollars to Fund for New Church Building.

The first night of St. Patrick's Bazaar proved a success, bringing out over four hundred members and friends of the church, and adding $500 to the funds for the new building on Thirty-fourth street, west of Central avenue.

The bazaar was formally opened by the Mayor, and speeches were made by Father O'Reilly of St. Patrick's and Mgr. Patrick Hartnett. William Powers and W. B. Clark of the Young Men's Institute were in charge, and Mrs. P. H. Maloney directed the booths. The bazaar was held at Central avenue and Adams street.

Besides the regular features of booths, fortune-tellers and grab-bags, a general voting contest was instituted, which developed interesting points in Sixth Ward politics.

The bazaar is to be continued tonight and Saturday night.

SENSATION FOR TEXAS HERE.

DETECTIVES TAKE SLAYER OF BEAUMONT MARSHAL.

Man Found Quietly Working for Local Dairy Arrested and Confesses Several Killings, but Claims He Acted in Self-defense—Hot Developments Are Expected.

George M. Pool was arrested last night by police detectives. He is accused of the murder of Marshal Jim Gett which took place at Beaumont, Tex., in 1893. For several days Pool has been under surveillance, and when the officers satisfied themselves that he was the slayer they telegraphed to the Texas town and were instructed to arrest him. Pool confesses, but says he is not wanted now.

Pool declares that although he killed the City Marshal of Beaumont, in Texas, he acted in self-defense. Afterward, he says, he came West, but was arrested in San Diego in 1902 and sent back to Texas. After clearing himself, Pool says, he returned to the West and came to Los Angeles.

From the officers it is learned that Pool has been employed by the Enterprise dairy, in its station west of the city, and has led a peaceful existence there.

According to the meager information in the hands of the police they say they were informed that Pool found his bonds were not good and fled. The telegraphic information received by local authorities adds that Pool is wanted on other serious charges.

Detectives Ingram and McCann caught him.

TEXAS EXCITED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FT. WORTH (Tex.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The arrest of George M. Pool in Los Angeles and the fact that he is to be brought back for trial recalls to memory some of the most bloody crimes committed in the annals of Southeast Texas.

Pool stands charged with the murder of former City Marshal Gett of Beaumont, and is said to be implicated in several other affairs of the same nature, that happened in that vicinity years ago, but chief interest centers in the fact that he is the alleged slayer of the City Marshal, who was one of the most popular men Beaumont has ever known.

After the killing of the City Marshal Pool disappeared, and it was not known where he was located, but the indictment against him was kept alive.

Gett was a popular man, and his friends will not be remiss in their efforts to avenge him. There will be no effort spared to effect the conviction of Pool, but Pool has his friends, also, and they will be true to him, even to the death. There are going to be some hot developments when the cases come to trial. The arrest has created a great sensation throughout East Texas.

WORST COMING FOR MAIL MEN.

GREATEST GLUT IN SIGHT AT LOCAL POSTOFFICE.

Crush of Nearly Three Hundred Thousand Sample Ballots Within Next Few Weeks Will Cause Already Hard-working Clerks and Carriers to Open Throttle Wider.

Ere the month of November shall have run its course the Los Angeles mail clerks and letter carriers, who now consider themselves overworked, will look back upon these days with a sigh of regret for the good times that have passed, like one indulging in pleasant retrospect of a summer vacation in the mountains, when care was free and the sun sank all too soon on daylight hours of fretless ease.

For the real troubles of the men of the mail are only about to begin. Tomorrow will see the first trickle of a raging stream of stamped envelopes and bulky contents that in the course of another month will swirl through the postal channels and sweep everything before it, like the erstwhile runaway San Gabriel River on its way to the sea through the lowlands.

Some time within the next thirty-six hours the deputies at the County Clerk's office will mail the first installment of the batch of sample ballots for the general election that are to be sent to every voter in the county. When their task is completed they will have placed approximately 81,000 letters in the mail, all to pass through the local postoffice.

This enormous mass hardly will be out of the way before City Clerk Lelande will appear at the postoffice wickets with a bundle of about 60,000 sample ballots for the San Pedro annexation election that is to be held early in November.

Fairly started on their way, these specimens will be followed quickly by something more than 80,000 for the county bond election late in the same month.

Then will come the samples of the ballot that is to be used at the city election in December, over 55,000 of them.

When this vast collection of nearly 300,000 letters shall have gone through the mill the arms of the clerks and carriers will be nicely hardened and their hands will be beautifully calloused for the rush of Christmas mail that will flow in within the following few weeks.

It is a tough problem that Postmaster Flint and his assistants face.

WHITE LAWS FOR BLACKS.

Editor Brice Talks of the Negro Problem.

Georgia Will Disfranchise Its Colored Voters.

Story of How Atlanta Riots Were Started.

"Let the South alone and she will solve the negro problem. She will solve it in her own way and it will be the right way. No other white people on earth know the negro as the southern people do. They know his advantages and his shortcomings. He must be treated separately, and separate laws made to govern him from those which govern the white man," said John A. Brice, managing editor of the Atlanta (Ga.) Journal, who was a guest at the Angelus yesterday.

Mr. Brice is accompanied by Marion Smith, the only son of Hoke Smith, Governor-elect of Georgia. The two have been touring the Southwest for the last month, resting after the arduous political campaign which resulted in Smith's election as Governor of Georgia. They had been at Catalina Island until yesterday noon. They left for Atlanta over the Southern Pacific last night.

WILL DISFRANCHISE NEGRO.

"The negro cannot be governed by the same laws that govern a white man," Mr. Brice continued. "He is not educated up to the point where he understands the spirit of them. It is the same question that confronts a teacher in a public school. A different set of questions is put to different classes. He does not understand the ballot and the negro is to be disfranchised in Georgia during the coming year.

"The two most important planks of the platform upon which Hoke Smith was elected Governor of Georgia were the railroad-rate bill and the disfranchisement of the negroes. The verdict of the people of Georgia in the matter cannot be questioned. Out of a total of 145 counties in the State 122 went overwhelmingly for Mr. Smith and the disfranchisement of negroes.

"Six other Southern States have taken the franchise away from the negro, and law and order have reigned to a greater extent than ever. Georgia intends to do the same, and expects the most beneficial results.

"The people of the South must be permitted to solve this problem. It is their own, and while the North is rightly interested it must be remembered that it is we southerners who have to encounter a population of over two negroes to every white man in the State."

EDUCATION A FAILURE?

Mr. Brice believes that education will not solve the problem. He says that there is a racial difference between the white and the black that places them as far apart as the East is from the West.

"The difference between the negro and the white man in regard to observing the laws of the land and the moral laws is the same as the difference in the effect food has upon different people. Laws that permit the white man to prosper and to lead a moral and civil life, are as a stimulant to the negro. We of the South know only too well to what extent this stimulus of a white man's freedom affects the black. It means licentiousness and not freedom. In my estimation separate laws are needed to govern the white man and the negro."

Smith held the same anti-negro tenets as Mr. Brice. He voiced them just as stoutly, and upheld every word uttered by Brice.

"Education, of course, is good for the negro, but it has been the experience of the South that the worst crimes, and particularly the atrocious ones which have caused the recent outbreaks against the blacks, have been committed not by the happy-go-lucky, pure-blooded, hard-working negro, but by the half-educated mulatto," said Smith. "Education will not solve the problem. A little education scattered through several generations may have the desired effect, but at present the educated negro is the one most dreaded by the law-abiding people of Georgia.

EXCEPTIONS TO RULE.

"There are, of course, exceptions to this rule, as there are to all rules, but the general rule is that education simply inflames the brutal instincts of the negro by showing him more clearly than ever the fact that he can never associate as an equal with the white man."

In speaking of the recent race war which resulted in over a dozen deaths in Atlanta during the last two months, the visitors said that it had been caused by an epidemic of lawlessness on the part of negroes that the white men of the city could not possibly submit to. Mr. Brice described the start of the riots graphically.

"The riots started from the meeting of about fifteen young men, members of the best families of the city," he said. "Two of the young men were frantic over the assault on their sweethearts by negroes. They had asked their friends to aid them in hunting down the criminals.

"One can imagine the passion of these young men to whom this unspeakable crime had been brought home. The young men were standing on the street after their meeting and preparing to separate to go to their homes, when they heard the cries of a woman not far away. A negro had snatched her purse and struck her in the face.

HUNTING FOR NEGROES.

"The young men gave chase to the negro and a crowd followed in their wake. A few squares away a negro had knocked a white messenger boy from his bicycle as he went past, and this was the starting point for a second crowd of angry citizens. The time was ripe for trouble, as during the week just previous to that time one dozen assaults upon young white girls had occurred within the city limits.

"Within two hours of the time the fifteen young men stood on the corner of the street preparing to go home there was a mob of fully 5000 white people on the streets hunting for the negroes.

"The blacks on their part became enraged at the whites, and in a trice shooting had started, and the world knows the rest.

"The feeling is still at fever heat. The issue between the whites and the blacks is looked forward to confidently by every white man in the South. It will have to come some time unless the restraining power of the law is invoked against the blacks.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Board of Public Works is considering the advisability of refusing to allow further connections to be made to the city's sewers until the new outfall is completed, which will require at least a year's time. The old outfall sewer has reached the limit of capacity and has constant breaks.

Euclid Heights real estate agents yesterday withdrew their offer of land for park purposes from the Park Commission.

A Los Angeles firm yesterday offered to install a complete system of municipal book-keeping for the city for $18,000.

The Park Commissioners yesterday gave permission for high-class music programmes in Westlake Park on Sunday afternoons. A feature of these programmes will be vocal solos by well-known singers.

The Imperial Land Company yesterday brought a compound proceeding, being a civil and criminal action in one, against A. A. Henderson, a surveyor and civil engineer, charging him in the Superior Court with appropriating a sum of money received from the government for a survey. Henderson is showing fight, and not only claims justification, but puts in a counterclaim.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company is suing Los Angeles county and Tax Collector Welch on the old contention threshed out before the Board of Equalization, that the corporation had been discriminated against.

In the Police Court yesterday O. F. Waters was fined $50 for wife beating.

James Lewis and wife, colored, were fined in the Police Court yesterday for cruelty to animals. They tried in court to sell the starved horse for enough to pay their fines, but the justice stopped the deal.

AT THE CITY HALL.

CITY'S SEWAGE BIG PROBLEM.

NO CONNECTIONS WITH DRAINS MAY BE ORDERED.

Outfall Sewer Has Reached Limit of Capacity, and for Next Year Home Builders May Have to Use Cesspools—Permit for Vocal Concerts at Westlake Park.

The city sewage problem is becoming one of serious proportions, and as a result of the long delay in securing the new outfall sewer it is probable the Board of Public Works will issue orders that there shall be no new sewer connections made with the main drains until the outfall is completed.

With the enormous growth of the city in all directions, this means the outlay of many thousands of dollars in the construction of cesspools and temporary plumbing that will be useless after the regular sewer connections are made.

"The old outfall sewer has reached the limit of its capacity," said City Engineer Hamlin, last night. "It is bound to have constant breaks in it, with the strain to which it is subjected. The only resource left is to refuse to make any further connections until the new outfall is completed."

Chairman Anderson of the Board of Public Works said: "I am not certain that the city could legally prevent any property owner from making connections with the city sewers in streets in front of his property, but we can prevent the connection of new sewers with the city mains, and it appears that this is what will have to be done. Of course, new sewers could be constructed in the streets, but the city would withhold the privilege of making connection of these new systems with its mains until we are in a position to handle the increased area through the new outfall sewer.

"We are now having lines run below the city to determine at what points sewage water could be diverted onto ranch lands and used for irrigation, thus relieving the outfall sewer. We are carrying on negotiations with property owners in those districts, and it is possible we shall thus be enabled to divert enough water from the outfall sewer to relieve the present conditions materially. If it proves that this cannot be done, then there is nothing for us to do but to shut down on the making of further sewer connections until the new drain is completed."

Bids for the completion of the troublesome Section 3 of the outfall sewer will be opened by the Board of Public Works on November 19. The contractor will be allowed one year to complete the work.

Music for Westlake.

The Park Commissioners yesterday morning gave permission to Mrs. L. Ransdall to conduct musical programmes in Westlake Park on Sunday afternoons. Mrs. Randall proposes an innovation in outdoor concerts by providing numerous vocal soloists and a chorus to sing in conjunction with an orchestra of seven pieces. Her daughter, Miss Vera Randall, will be one of these soloists, and other well-known singers will appear. The expense of these concerts is to be borne by the street railways and subscriptions from citizens living in the vicinity of the park. The first concert will be given one week from next Sunday afternoon. The programmes are to consist of high-class musical selections, and it is believed they will prove an important feature to park visitors.

Twin Palms for Plaza.

The historical and stately twin palms which stand in the vicinity of River Station on land that is soon to be occupied by a railway track, were offered to the Park Commission yesterday to be placed in the Plaza Park. In addition to this offer a proposition came from Harry Chandler of The Times offering to furnish $200 for the removal expenses. A committee composed of Mayor McAleer and Commissioner Morrison was appointed to take the affair in charge.

Fourth Street Opening.

The referees in the matter of opening and widening East Fourth street from Third and Stevenson avenue easterly held their first meeting in the Council chamber yesterday, and will take testimony as to property damage next Tuesday morning. The project involves the widening of Fourth street from Short street to Boyle avenue.

Patients Don't Like Phonograph.

A. Victor Segno, who maintains a "nervatorium" on the hills overlooking Echo Park, made complaint to the Park Commissioners yesterday of the continual playing of the phonograph at the boathouse in the park. Segno declares that the thing has become a public nuisance and asks that it be abated immediately. His pateints, who use a sun parlor overlooking the lake, are compelled to hear the alleged music from morning to night, and their nerves are not equal to the strain. It is said the concessionaire at the refreshment stand puts on a new phonograph record as a premium every time he sells a dish of ice cream.

Withdraw Offer of Park Land.

The Pioneer Investment and Trust Company and City Treasurer W. H. Workman yesterday asked the Park Commission to allow them to withdraw their offer of a tract of twelve acres in the Arroyo de las Tunas for public park purposes. This offer has been before the commission for several months, but it has insisted that with the lands offered there should go some level lots, as the tract was very precipitous and necessarily would require much expense and labor in making it attractive. The commission allowed the withdrawal of the offer.

Cheaper Seal Food Wanted.

The question of disposing of the seal at Westlake Park was brought before the Park Commission yesterday by Commissioner Humphreys. The fact that fish furnished the seal for food is now costing the city 6 cents the pound instead of a cent and a half, the former price, caused the commissioners to believe that the seal has become a luxury. A resolution was adopted, asking the City Council to rescind its present fish contract and advertise for new bids.

Own Lots in City Park.

The city chain gang has been industriously at work for some time past in filling the extension of Echo Park, from Bellevue avenue to Temple street. It is not generally known that in the district being filled by the chain gang there are two lots in which the city holds no title. They are the property of Dr. LeMoyne Wills and E. R. Brainerd. The Park Commissioners expect soon to acquire titles to these lots and are thus including them in the scheme for park improvement.

Prospective Street Work.

Petitions have been received by the City Clerk, asking for the improvement by private contract of Compton avenue, from Thirty-eighth street to Vernon avenue, and the establishment of official grade on Jeffreys avenue, from Cypress avenue to Avenue Twenty-eight, and Parkman avenue, from Marathon to a point 120 feet southerly therefrom. Petitioners also ask that Severance street from Twenty-eighth street to Adams street, be improved.

Will Readvertise for Bids.

The Board of Public Works has rescinded its former resolution in regard to the Pusich bids on the proposed sewer for Avenue 54, and it will now throw out all bids received and advertise for new offers. This is the sewer work on which both Pusich and Hostetter, who was the next lowest bidder, claimed to have figured on single instead of double seals, thus making their figures far too low to save themselves from loss.

Will Ask Auditor's Position.

The library board, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to ask City Auditor L. H. Schwaebe for a written statement as to his position in regard to the expenditure by the library board of the funds created by book fines, etc. A controversy appears to have arisen as to whether the library board has a right to expend this money, which amounts to about $3000 a year, in addition to its appropriation of $50,000 for the year.

Valuable Book Donated.

Hon. E. W. Camp has donated to the public library an interesting volume, the first English law book, which contains the case from which, according to library tradition, Shakespeare drew his famous Crowner's Quest Law," in Hamlet, act 5, section 1. The library board yesterday received the donation and issued a letter of thanks to the donor.

Asks Mayor for Tidings.

Mrs. J. C. Sammon of Humble, Tex., has written to Mayor McAleer, asking him to send her news as to the whereabouts of her husband, who was sick in some Los Angeles hospital September 17, and from whom she has not heard since that time. Mrs. Sammon says she has sent valuable papers through the mails to her husband, but that they have been returned to her by the postal authorities.

Figures on Book-keeping.

The Oceanic Trust Company, by its president, Thomas J. Fry, has sent to Mayor McAleer a letter which the Mayor has referred to the City Council. In this communication Fry says his firm will undertake to provide a perfect system of accounting for the city of Los Angeles for $10,000.

Elevator Bids.

For the third time the Board of Public Works will advertise, inviting bids for the furnishing and placing a new elevator in the City Hall. Bidders will also be asked to make a bid for the purchase of the old elevator. Bids will be opened November 5.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

SURVEYING THE IMPERIAL VALLEY.

ENGINEER HENDERSON TANGLED IN LAWSUIT AS REWARD.

Land Company Claims He Was an Employee and Had Not Right to Receive Money from the Government, but He Contends to the Contrary and the Fight Is on.

Because A. Henderson appropriated $1778.66 paid to him by warrant from the United States government for surveying several townships in the Imperial Valley, the Imperial Land Company is suing Henderson for recovery of the money. The suit is rather peculiar, and in a legal sense a complicated one, and it went to trial yesterday before Judge Wilbur.

The Imperial Land Company claims that it retained the services of Henderson at a monthly salary of $150, he being required to make certain surveys. That in the fall of last year, by virtue of the verbal contract entered into with the land company, he received a warrant from the United States for the amount mentioned for surveying, and refused to account for it.

In the first instance this civil proceeding was of the double-barreled variety, having a criminal end to it, for the plaintiff asked in addition to a judgment civilly that Henderson be arrested for embezzlement. This latter part of the complaint, however, remains a dead letter, and in making answer yesterday Henderson gave a slightly different version of the verbal contract and the manner of its fulfillment.

He stated that he is a civil engineer and surveyor, and in May, 1903, the Imperial Land Company, with the Southern Pacific Company, requested the United States Surveyor-General of California to have certain townships in the valley surveyed, the lines of some of these townships being identical with the international boundary line between the United States and the republic of Mexico. Prior to this time several attempts had been made to make these surveys, but they had not been satisfactory to the Surveyor-General.

In due course the Surveyor-General printed and posted notices calling for bids for making the survey, and Engineer L. Friel, then in the employ of the Imperial Land Company, prepared a bid in the name of Henderson for the sum of $1778.66, and later on the work was awarded on this bid to Henderson. He was examined by the Surveyor-General as to his competency, and having given bond, got to work.

Now Henderson claims that when Friel made the bid it was understood that the work could not be done for that price, and that unless the land company footed the bills, there would have been no use in bidding at all. The bid, too, was not put in Friel's name because he was engaged on another survey for the government, and under the rules he could not undertake double work.

Henderson avers that Friel and he had an interview with President Heber of the Imperial Land Company, and it was then decided that Henderson should attend to the field work and Friel should do the office work, or in other words, "write up the field notes." Henderson was to receive $150 a month, the company to pay his surety bond and defray all his expenses in the field. Friel was to receive $250 per month, and nothing was said about Henderson surrendering the contract price when paid over by the United States government.

The survey began October 1, 1904, and was finished in December. But after being in the field for about a month, Friel left the employ of the company, and Henderson claims that he assumed the full burden of making the survey, employed assistants and another engineer to assist with working up the notes. It took this engineer and surveyor two months and ten days' service, reasonably worth $583.33.

The survey was accepted by the Surveyor-General June 1, 1905. It had been run for about 200 miles, and Henderson claims that it was well worth $30 a mile. Counting all the money he received from the land company, also the $1778.66, he still considers that he is short, and is asking for a judgment of $1084.18.

Under these complicated conditions testimony was taken yesterday, and the further hearing was continued until several witnesses required have returned to the city.

AN EASY CHOICE.

TANGLE IN BLACK'S WILL.

When Francis D. Black, the magnate of the poolroom who died in Japan, while he and his wife were making a trip for his health, made his will, he made a false quantity. Yesterday Judge Gibbs was called upon to decide as between the widow and the children by Black's first wife, and this called for an interpretation of the will.

The estate of Black is worth about $200,000, and under his will he left one third of his estate to his wife, and two-thirds to his children by the first wife. But Mrs. Black came into court with the claim that the entire estate was community property, and that she was entitled any way to one-half as her community interest. In addition she claims her third bequeathed to her by her husband. If her claim should be allowed, the picking for the children would be comparatively slim, for the support and maintenance of Michael Tiernay—an old friend of Black's—was left as a burden on the children by specific request, and it would take $5000 to purchase an annuity for him.

But the vital question was whether the estate was community property, and to show this, Mrs. Black went upon the witness stand and gave an interesting resume of Black's adventurous career. They married in 1885 and in the first year of their married life Black was dead broke four or five times. Coming to Los Angeles he went as book-keeper to "Lucky" Baldwin. After a time he went north to San Francisco and ran a poolroom, but lost every cent. Then he went as hotel clerk and in time got possession of a small hotel, but that venture also broke him. Returning to Los Angeles, Black again hired out as a clerk in a hotel and saved a little money. When he saw the chance, he borrowed enough to start him in another poolroom, this time next door to the Nadeau Hotel, and that proved a winner for him.

Black provided in his will that his Ascot Park interest be allowed to lie as he believed that it will increase vastly in value.

Judge Gibbs held from an interpretation of the will that Black had undertaken to dispose of his entire estate, either forgetting or not knowing that he had only testamentary right to dispose of his own community interest. But having done that, the court held that Mrs. Black is put upon her election whether she will take her community share or take the one-third bequeathed to her.

And so the matter stands. There is little doubt what Mrs. Black will do. The half of a loaf is better than a third, and anyway, Mrs. Black is well ahead inasmuch as she has the home, valued at $9000, received the $2000 her husband had with him when he died and which she said that he gave to her, and a claim of $1900 which the estate has paid her and which she put in for expenses incurred by reason of her husband's death abroad.

WILSON WENT WRONG.

HIS EMPLOYER NOT FORGIVING.

Constable Avila yesterday arrested a young man named Leo Wilson on the charge of embezzlement, and the defendant was at once arraigned before Justice Pierce and held for examination on November 6 in the sum of $1000 bail.

It appeared that Miss R. May Baldwin came to Los Angeles from Nebraska some time ago and opened up in the real estate business, with Wilson as clerk and general factotum. He had a pretty easy job apparently, and really thought that it was easier than it eventually turned out to be.

He is charged with having received $188.88 of his employer's money to turn in upon payment for a lot, but instead of doing so shoved it down in his hip pocket and had a good time. Wilson didn't think that Miss Baldwin would adopt such drastic measures as to have him arrested and, of course, contemplated returning the money as opportunity afforded.

LOOKED TOO LATE.

SAY THEY WERE WRONGED.

Rufus Clemmer and his wife, Flora Clemmer, are suing Catherin Tway and her husband to have a certain note and mortgage set aside and to compel a retransfer of certain property, on the ground that the deal was brought about through fraud.

At the beginning of the current month the plaintiffs owned the dye works at No. 1219 Central avenue, which, with the machinery, horses and wagons, etc., are alleged to have been worth $3000. Mrs. Catherin Tway appeared upon the scene and represented herself to be the owner of 240 acres of land at Drain, Or., worth $4700, and she was willing to arrange a trade.

Mrs. Tway is credited with having stated that in her tract forty acres was covered with timber worth $1000; that sixty acres were cultivated to grain; that there was a good dwelling house, barns, etc., and the entire 240 acres were under fence. Of these representations the Clemmers aver that they made an exchange of properties, they also giving a note and mortgage on the newly acquired property for $1600.

When Rufus Clemmer went to Oregon to look over his new possessions he stared aghast. He sets out in the complaint that he found no timber land, no land under cultivation to grain, no improvements whatever upon the place, and the entire 240 acres not worth more than $400. Under these conditions he demanded his dye works back again and offered to reconvey the acreage. Mrs. Tway was quite content to let well enough alone, and refused to accede to any such proceeding. Now suit is brought to call the whole deal off.

DIVORCE HUNG UP.

GOLDMAN FAVORED BY LAW.

It is just a little doubtful whether Mrs. Bessie P. Goldman, who was inveigled into marriage with the ex-convict, not knowing anything about his previous life, will be granted a divorce from Siegfried B. Goldman. At any rate, Judge Conrey has taken the case under advisement, and openly indicated his opinion regarding the rascality of the defendant. He said he was merely doubtful about the law bearing upon such a condition.

Mrs. Goldman told of her unfortunate marriage, of the honeymoon trip East and the arrest of her husband; of his pawning her jewelry, and all the other escapades of her flashy husband up to the thime he was arrested in St. Louis, as heretofore told by The Times. Mrs. Harriet C. Reynolds, a sister, also testified to having sent money East to her sister to bring her home again, and also to release the trunks held at the Gilsey House for a large debt contracted by Goldman.

Mrs. Goldman, however, is unable to claim a divorce, because her husband has been guilty of a felony, inasmuch as he served his time in State's prison before he was married to her. Since that time he has been in prison, it is true, but only for a misdemeanor. On the other hand, all the shame, humiliation and disgrace put upon the wife amount to only mental suffering, and whether that alone is sufficient to constitute cruelty, as contemplated by the divorce law, will have to be determined.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

NAKA SENT UP. Frank Naka has become such a hardened bicycle thief that Judge Smith, yesterday, sent him to Folsom for two years. He was tried once before on the same charge but then had the name of Yokohama. In his last foray he stole five wheels, and the police suspect several more.

RETURNED HOME. Harvey Mouton, a tall, lank colored man, was sent back to State prison at Folsom for five years by Judge Smith, yesterday. Mouton takes "dope" and then inevitably steals some trifling thing, but these petit larcenies have doubled up into felonies and he has been in State prison several times. Hard-working and peaceable when sober, he is a victim of the "dope habit."

THE MORTON DIVORCE. Emma M. Morton was granted a divorce from Fred W. Morton, on the ground of desertion. The parties married on October 15, 1901, and on September 17, 1904, the husband left his home and wife.

THEY SHOT CRAPS. Fred Wilson and Bal Roach, two of the seven crap-shooters captured by Constable De La Monte and his deputies, were fined $100 yesterday by Justice Young, and the other five had their sins forgiven and were turned loose. The fines were paid.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

HIS COURT NOT A HORSE MART.

JUSTICE AUSTIN STOPS DEAL AND EXTENDS TIME.

Man Who Deserted His Family in Oregon Is Arrested for Assaulting His Mother-in-Law—Wife-beater Waters Gets Off With Light Fine. Newsboys Arrested.

James Lewis and his wife, colored, were tried yesterday on a charge of starving a horse, which was acknowledged to be the property of the woman. They were convicted, and the man was fined $5 and the woman $10.

Justice Austin's court, where the trial took place, was for a time the scene of animated efforts by the colored people to negotiate a trade of the horse to a very deaf man in return for enough money to pay the fines. Justice Austin, however, interfered and stopped the deal with the remark: "You should not sell that horse for $15, just because you have been fined in that amount." He accepted the man's $5 in liquidation of his fine, and gave the woman until Tuesday to secure the $10 due from her.

BATTERY CHARGED.

ALSO KIDNAPING ATTEMPT.

D. M. Letts was before Justice Rose on a battery charge yesterday, brought by his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. Pefferle, and his trial was set for November 9.

The story told the City Prosecuting Attorney is that Letts first deserted his wife and two children at Portland, where they became public charges. She then went to the home of a relative at Bakersfield, and finally came here to live with her parents. Letts followed her, and first tried to kidnap his oldest child from the house on Towne avenue, but was driven away. He was arrested, but released on the promise that he would not again molest his family. He then got around his wife and succeeded in getting her to agree to live with him, thus securing entrance to the home.

Yesterday he is said to have again attempted to make away with the oldest child, and in the struggle assaulted Mrs. Pefferle.

Crap-Shooters Arrested.

The police yesterday arrested four crap-shooters in the alley where the newsboys of the Express congregate, and they were charged with gambling before Justice Rose. They were all practically full-grown men, as far as size goes, their names being J. Noyes, Charles Johnson, Hugh Braggs and M. Page. Braggs and Page put up $25 each for their appearance today, and while the other two were trying to secure bail, the arresting officers appeared in court with the announcement that they had failed to secure a complcint—same old story. Noyes and Johnson were released, and the bail money was returned to Braggs and Page.

The question of arbitration was raised, after all other attempts to secure an adjustment of differences had failed.

Mayor Lane, responsive to the importunities of the local business interests, summoned representatives of the Exporters' Association, the striking grain handlers, and the boycotters, to his office, he outlined a plan of arbitration, and urged upon the conflicting interests the pressing need of an early settlement.

Frequent conferences have since been held, and minor differences have been eliminated. Both employers and employés have shown a disposition to yield insignificant points, but they have split upon the main issue—recognition of the union. At the present time there appears to be little chance of a settlement by arbitration along any lines as yet suggested. The strikers are determined not to yield until they have secured recognition of the union, and the employers appear to be just as firmly determined not to grant this concession.

AUBLE BACK IN HARNESS.

Vacation Improves the Police Chief's Health and He Laughs at Rumor of Intended Retirement.

His health greatly improved, Chief of Police Auble resumed his official duties yesterday after a vacation of two weeks which he passed on a ranch in the vicinity of Tulare Lake. He laughed at the report that it was his intention to retire from the department on a disability pension or otherwise.

While he has been ill for some time, he considers himself fully able to perform the official duties required of him and has no thought of leaving the department.

His tenure as Chief of Police rests, he says, with the Police Commission.

PART II: EDITORIAL, LOCAL AND BUSINESS SECTION

Pen-Points

When last heard of Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco was in Hamburg. Trying to make a stake probably.

There are lots of Democrats who would vote their own ticket this year if they had a ticket of their own to vote.

No doubt all these good-looking typewriter girls who have strings on their employers were educated in the "touch" system.

It is announced that Bryan favors a Republican in Ohio, but it would be hard to find a Republican in Ohio who favors Bryan.

In the new State of Oklahoma there is an Indian chief who is president of a railroad. No doubt he keeps a sharp lookout for scalpers.

Close observers of the situation say that nothing has yet happened in city politics that can be seriously regarded as giving Gates a jar.

Sometimes it is not so much the cooking that we object to in a restaurant as it is the way the person eats it who sits opposite.

Another commendable feature of the present campaign is that all the candidates unhesitatingly announce themselves in favor of "good government."

There is no doubt now, even in the minds of his friends, that when he fell in with the labor-union bosses young Mr. Bell of Napa was caught napping.

We do not hear so much of goldbugs in politics any more, but the same old humbugs appear to be as much in evidence now as they ever were.

Abe Ruef has not been indicted, and won't be, so long as he is District Attorney himself, but there is a general impression that he's under suspicion.

It makes it just that much worse to know that San Francisco has been robbed right along by the most ordinary bunch of grafters that ever played at the game.

The Mayor of San Francisco not being in the city of which he is the official head, maybe if it were looked into there might be a reason found why Schmitz left home.

In the theory of the law there are certain things called "fictions." Doubtless one of them is that a man can't get a drink of whisky in what is known as a "dry" town.

It should not be forgotten that the same crowd that elected Schmitz Mayor of San Francisco is now engaged in an effort to elect Theodore Bell Governor of California.

The navy has set up a cry for more men. It will have a hard time getting them unless this thing of regarding the uniform of a sailor as a disgrace is done away with.

It seems strange that expensive efforts are still being made to find substitutes for coffee and various kinds of liquors, and that nobody ever thinks of trying plain water.

The spectacle of the guns of the Cuban insurrectionists being thrown into the sea makes us think what a happy day for this world it would be if all the guns in existence were thrown into the sea.

Justice is usually consistent in her actions. A New Jersey banker who spent some time breaking his depositors has been sentenced to spend some more time in breaking stones as a member of the chain gang.

No matter how much money Rudolph Spreckels spends to clear San Francisco of grafters, the game is worth the candle, and the results will be such as will make him feel good the remaining days of his life.

In the etiquette of the Zulus a warrior is not allowed to speak the name of his enemy when he rushes into battle. It might be a good thing if the etiquette of American politics had been framed along similar lines.

The political supporters of the California newspapers are doing first rate this year. As far as we have been able to see, not one of them has said that "the audience rose en masse," or that "the speech was cheered to the echo."

The general understanding that Vice-President Fairbanks is a frost is somewhat augmented by the fact that the Republican Campaign Committee has assigned him to the task of preventing the Democrats from carrying Arkansas.

While it seems to be true that the railroads are not able to handle all the freight business that's being unloaded on them, no fears are entertained that they will be unable to handle the gentlemen who expect to become members of the various Legislatures as a result of the pending elections.

A MOVE TO SAVE SCHMITZ.

A It was plainly a move to save Mayor Schmitz—yesterday's sensational removal of Dist.-Atty. Langdon of San Francisco by Acting Mayor Gallagher—a move to prevent the conviction and disgrace of the union labor Mayor whom the Union Labor party foisted upon that thrice-stricken municipality.

Schmitz, the head of the wolf pack, the leader of the ravenous beasts who have been sucking the city's blood—Schmitz, the Big Boss of the union laborite bosses, he was the target at which the grand jury would direct its fire. He was the man Langdon was after.

The appointment of Abe Ruef as District Attorney in Langdon's place would be a huge joke, were it not so painfully serious and did it not leave poor San Francisco in such a pestilential quagmire with such faint chances of speedy extrication.

The announcement that Heney and Burns had been engaged by Dist.-Atty. Langdon to seek the conviction of the boss grafters and that Rudolph Spreckels had donated a fund of $100,000 to the campaign seems to have pierced the conspirators with sickening fears. They apparently heard the creak of the prison doors as in the dreams they dreamed of what was to come.

Their counter-move was sudden and characteristic. Acting Mayor Gallagher, a mere utensil of Schmitz, came to the rescue with a removal and an appointment that will nullify Heney and insure the utter failure of the grand jury inquiry, so far as getting at the head offenders is concerned. "District Attorney" Ruef—save the mark—will attend to that.

The performance settles another thing. It widens the breach between the Langdonites and the Bellites; it makes thousands of votes for Langdon for Governor; and it puts Theodore A. Bell out of the running.

The Times never has had much confidence in Langdon, but was quick to commend his apparently earnest opening of a penitentiary campaign against Schmitz, and it regrets that he has lost the opportunity to show what is in him. The enmity between Langdon's master, Mr. Hearst, and the Union Labor party leaders would fall surely have carried him far against the Schmitz pack.

But who and what will save San Francisco? That is the main question now. God help her—and God deliver the rest of us!

Was ever a city in a more distressing plight? Devastated by earthquake and fire, pillaged by thieves and corruptionists, her industries well nigh paralyzed by labor-union tyrants, the work of rebuilding on the fire-swept ruins put back by labor-union extortionists, with a horde of footpads and murderers making her streets unsafe and driving her people to despair, with her police in collusion with anarchists, walking delegates and criminals, with a black pall of crime and disaster spread over her by a conscienceless and merciless labor-union domination dating from the first election of Schmitz—and now Abe Ruef, chief counsellor to Misrule, appointed District Attorney to investigate and prosecute the offenses of Abe Ruef and his clients! Was there ever a more deplorable condition of things, or a more damnable paradox?

Yes, God help San Francisco and God deliver the rest of us!

A NON-PARISAN SCHOOL BOARD.

Whatever may be the outcome of the municipal campaign, the proposition that we ought to have a non-partisan Board of Education will doubtless be very generally conceded. We have tried the experiment for two years, and it has given entire satisfaction. To go back to the old practice of a partisan school board would indeed be retrogression. Los Angeles is a go-ahead city, and it cannot afford to take a backward step in anything.

There should be no politics in the administration of the public schools. Citizens of all degrees and varieties of political faith are alike interested in the welfare of the public school system. Whether the Republican or the Democratic party control in city, State or nation, the desire that the schools shall attain to the highest degree of efficiency is universal. That this highest efficiency can be realized under non-partisan management may be set down as a demonstrated fact.

In view of these facts, good policy and good citizenship seem to demand that Democrats and Republicans, and all citizens who are imbued with civic patriotism, shall get together and nominate candidates for the school board who would command the support of all parties. Such a board could be named, and its nomination would be equivalent to an election. There is plenty of first-class material for such a board, and The Times believes that in both parties there are enough men, capable of unselfish action, to insure the right nominations.

Let us look at the matter in a rational way. Let us forget politics, forget prejudices and forget everything but the welfare of the public schools, in the business of selecting the Board of Education.

HONESTY FOR YOU!

The Evening Express, progenitor of "Doc" Howton and [illegible] defender of the walking delegate says The Times is "attempting to make it appear that Bell is the Labor Union party candidate for Governor."

Here is candor for you—candor that of course the feeble-minded Express thinks will save votes for Bell. "Make it appear," indeed!

The official ballot of the State, to be used in the election, came out yesterday, and on it is seen the name of Theodore A. Bell as the regularly nominated candidate of the Union Labor party for Governor.

"Attempting to make it appear," forsooth! The dishonesty of the Express is as stupid as it is contemptible. Is Bell ashamed of the nomination, that he causes his organ to resort to this attempted evasion?

"Trying to make it appear"—what transparent mendacity this, on the part of the Express, which bolted the nomination of Gillett on account of a personal grievance.

The Times has no need to "try to make it appear" that Bell is the Union Labor party candidate, the candidate of Tveitmoe and Furuseth. Every voter will see his name at the head of that party's ticket on the official ballot.

Bell was nominated for Governor by the Union Labor party in State convention September 19, accepted the nomination and was placed on the official ballot as the nominee of that party in the regular way.

The Express has no need to "try to make it appear" that it is insulting intelligent voters by seeking to humbug them by means of the flimsiest of tricks.

WHO SAYS CHANGE?

In 1896 Sam Gompers, the then labor union leader, said 3,000,000 men in the United States were out of work. Now every man who wants to work can get work, and many thousands more workers are needed. Who says change?

In 1896 our country was in a state of industrial bankruptcy by reason of Democratic control of the tariff. Now every industry, and every worker therein, is enjoying the Republican tariff-swelling tide of prosperity. Who says change?

In 1896 we had free bread lines and free soup houses. Now it is hard to get a seat at a pay restaurant. Who says change?

In 1896 railroad receiverships were the order of the day. Now it is increased railroad earnings, day after day, month after month, and year after year. Who says change?

In 1896 Johnny and Susie could not go to school for want of clothes. Now it is well-dressed children to school every day. Who says change?

In 1896 the grocer, the butcher and the baker said, "No more goods except for spot cash." Now it is "Never mind the account; what shall I send you, please?" Who says change?

In 1896 the landlord said, "Pay your rent today or get out." Now it is, "Never mind the rent today; pay any day it is convenient; would you like the parlor papered?" Who says change?

In 1896 men, women and children slept on benches in the parks, or in doorways, or in cellars. Now they sleep in comfortable rooms and beds. Who says change?

In 1896 Spring street, Los Angeles, was a good, quiet place in which to saunter and loiter, or in which to sing that good old hymn, "Come ye Disconsolate." Now it is a place of hustle and bustle, and the only suitable hymn to be sung there now is, "Oh, Happy Day." Who says change?

In 1896 people went East or elsewhere from California, if they could raise the price, and did not come back. Now most everybody going away buys a return ticket and comes back as soon as they can, while hundreds who come here with return tickets throw the return half away. Who says change?

In 1896 The Times had far more advertisements of "Situations Wanted" than of "Help Wanted." Now it is very much the other way. Who says change?

In 1896 the few who could get work had to be content with 21.5 per cent. less pay per hour, and to work 3.9 per cent more hours per week, than now. Who says change?

In 1896 the number of employed workers was 42 per cent. less than now. Who says change?

In 1896 the freight charge per mile was 10.9 per cent. more than now, with several hundred thousand less people employed by the railroads. Who says change?"

In 1896 railroad companies were not extending old, nor building new lines. Now the new railroad work in progress or in sight, involves an expenditure in the next fifteen months of $400,000,000, largely for wages. Who says change?

In 1896 the bank clearings of Los Angeles totaled $61,000,000. Now they are $550,000,000 a year, and still increasing. Who says change?

In 1896 Los Angeles had only thirteen banks of all kinds with $4,716,000 capital and $11,300,000 deposits. Now the city has forty banks with $17,000,000 capital and surplus, and $90,000,000 deposits, or nearly four times as much capital, and eight times as much deposits. Who says change?

In 1896 (January 1) the seven savings banks of Los Angeles had $4,129,777 on deposit, while on April 4, 1906, there were thirteen savings banks, holding deposits of $38,843,513, says J. S. Sartori, president of the Security Savings Bank, in the Bankers' Magazine for June, 1906. This is more than ninefold increase in only ten years and a quarter; the deposits in these thirteen savings banks are larger now, and still growing. Who says change?

In 1896 Los Angeles did not have more than 500 running manufacturing establishments, with a yearly product of not over $10,000,000. Now the city has about 1500 factories, big and little, with a yearly product of fully $40,000,000; or three times as many factories and four times as much product. Who says change?

In 1896 there was not very much building going on in the city of Los Angeles, while now, says W. J. Washburn, president of the Chamber of Commerce, in the Bankers' Magazine of June, 1906, "Buildings during the past two years represent an average expenditure of $1,250,000 a month." Who says change?

BOSS HERRIN AND BELL.

We don't know whether it is true or not, but we find the following in the columns of the Evening Express of yesterday:

"W. F. Herrin, head of the Southern Pacific law department, was again in Los Angeles today, this time on the way to his home in San Francisco. While here he was in consultation with Thomas McCaffery, assistant superintendent of the Southern Pacific at Arcade station, who is the Walter F. Parker of the Democratic machine in this city and county."

As is elsewhere demonstrated in this issue, the political utterances of the Express are thoroughly unreliable; but it is altogether probable that Herrin did consult with McCaffery. Boss Herrin is a Democrat; and McCaffery, as the Express states, is the local Democratic wire-puller of the Espee machine. McCaffery is working as hard as he can for the election of Theodore A. Bell for Governor and has made himself conspicuous in the present campaign for "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain." He takes his orders from Boss Herrin, and as the Express intimates, he probably got some yesterday.

COME BACK, MAYOR SCHMITZ.

[From the San Francisco Call, October 22.]

Mayor Schmitz chose an unfortunate time for his journey beyond seas. His overpowering desire to study municipal ownership in its native wild might have endured postponement. In his own interest, if for no other reason, Mayor Schmitz should be in San Francisco today. His absence at a critical period compels inquiry and suggests embarrassing questions that none can answer but himself.

Nobody appears to know the Mayor's present whereabouts, or, at least, none is willing to tell. The silence of his friends does the Mayor dubious service.

There are many questions that Mayor Schmitz might answer when he returns—we assume that he will return—to confound the promoters of reports that damage for lack of refutation by authority. It is not perhaps within the purview of good manners to inquire into the delicate question of personal expenditures by a private individual, but when we see a public official keeping his end up alongside of the multimillionaires in vulgar extravagance it is the right of his constituents to be informed whether the money came out of his moderate salary. Explanations are due from an official who engages in a spectacular Broadway splurge.

There is the whisky deal concerning which Mayor Schmitz might give some useful information were he not hidden in darkest Europe far from the madding crowd—so far that his friends do not know his place of concealment. In that whisky deal some $1,000,000 was said to be involved and the profit was reported at $50 a barrel. Former Police Commissioner Reagan said the Mayor knows a great deal about the transaction, that was in process of completion when the fire upset the deal. We have no definite information who was to gather in the $50 a barrel profit on the whisky. Reagan says that Schmitz ought to know. We are unable to say whether he does know, and so long as he keeps away there is none to inform us. Mayor Schmitz and his traveling companion, Mr. Hilbert, are a serious loss to a community seeking information.

Why did Hilbert and Schmitz leave at that particular juncture? We know that Mayor Schmitz wanted to study municipal ownership because he has told us as much. But Mr. Hilbert's interest in that great question must be slight. If like the Mayor he went to improve his mind by study of his special field we should have thought that his knowledge of the whisky business was complete before he left.

Come back to San Francisco and come quickly, Mayor Schmitz. The people yearn for you; a brand-new grand jury hungers to ask you questions. Return and give the lie to those people who are saying—doubtless without reason—that you are a fugitive from justice.

MEN AND THINGS OVER THE SEAS.

Weighing a Signature.

London has a new distinction to be proud of in the fact that it is the only place where one can have his signature weighed. At the opening of the new city weights and measures office, during a testing of the delicate instruments, several of the visitors ascertained the exact avoirdupois of their names. One who adorned his name with a heavy flourish found that he had used three-tenths of a grain of ink; another who was more sparing, one-twentieth of a grain. By a nice calculation the scales showed that a half-penny postage stamp was three-hundredths of a grain heavier than a penny one. The inspectors upon whom this testing work falls are necessarily past masters in the art of exactitude.

Czarina's Charm of Manner.

The general appearance of the Czarina may be fairly well known in this country, although fewer pictures have been published of her than of any other crowned head. But no picture that I had seen, writes Amalia Kussner Coudert in the Century, gave any idea of how she really looks, seen thus face to face.

Perhaps this may be for the reason that much of her beauty comes from exquisite coloring, and that there is about her a subtle charm impossible to picture and difficult to describe. She is very tall and very slender, yet most finely proportioned. Her features are almost Greek in their regularity, and the natural expression of her face struck me at once as a singularly wistful and sweet sadness that never went quite away even when she smiled.

Her hair is strikingly beautiful and luxuriant, long, heavy, glossy and brown gold in color. Her eyes are large, soft, lustrous gray blue, with long lashes, and I painted them cast down, as they nearly always are, for she is shy and hardly ever looks without a blush.

Yet with all the Czarina's shyness, her bearing [illegible] with a sense of something [illegible] er and graver than mere [illegible] for a beautiful, graceful [illegible] difficult to define just what [illegible] pression was, but it may be [illegible] majesty, for lack of a [illegible] and the feeling of it [illegible] the entire time that I was [illegible] to enter her presence, although [illegible] could have been kinder or more [illegible] in all that she said and did.

Extravagance of Municipal Ownership.

The London Unemployed.

Los Angeles Business Property Made Available to Investors in Large or Small Amounts.

The Trustee Company has divided the ownership of two Properties on Broadway into Units for investment, so that from $1000 upward may be invested in them, with less than the purchase of an improved lot.

The income is certain and satisfactory and the increase is beyond question. Business property in such cities as Kansas City, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis and Seattle is higher than in Los Angeles and prices here are certain to advance.

It will be to your advantage to let us explain this investment proposition to you.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE

Fortunately the stage is in the [illegible] free from the demoralizing influences of labor-union demagogism. Actors have not been unionized as yet; dramatists have not formed a protective association—although it might be better for them if they did—audiences have not signed agreements to revolt at posts and uncomfortable seats.

In its mechanics, however, the theater is sometimes afflicted with a peculiar totem curse.

This breaks out in various forms. Its latest manifestation seems to be in the bill posters' union, lithographers' association, or whatever they are. Here a few lazy malcontents have succeeded in ruining the reputation of the whole body, and are causing theater and music managers an endless amount of trouble.

The policy of some of these troublesome spirits is to stick bundles of paper or pictures in saloons, corridors of storerooms, or in any place to escape the necessary work of putting them up. As a result they have brought the good workers into disgrace, and in most instances have succeeded in making their work count for nothing.

Further than this, they effectually prevent any new entries into the organization, thus keeping good blood out of it, and at the same time, by threats and promise of assistance from other union bodies, keeping some at bay of power.

Last week a member of the organization, who had been proven guilty of dishonesty in his work, was summarily discharged. Before his case was taken up, however, proof had to be made public in such a manner that the officers of the organization could not escape their duty.

A prominent manager described the situation yesterday in a few heartfelt words.

"My stuff goes out," he said, "instead of putting it up the fellow's pay pool, hang around saloons and shake dice at cigar stands, and as a result my advertising is completely demoralized, and the people whom I represent fall back on me in no uncertain language by way of reproach.

"I have just offered to make one of my own office boys a member of the union, that he might put the stuff up for me, but the meeting which was to admit him blackballed him—by previous arrangement, of course—and so merely that there were too many members now; others would have to wait their turn.

"There's the dog-in-the-manger situation. These fellows will neither do their work nor let others do it for them. It's a typical bit of agitator policy."

Our opera is over the border. A telegram from Lambardi announces the opening of the brief tour in El Paso—a tour in which the second casts of the company will be headed by the standard operas, while the leading principals will wait for the opening here.

Chevalier Guerriere is coming from Italy with four more principals. Adelina Tremben is on the way from France.

Several carloads of scenery and properties are billed to us from Spain. Generally, our company and its stuff is being gathered up from all parts of civilization.

Manager E. A. Fischer is tired dealing with the Tivoli company, which has been making repeated postponements and will probably establish a company of his own.

He says his new organization will be formed, rehearsed and ready for business January 1, 1907, according to promise.

The Burford Conservatory, a handsome and finely-appointed building at No. 2191 West Sixteenth street, was opened last night by Prof. and Mrs. Burford and their faculty, assisted by a number of vocalists and instrumentalists.

A large number of guests were present, and the main part of the evening was spent in inspecting the new building and listening to an interesting programme.

The musical numbers included the "Rienzi" overture, the "Maestro" march, the "Wedding of the Fair Queen," "The Chimes of Normandy," Chopin's eighth ballad and "The Palms."

Olga Steeb's programme, which she will give in the middle of January, will be chosen for the talented young girl Paderewski himself.

Miss Steeb has been practicing assiduously along methods selected by him for more than a year.

There is trouble about Guilbert and Chevalier. Their manager wishes to cancel California dates, as he fears he cannot make time enough with the Francisco out of the circuit.

Mr. Behymer is using the Western Union in a strenuous endeavor to convince him that he can.

Leo Cooper delivered a lecture last night before the Woman's Press Club on the "Renaissance of the Modern Drama." It will probably be the last of his series, as he will shortly depart for an extended engagement.

The Woman's Orchestra will play at the Soldiers' Home this evening, Henry Schoenfeld directing.

A good programme of classic and popular music will be presented.

Miss Donnell will sing numbers by Schubert, Brahms, Handel, Hahn, Walter and Puccini.

Mr. Seiling will give compositions by Wieuxtemps and Wieniawski, and Mrs. Brahm's arrangement by Joachim.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

All down the corridor and in the studios of the Blanchard building echoed the busy hum from the Ruskin Art rooms yesterday afternoon, where the Ruskin ladies were pouring tea and having a happy social time.

The rooms with their soft green tones were brightened with red carnations and dashing red geraniums, while the tea tables were daintily set forth. Mrs. J. W. Hendricks, the president, and the courtesy committe, including Mmes. A. Caldwell, J. Crandall and McLennan, received the members and guests among whom were the artists, Neils and Joseph Greenbaum.

Mrs. Cecelia White spoke during the early part of the afternoon, giving an account of a four day trip from Naples to Herculaneum, and Pompeii, through Sorrento, and Capri and back to the starting point.

Mrs. Paul Adams charmed the club with the liquid notes of her splendid voice, singing Denza's "In a Ma[illegible] Morning," and a weird little love song for an encore, called "Then Love Was Born."

she is shy and hardly ever look without a blush.

There is trouble about Guilbert and the Chevalier. Their manager wishes to cancel California dates, as he fears he cannot make time enough with San Francisco out of the circuit.

Mr. Behymer is using the Western Union in a strenuous endeavor to convince him that he can.

Leo Cooper delivered a lecture last night before the Woman's Press Club on the "Renaissance of the Modern Drama." It will probably be the last of his series, as he will shortly go East for an extended engagement.

The Woman's Orchestra will play at the Soldiers' Home this evening, Henry Schoenfeld directing.

A good programme of classic and popular music will be presented.

Miss Donnell will sing numbers by Schubert, Brahms, Handel, Hahn, Weil, Tosti and Puccini.

Mr. Seiling will give compositions by Wieniemps and Wieniawski, and a Bach's arrangement by Joachim.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

All down the corridor and in the art studios of the Blanchard building ceased the busy hum from the Ruskin art rooms yesterday afternoon, where the Ruskin ladies were pouring tea and having a happy social time.

The rooms with their soft green tones were brightened with red carnations and dashing red geraniums, while the tea tables were daintily set forth. Mrs. J. W. Hendricks, the president, and the courtesy committe, including Mmes. A. Caldwell, J. Crandall and McLenegan, received the members and guests among whom were the artists, Neilson and Joseph Greenbaum.

Mrs. Cecelia White spoke during the early part of the afternoon, giving an account of a four day trip from Naples to Herculaneum, and Pompeii, through Sorrento, and Capri and back to the starting point.

Mrs. Paul Adams charmed the club with the liquid notes of her splendid voice, singing Denza's "In a May Morning," and a weird little love song for an encore, called "Then Love Was Gone."

Ben Ward Is Needed.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] "Whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad." The madness with which the "push" and the S. P. are assailing that brave, honest and competent officer, Ben E. Ward, illustrates the above quotation. What has he done that causes this madness. Simply his duty. Therefore, he must be slaughtered. He did not go into the Republican convention to be slaughtered—hence he must now be offered as a sacrifice to the spite of politicians and corporate greed. Had the politicians not heeded the demand of corporations, whose grievance is that Ward has used his best endeavors to compel them to pay their just share of taxes, he would have been nominated without any seeking on his part by the Republican convention, which would have been the just and wise thing to do. This is eminently a case where the office should seek the man, and not compel the man to seek the office. The fact is, that the people need Ward a great deal more than he needs the office, and the result on the 6th of November will show that honesty, industry, bravery and capability in an official, such as Ward has proven to be, will be rewarded. I am a Republican of many years' standing—have voted for every Republican candidate for President since the party was organized, but when it becomes necessary, in order to retain the services of such a fearless and honest Assessor as Ben Ward, to bolt the regular machine ticket, I have no hesitation in doing so.

Fall Shirt Waists

It is astonishing to note the great increase in the variety of shirt waists this season. While lace is always good, embroidery—and especially that done by hand—is highly favored, and less expensive than usual, even for daintiest sorts, and elaborate designs.

Impossible to describe the many attractive ones here, to tell of all the clever ideas so well worked out—a few merely as a hint.

Hand-embroidered batiste waists, opening in back or front, new long leg o'mutton sleeves, $3.50. In similar styles, but not hand-embroidered, same price.

More elaborate designs, in eyelet and blind work hand-embroidery, $5.

Waists with long or short sleeves, with lace set in designs of hand-embroidery, $6.

Tailored waists of new patterns, in madras, $1.25 to $3.50, in linen, $1.75 to $5 each.

$1.50 Chemisettes, 50c

While the number of chemisettes at 50c is much smaller than it at first was, the variety is practically as good as ever; values to $1.50 are included, in embroidery and lace and hand-made Battenberg guimpe effects.

An Exceptional Opportunity to Buy Black Silks

Do you suppose for a minute that we could have built up a justly-deserved reputation for retailing the best silks—and particularly black silks—of any house in all Southern California, if we had even once deviated from that high standard of quality, had allowed a faulty piece of silk to be knowingly sold, at any price?

We think more highly of the confidence reposed in us by our thousands of long-retained customers than we could possibly do of the temporary profit we might perhaps gain through some unfair silk selling. All of which simply means that you can come here to buy these under-priced black silks knowing that they're our regular qualities, fully worth what we say they are, and that our guarantee is behind every yard sold, no matter what the price.

MRS. ARTHUR F. LE VITT, formerly Miss May Newton, society belle, whose marriage took place on Tuesday afternoon.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

As a surprise to a host of friends both in this city and Pasadena, comes the news of the marriage of Miss May Titus Newton and Arthur F. Le Vitt, which took place Tuesday afternoon at the handsome home of the bride's father, Capt. J. C. Newton, Rollins and South Fair Oaks avenues, South Pasadena.

Rev. J. S. Thomson of the Independent Church of Christ officiated, performing the ring ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends.

The bride comes of a family long prominent in Southern California and her father was one of the early settlers of South Pasadena, where he owns large acreage. He is a lover of horseflesh, and in the last horse show he exhibited many fine specimens. His daughter, Mrs. Le Vitt, is as enthusiastic over horses as her father, and is a graceful horsewoman. In fact, she added much to the style and beauty of the horses shown last year by her father by driving and riding them herself. She is a petite blonde with dainty coloring and a vivacious way, which has won for her many friends. She is a favorite, and well known both in Los Angeles and Pasadena society. She is a sister of

HARRY F. WAGNER.

Mrs. Frank Cattern, also of South Pasadena.

Mr. Le Vitt is a young mining engineer with offices in the Merchants' Trust Building. He and Miss Newton have been engaged for some time, and though the marriage will be a surprise to their friends, they have known each other for a number of years.

For Mrs. Robertson.

Mrs. Howard Robertson, one of the most attractive of recent brides, was honored with a luncheon, beautiful in every appointment, given by Mrs. G. W. Pursell in the banquet room of Hotel Ingraham yesterday afternoon.

The luncheon was suggestive of the approaching Halloween season and the banquet room itself being in yellow, heightened the effect most considerably. From the ceiling garlanded with golden oranges swung many jack-o'-lanterns, and from the chandelier, directly over the table, hung a huge jack-o'-lantern.

The table spread with lacy cover supported a basket carved from a pumpkin and overflowing with red-cheeked apples, white and rich purple grapes and wound with tendrils of bright autumn leaves, which spread themselves in crimson patches over the snowy cloth. The room itself held several huge jars filled with fluffy yellow chrysanthemums, completing the sunny effect. Yellow shaded candelabra cast a softened light over the bright board. Place cards were dainty hand-painted affairs adorned with pumpkins and jack-o'-lanterns.

Besides the hostess and Mrs. Robertson, covers were laid for Mrs. Joseph Kingman Ellison, Mrs. Frank P. Fay, and Misses Mabel Clute, Edith Furrey, Edith Hopkins, Kate Fay, Jones, Alice Johnson, Harriett Johnson, Davis, Helen North, Newman, Lebus of Los Angeles, and Mrs. C. G. Yates, Miss Jones and Miss Hutchins of San Francisco.

Mr. Leischner Entertains.

Franz Robert Leischner entertained Wednesday evening informally in his new home, No. 3229 Arroyo street, for a few theatrical and other friends. Music and a dainty supper were features of the entertainment. Guests included Miss Marion Berg, Miss Mathilde Baruch, Miss Ruby Dunning, Miss Hazel Forman and Messrs. J. D. Pembelton, Fred S. Packard, Dick Vivian, Louis Stone and Harry Earl.

Mrs. Norton's Affair.

Mrs. Leland Norton of No. 1216 Alesandro street gave an informal afternoon on Sunday from 2 until 7 o'clock. Piano, guitar and mandolin music was a treat given by Mr. and Mrs. Murillo P. Spaulding, who also sang several fascinating darkie melodies.

The refreshments were served by the men of the party and a huge birthday cake was cut and served by James W. Patterson of Chicago, who was the guest of honor. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding and Mr. Patterson, there were present: Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Fulks, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hayes, Mrs. Jessie Reynolds Girling of Hollywood, Miss Mary Dalrymple and Maj. Thomas C. Waterous, who told a number of entertaining stories. Mr. Patterson will leave next week for Seattle en route for Chicago.

Mrs. Haskins's Tea.

Mrs. Sam Haskins of No. 2624 Orchard avenue was hostess yesterday at a charmingly-appointed tea given in compliment to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tom Haskins, who is here from China, and also for Mrs. Almeric Coxhead of Berkeley. Pale pink chrysanthemums and carnations were used with grace throughout the home and on the tea table pink ribbons and carnations completed a smart effect.

Receiving with the hostess and guests of honor were: Mrs. Thomas Newton and Mrs. Helena Childs. Assisting in receiving were: Mmes. W. W. Lovett, Willoughby Rodman, Henry Carleton Lee, Frank Custer, William Matthews, Marshall Stimson, Vance Anderson, Albert Crutcher, Charles Barrington, Irwin Herron, Jack Johnston, Carroll Allen, Norbert Murray and Misses Adelaide Brown, Jane Campbell, Edith Gowan and Lou Winder. Mrs. Ernest Hamilton and Mrs. William Joyce presided at the coffee and tea urns.

Ragland-Brown Nuptials.

Miss Fay Ragland and James W. Brown were quietly married last evening at the home of the bride, at No. 257 Eastlake avenue, with Rev. Hugh K. Walker officiating. The parlor was prettily decorated in pink and green and white and in the dining-room red and green prevailed. The bride was attired in a becoming traveling suit of pale gray with hat and gloves to match and carried white roses. After a short wedding tour the couple will be at home at No. 257 Eastlake avenue. The bride is a sister of George Ragland, who last week was married to Hazel Bryson. Mr. Brown is connected with the Sun Drug Company.

MISS OLLIE LAUGHLIN.

Birthday Party.

Miss Ollie Laughlin, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laughlin, Jr., of No. 839 East Sixth street, was surprised by her friends, the occasion being her fourteenth birthday anniversary. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers and ferns, and the young people enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content. They had ice cream and all sorts of refreshments, and there was a programme of vocal and instrumental music. Among others present were: Misses Bessie Hetherington, Ella Harris, Carrie Dold, Lizzie Johnson, Maggie Allman, Della Darst, Leona Cowan, Ida Abarto, Dora and Theresa Cordona, Mrs. Fernando Olivas, Mrs. Frank Foster, Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laughlin, Jr., Messrs. William Hetherington, Charles and Eddie Jennings, Ray Smith, Harry Hammel, Eddie and Vivin Reese, the Misses Rose, Evelyn and Mamie Laughlin, John Allen and Master Leo Laughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer J. Hammers, whose marriage took place on Tuesday evening

Hammers-Murray Nuptials.

Miss Blanche Murray of Arkansas City and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Murray of that place, became the bride of Aylmer J. Hammers of Calexico at a charmingly appointed little home ceremony, which took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. E. Payne, No. 962 Court circle.

The pretty home was transformed into a bower of floral beauty, white and green being used. White carnations and smilax formed a canopy in which were wound white ribbons and love knots of tulle, and a snowy dove floated just overhead. The dining-room was in asparagus ferns and white carnations, and the briday table was decked with white roses and ferns.

The bride herself presented a sweet picture clad in white organdie, trimmed with Swiss embroidery and Maltese lace insertion. Her bouquet was a shower of bride roses and lilies-of-the-valley and a coronet of the fragrant lilies rested in her dark hair.

Miss Elma Farran, the bridesmaid, was attired in white organdie trimmed with Valenciennes lace and carried white carnations. W. B. Hammers, brother of the groom, was best man. Rev. Northrup of the First Baptist Church officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony. Miss Ula May Hammers, sister of the groom, presided at the piano and played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" and other appropriate numbers. Refreshments were served, and the couple departed amid a shower of rice and old shoes for their future home in Calexico.

New Club Entertained.

Mrs. Willis E. Hutchason of No. 2627 Van Buren Place entertained yesterday at luncheon, having as guests members of a newly-formed card club to which she belongs.

Hallowe'en appointments were in order and a huge pumpkin filled with flowers adorned the center of the table and the place cards were tiny jack-o-lanterns. Prizes for the game were a china plate and a pair of silk hose.

Plates were laid for: Mmes. J. N. O. Rech, Walter Reese, Roland Paul, Robert Smith, W. T. Taylor, Jack Powers, Arthur Homes, Charles Granger, and Misses Louise Hahn, Walker, Alice Walker and Katherine Warner.

Buttrick's Party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Buttrick of No. 2422 Michigan avenue entertained Tuesday evening with a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Thornton, it being their fourth wedding anniversary. There were thirty guests and many beautiful presents were received. Among other guests was George Eddy of Worcester, Mass., a brother-in-law of Mr. Buttrick. The house was prettily decorated, the color scheme being carried out in yellow and blue. A buffet luncheon was served.

Visit Mrs. Seeley.

Mrs. Leah J. Seeley of No. 1515 South Figueroa street is entertaining as her guest her mother, Mrs. R. Dinsmore of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, who has come to spend the winter here. Miss Adah Seeley, daughter of Mrs. Seeley, who herself has but recently returned from a visit in the East, is entertaining her charming young cousin, Miss Lavonia Clark of Clorinda, Iowa, who expects to remain here several months.

Mrs. Seeley and her daughter are planning to entertain later in the season with an affair for their two house guests.

Skinner-McConnell Wedding.

One of the prettiest weddings of the year in Ventura county was solemnized in Guild Hall in Somis on Wednesday afternoon. The bride was Madeline, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McConnell, and the groom Ernest Guy Skinner, a popular young man in the employ of the Southern Pacific.

The hall was beautifully decorated

Our Entire 15c Allotment Went at One Fell Swoop

Never in the history of mining, has a conservative company made such sales, with the possible exception of those made during the boom days of '49. Only by special permission of the Heck Gold Mining Company are we now able to sell you at 15 cents, but we have to renig on our time limit. Unfortunately, we thought we could deliver stock at 15 cents, up to Saturday night, November 3, but remember we reserved the right to return subscriptions if we were oversubscribed.

To prevent any misunderstanding, we make the following announcement, to deliver to any subscriber, stock at 15 cents 'till Thursday, 9:00 P. M. At that hour the stock will go to 20 cents, then we will be compelled to raise the price to at least 30 cents within a few days thereafter.

Please bear in mind that the phenomenal sale of this stock does not account for our rapid increase. Development is going on daily and rich ore is looming up in great quantities.

To any one proving we did not sell 50,000 shares yesterday, we will pay to any charity named by this paper, the sum of $1000. This is sufficient guarantee, and any person desiring to examine our books can do so, provided, if our statements are true, they will purchase at least 1000 shares of stock.

Why Heck stock is selling:

1st. It is surrounded on all sides by producers.

2nd. It has the most favorable outlook of any mine in this rich section. It's practically at the door of the famous Gold Rhodes mine paying $1.00 a year on each share of its stock in dividends. A good mine in Arizona is worth two prospects in any other country.

3rd. It adjoins directly the German-American, which mine we understand, has been held at $400,000.00.

4th. The Heck mine is handled by men "who know," and who offer the best references right here in Los Angeles. Its superintendent is the president of the company, and he is working continually on the mine, and is the only officer receiving a salary, and that is only $5.00 a day. This self same man has been mining for thirty years, and is pinning his life long hope on this one property.

5th. Our Company has examined thoroughly into this property, and we know whereof we speak. Incidentally, we can furnish bank or other references ourselves.

You must get in quick.

An opportunity is knocking at your door that you cannot afford to side step.

Call, write, telephone or telegraph your order at our expense. Your future is weighing in the balance.

Read what Isaac T. Stoddard, former Secretary of the Territory of Arizona, says:

"PHOENIX, ARIZONA, October 24, 1906.

"CALIFORNIA PROMOTION SYNDICATE, Hellman Building, Los Angeles, Cal.

"Gentlemen: Complying with request, I may say that the fact that I have devoted more than a quarter of a century of my life to the development of Arizona mines, and am staying with the work, may be accepted as a somewhat emphatic expression of my opinion regarding the resources of the Territory and its future as a producer of mineral wealth.

"Yours very respectfully,
(Signed) "ISAAC T. STODDARD."

To find out for a certainty whether or not your heart is affected. One person in four has a weak heart; it may be you. If so, you should know it now, and save serious consequences. If you have short breath, fluttering, palpitation, hungry spells, hot flushes; if you cannot lie on left side; if you have fainting or smothering spells, pain around heart, in side and arms, your heart is weak, and perhaps diseased. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will relieve you. Try a bottle, and see how quickly your condition will improve.

"About a year ago I wrote to the Miles Medical Co., asking advice, as I was suffering with heart trouble, and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and had not been able to draw a deep breath for two years. Any little exertion would cause palpitation, and I could not lie on my left side without suffering. They advised me to try Dr. Miles Heart Cure and Nervine, which I did with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about thirteen bottles of the two medicines, and haven't been bothered with my heart since." MRS. LILLIE THOMAS, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

with palm leaves, pepper boughs, potted ferns by the women friends of the bride.

At 2:30 Rev. C. H. Scott of Whittier took his place on the vine-covered platform and the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March ushered in the bridal procession. The bride, attired in white chiffon taffeta, carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Lila M. Smith of Los Angeles, wore white net over green. The ring bearer was little Miss McClure of Las Posas, and the bride was attended by Marry McClure, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony the guests sat down to a bountiful collation. A unique feature was a piece of the wedding cake, made by the bride's mother. The young couple received many valuable and beautiful presents, among them the form of silver, cut glass

Maria Louise Society's Plans.

The pretty little girls who have organized a bed and named it "The Maria Louise," in memory of a little lost playmate, are making plans for their charity bazaar, to be given on November 3 on the spacious grounds of the Walter B. Cline residence, Figueroa and Adams streets.

This year the affair is to be larger and more far-reaching than before, and the young folk are making great plans for novel entertainment. Already the little fingers have plied the needle, making dainty embroidery and fancy things to sell, and they have a heap of pretty trifles.

Mrs. Arthur F. Morland and Mrs. Walter B. Royal Smokers.

Emperor William of Germany smokes huge cigarettes specially made for him. King Edward of England always been devoted to cigarettes of late years he has leaned more and more toward dark Havana cigars. Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and the Austrian-made cigar manufactured of Virginia tobacco, with a thread running through it. King Leopold of Belgium is a cigarette fiend, but is frequently seen smoking a pipe. The greatest smoker of all is the aged, ever-contented King Carlos of Portugal. It is said that he smokes fifty cigars a day. King Alfonso of Spain takes an occasional cigarette only. Pius X is the first Pope who has been known to enjoy a good cigar.

DEATH VALLEY IS A GARDEN.

Carpeted With Beautiful Flowers in Spring.

Not Half of the Plants Are Known to Science.

MISS LAVONIA CLARK, ...town, who is the guest of her ...cousin, Miss Adah Seeley, on ...Figueroa street.

Think, if you will, of a long, low valley, lying between two lofty ranges of barren mountains—a white, glistening sink for a miserable desert river—the whole overlaid with a thick, black pall of wind and sand and ashes from the lead craters that fringe its borders, add all the heat and horrid fumes of Gehenna, and you have some idea of Death Valley in summer.

Wash these mountains clean with three months of a most continual cloudburst and rain, rim in their feet and the whole edge of the valley with foot-deep grasses, lush and green, sprinkle the white waste with bunches of mesquite all aglow with myriad blossoms, arch over all an Adriatic sky, cooled with the balmiest of breezes, and you have pictured Death Valley at the beginning of spring.

On the face of the green earth lies no more terrible bit of world in summer; no more beautiful one in spring.

And over the graves of many—Piute and desert tramp, teamster and lonely prospector—who have lain down to rise no more beneath its heartless skies, glows the most beautiful carpet of wild flowers to be found in this bloom-famed land of California.

Not half the plants of Death Valley are known to scientists; most of those that are known are little more than names, and will never be more until the prying arm of the railroad shall have laid bare some of the secrets of this vale of Hinnom.

Most beautiful and most plenty, of course, of all these plants that bloom on the desert are the cacti, and the rapidity with which their dry and apparently withered stalks put out blossoms under the touch of the rains is wonderful.

As they come into fullest bloom on or about Easter, the whole desert, far as the eye can reach, seems like one vast cathedral, arched with turquoise, floored with emerald and gayly garbed in giant Easter lilies.

The largest and showiest blossom of them all grows on a short, stocky stem, which, during the summer, does not seem to have life enough to produce the magnificent, waxy flowers, which are often as much as five inches across.

The tiniest of all, a low, creeping, round-stemmed, jointed growth, has an immense pink flower beautiful as any orchid and rivaling the fairest rose of Persia in its odor.

One noticeable thing about all the plants in and round Death Valley is that they grow low to the ground—for no living thing can stand against the simoons that sweep this level floor for 200 miles or over into the Nevada desert.

When the plant first breaks from the ground it comes up not in one stem, as do the taller cacti, but in many tiny, branching stalks, so that what solid earth and rocks there are among the sand clouds fall between these stalks and form a sort of openwork barricade. Against this the sand drifts, but does not choke out the life of the plant.

The winds of the desert always blow from the same direction, so that the barricade is always available, whether it be a rain, wind of sandstorm that is blowing.

And many a prospector, driven through the gates of insanity to the very verge of death itself, has been brought back, saved by a miracle, as it were, by noting in the distance a forest of barrel cacti rising like huge, leafless tree trunks.

Reaching them, just strength enough left to plunge his knife into their pulpy trunks, he has lain beneath the cut, the syrup juice trickling into his mouth its life-saving stream.

Another beautiful bloomer of this far desert raises a foot-long shaft, four-pointed and like no other flower stalks in the world. On it are clustered great waxen blossoms, two or three inches across, perfumed with all the sweet scents of Cyprus and the Ind, and ranging from palest golden white to deepest purple.

From right to left of the narrow valley, more than 400 feet below the level of the sea, these beds of cacti stretch. In winter and spring, when they are all ablaom with flame, they seem like some great cloth of gold to the traveler pausing on the rim of the Funeral range, or dipping down with his burros through Windy Gap.

Other plants than cacti are scarce in Death Valley, but two species of mesquite grow from one end of the valley to the other, both blooming profusely and adding their quota of odor to the air. When they seed, the beans are gathered by the Piutes and ground un for flour.—[San rFancisco Chronicle.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Not a Disease of the Rich, But Prevails Among the Poor as Well.

Neurasthenia, or nervous exhaustion, is just what the word implies—the nerves are tired out.

This condition is usually supposed to be the disease of the rich and lazy, because there is no special mark of sickness except crankiness in every possible form, and because in many instances of nervous exhaustion a speedy cure was effected when real worry and responsibility asserted themselves.

A nervous woman who is ordered by the family physician on a trip to Europe is usually taken jokingly. But true nervous exhaustion exists, and among the poor more often than among the rich.

In such cases it is caused either by physical overwork or mental worry. In the idle nervous exhaustion is brought on by excess in one form or another—by irritation of the nerves and a life void of any useful, satisfying occupation.

If muscles are not used in active work for any length of time they become weak.

The same is true of nerves.

If muscles remain passive they atrophy, and when nerves which are responsible of all the thought and action of your body, become weak, it means thinking and acting the wrong way.

There is no systematic way of feeling bad in nervous exhaustion, but there may be pain and discomfort; anywhere in the body. Sometimes it seems the eyes are affected, while at other times the ears, the chest, stomach, etc.

All neurasthenics, however, are mentally depressed, or else they are too jolly. They are extremely irritable, and are indifferent or indisposed to assume any responsibility or ordinary routine of duty of every-day life.

The cure depends entirely upon whether caused by laziness, by overeating, over-drinking or excess in any form. The cause should be removed by restriction, a normal life should be pursued, and some suitable, satisfying mental occupation as well as exercise for the nerves should be provided.

If caused by overwork the treatment should be perfect rest in bed for some time, nourishing food, pleasant surroundings and everything that elevates and heightens the spirits.

A good deal of good has been done for weak muscles by physical training. If muscles have no chance to become strong by useful labor, playful exercise should be substituted in order to avoid muscular atrophy.

Exercise for the nerves is very little heard of. We know about the so-called mental gymnastics for developing the brain, but exercise for strengthening the nervous system is almost unknown. Yet it is very essential that the nerves should be strenghtened by exercise.

Now, all these cold baths, cold sponges, massage and electricity are to the nerves what dumbells are to the muscles.

A nerve excitant is what stimulates and strengthens the nerves. Excitation is not the same as irritation. For instance, to run up a hill and when warmed up take an ice-cold shower is a nerve tonic, but to run the same distance to catch a train and get there a half minute after the train has pulled out of the station is a nerve irritant which is followed by depression.

SHEEP DOG'S INTELLIGENCE.

Will Pick Out Stray Sheep from Own Flock and From Strange Flocks.

[Harper's Magazine:] What a herd dog has first to learn is to know every one of the two or three hundred sheep, and to know them by both sight and smell. This he does thoroughly. When Watterson was running sheep on the plains he had a young Collie, not yet put to the herd, but kept about the pumping plant. As the sheep came in by hundreds to the trough, the dog grew so to know them that when they had picked up a stray from another band he discovered it from afar off, and darting as a hornet, nipping and yelping, parted it out from the band. At that time no mere man would have pretended without the aid of the brand, to recognize any of the thousands that bore it.

How long recollection stays by the dog is not certain, but at least a twelvemonth, as was proven to Filon Girard, after he had lost a third of his band when the Santa Ana came roaring up by Lone Pine with a cloud of saffron-colored dust on its wings. After shearing of next year, passing close to another band, Filon's dogs set themselves unbidden to routing out of it, and rounding with their own, nearly twenty head, which the herder, being an honest man, freely admitted he had picked up on the mesa following after Filon the spring before.

Quick to know the wilful and unbidden members of a flock, the wise Collie is not sparing of bites, and, following after a stubborn stray, will often throw it, and stand guard until help arrives or the sheep shows a better mind. But the herder who has a dog trained at the difficult work of herding range sheep through the shutes and runways into boats and cars for transportation is the fortunate fellow.

There was Pete's dog, Bourdaloue, that, at the Stockton landing, with no assistance, put 800 wild sheep from the highlands on the boat in eight minutes, by running along the backs of the flock until he had picked out the stubborn or stupid leaders that caused the sheep to jam in the runway, and by sharp bites set them forward, himself treading the backs of the racing flock, like the première equestrienne of the circus, which all the men of the shipping cheered to see.

Making Pipes of Lemons.

With the death of the corncob pipe a new variety is coming into popularity. It is the "Lembash," and the bowl of the pipe is a dried lemon rind, with a lining of meerschaum. Those who have smoked the new pipe say they will never smoke another kind. So says a London dispatch to the Washington Post.

AFTER EFFECTS OF THE GRIP

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS MEET THIS CONDITION.

They Build Up the System, Restore Lost Flesh and Bring Good Health.

"About three years ago," says Mrs. Jennie Cowan, of 718 N. Henry street, West Bay City, Mich., "I caught a severe cold, which ran into the grip. I was confined to my bed for two weeks. At the end of that time I was able to be about, but was completely run down. I was so weak I could hardly stand, my cheeks had no color and I felt faint. My heart would flutter and it was difficult for me to breathe at times. Neuralgia settled in the back of my head and stomach and I suffered from rheumatism in my shoulders.

"I had the care of the best doctor in town, but became no better until a friend told me one day how she had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to try them. I soon felt better and continued using them until I was entirely cured. They built me up again to perfect health and I use them now whenever I feel at all sick and they always help me."

The after-effects of the grip are generally worse than the disease itself. The health of the body is badly shattered and oftentimes there seems to be no way to restore it. The blood is poor, the breathing difficult and there is loss of weight. The sufferer becomes nervous and irritable and the system is powerless to resist the attacks of such diseases as bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable in this condition, as well as in other blood diseases, because by acting directly through the blood, purifying and enriching it, they not only drive off the germs of the disease but build up the system. The pills have cured anemia, rheumatism, after-effects of fevers, neuralgia and many other severe disorders of the blood and nerves.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

INDICTMENTS FOR CONSPIRACY.

TROUBLE FOR MEAT, ICE AND LUMBER DEALERS.

Prices for Meat and Lumber Increased and Agreement Said to Have Been Made With Los Angeles Dealers so That no Purchase Could Be Made Except at Arizona Prices.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 24.—After hearing evidence for nearly a week, the United States grand jury has returned indictments against the meat, ice and lumber dealers of Phoenix, charging that defendants have entered into consplracy for the restraint of trade, contrary to the terms of United States statutes, and, in effect, against the welfare of the people.

The butchers indicted are S. J. Tribolet and P. T. Hurley, as well as their joint corporation, the Phoenix Wholesale Meat and Produce Company. Since August 23, Tribolet and Hurley have owned all of the butcher shops of this city, on that day taking possession of the market of the Co-operative Meat Company and purchasing the business of A. Weiler, an independent butcher. The Co-operative company was disposed of by the purchase of overdue notes. The very next day, as alleged in the indictment, the price of meat went up 20 per cent. in wholesale lots and 40 per cent. to small consumers. As before referred to in The Times, the "combine" appeared to even embrace the cattle industry, there being a suspicion that Tribolet & Hurley had even made a "mutual benefit" agreement with the wholesalers in Los Angeles covering the purchase of cattle from the alfalfa fields of the Salt River Valley.

Covering alleged unlawful transactions under the guise of the lumber business, indictments were found against the DeMund Lumber Company, H. P. DeMund, the T. W. Chamberlain Lumber Company, the Valley Lumber Company and H. W. Ryder. It is claimed that, on or about July 1, last, these firms and individuals entered into a conspiracy for the raising of prices upon lumber, the prices being forthwith advanced to exorbitant figures, which are common to all the yards and which have been strictly adhered to. It is believed there was an "understanding" between all the firms even before July, for the price of lumber before then was so high as to seriously impede the growth of the city. One builder has told that he could purchase lumber in Los Angeles last spring at a price, plus freight, that would save $500 in the building of a single residence. In connection with these lumber indictments, also, it is rumored that an agreement has been secured, by some means, with the lumber supply firms in Los Angeles whereby no lumber can be bought in that city for shipment to Phoenix, save at exorbitant prices.

The People's Ice Company and W. B. Lount were indicted for having formed an ice trust. The latter has been in the business in Phoenix for twenty-seven years. About a year ago he appeared to absorb the Arctic Ice Company, a rival concern. Then ice suddenly got valuable. Last winter, on this account, strong support was guaranteed a new ice company, the People's, which built a modern ice plant and which started with low prices, in which the older concern joined. But it took only about a month for the formation of a combination and for a raise of 40 per cent. in prices, the two forming the City Ice Delivery Company, described in the indictment as "a fictitious corporation."

The defendants in the action are deeply disturbed over the indictments and are preparing to spend much of their wealth in fighting the cases. They have not been arrested, but have been advised that their appearance will be called for soon, for arraignment and later for trial. Several of them have lifted from their shoulders the possibility of imprisonment by reason of their appearance and testimony before the grand jury.

INTERNATIONAL RAILROAD.

Arizona to Be Connected With Londra's Copper Camp—Terminal Notes.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 23.—The latest concession secured by the Southern Pacific Company in Mexico is for a railroad to Cananea, paralleling the international line from a point near Nogales. Just what place the new road will have in the new Randolph system reaching toward the City of Mexico is not stated, the main object, apparently, being to connect Guaymas and Hermosillo with Sonora's greatest copper camp without the present necessity of going around through American territory. It is generally understood that the main line through to Guadalajara is to start at Fairbank, Ariz., connecting at Naco with the Cananea road, whence will branch out a new line which will be built down the Yaqui River, via Montesuma to a connection with the road now being driven southward from Guaymas.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

At Nogales, whither it had been taken under change of venue, has just been concluded the trial of Mrs. Kate Sauvage, charged with the murder of her husband at Bisbee in August, 1905. The woman was acquitted, the prosecution failing to produce material witnesses, much to the disgust of the many who believed the woman's action to have been deliberate murder. The killing was done with a double-barreled shotgun, the man being slain as he was approaching his home. When the woman had shot, her son, by another husband, shouted to her to "let him have the other barrel." The defense claimed that Sauvage had been a cruel husband and that he had made a motion as though to draw a revolver. The son, Henry Stone, will be tried as an accomplice.

TERRITORIAL NOTES.

M. J. Nugent, Democratic nominee for the Territorial Council in Yuma county, has been compelled to resign the nomination on account of severe illness.

The Southern Arizona range is very poor, owing to the lack of rain. Unless storms materialize within a month, many cattle will die. The situation is not improved by the prevailing cold weather.

Construction work has begun on the telephone line between Tucson and Benson, which is to give the Territory communication with Bisbee, Tombstone and Douglas.

Forty-five business men of El Paso, in a special train and accompanied by a brass band, have been touring Arizona on a business-getting expedition. Their trip extended as far westward as Tucson, where they were cordially received and shown the sights of the growing city. At Bisbee they were banqueted. Among the points visited was Cananea, Sonora, where the excursionists visited the great mines and smelters.

The last two baseball games in Tucson, between the local team and the Morans of Los Angeles were divided. Tucson took one game, 5 to 4, and Los Angeles the other, 4 to 2. Local fans agree that great ball was played, but insist that Tucson simply gave away the game it lost.

Members of the Tucson Driving Association have formed the "Tucson Investment Company," for the purchase of the local racetrack property. The consideration to be paid is $12,000. It is expected to bring to Tucson a number of the fast horses that will attend the Territorial Fair meet in November.

Francis Sellew, lately in charge of an important tunnel irrigation project in Wyoming, has been appointed construction engineer upon the Laguna dam, above Yuma. M. L. Peppard, superintendent of construction for the contractors, has resigned the post.

At Douglas tomorrow will begin the first annual conference of the Young Men's Christian Association for Arizona. At Douglas the association has a handsome building, built by the mining and railroad companies and the business men of the town.

LAW'S HAND STAYS DRAGNET.

NO TESTIMONY FROM NEW YORK LIFE OFFICIALS TAKEN.

Candidate Farrelly's Order for the Insurance Company to Show Cause Why Injunction Against Using Funds in Election Should Not Issue Tied Up.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—An attempt to secure evidence from Thomas A. Buckner, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, and Edmund Randolph, treasurer of that company, to be used in a legal action to prevent the expenditure of the company's funds in the election of its directors was stayed by a court order today.

Stephen Farrelly, a candidate for director on the annual policy holders' ticket, has obtained an order for the New York Life Insurance Company and its directors to show cause why they should not be enjoined from using the company's funds for the purpose of electing the administration ticket.

Buckner and Randolph refused to be sworn and give evidence in this action yesterday, and today their counsel, William Nelson Cromwell, secured an order from Justice Davis, staying the attempt to compel them to testify.

Arguments on the stay are set for tomorrow.

UNDERWRITERS TAKE CUPS.

Chicago Member Secures One for Essay on Relation of Public Press to Insurance.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25.—The final day's session of the convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters was the busiest of the convention. President Scovel characterized this convention as one of the most successful in the history of the organization, and he said it exhibits a greater unanimity of thought than he has ever known to exist in the association.

The report of the Executive Committee was taken up, recommending an amendment to the constitution and bylaws, providing that no person may hereafter become an officer, member of the Executive Committee or a delegate to the association unless he be agent or local manager or a field worker for a regular legal reserve company, and a member in good standing of a local association belonging to the national body, and also providing that existing ex-presidents shall be qualified for the period of their lives for their positions as members of the Executive Committee and as delegates at large, and that future ex-presidents shall be eligible as members of the Executive Committee at large for a period of three years only from and and after date of expiration of their term as president. The resolution was recommended for general consideration.

The first prize, a cup for an essay on the topic "The Relation of the Public Press to American Life Insurance," was won by Howard H. Hoyt of Chicago. Hoyt, after he had been presented with the cup, delivered his essay.

The Ben Williams vase was presented to Charles M. French, winner of second prize.

DON'S EXCITING VOYAGE.

Has a Collision, Captain Takes Sick, Ship Strikes Gale, Crew Gets Drunk, Fight Follows.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 25.—The British bark Don, which arrived today after a belated passage from Glasgow, with a miscellaneous cargo, including shipments of liquor and explosives, rifles and cement, had an exciting voyage.

The vessel was in collision with a French ship in the Irish channel soon after starting and put back to Plymouth for repairs; then a rubber call was made at Montevideo to land Capt. Jeffries, who was ill. From there the mate, Capt. Roach, took charge.

At Cape Horn gales were encountered, and with the vessel hove to and stormsails set the crew broke into the shipment of liquor and all hands became intoxicated. They refused to work the ship, which lay helpless, threatening to drive ashore on Horn Island. A change of wind alone saved her.

From that time on there was more or less liquor abstracted from the cargo, and more intoxication and fighting, until finally the captain took control by threatening to use firearms, and managed to reach port without any further serious trouble.

SHAKE-UP OF POLICE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Probably the most sensational shake-up which the New York police department has ever experienced will go into effect tomorrow, when every captain, with one exception, in the several boroughs, will be transferred by order of Commissioner Hughes. The changes are made "for the benefit of the service." The one captain left undisturbed is Capt. Schlottman, who is in command of the "Tenderloin precinct." There are eighty-five police captains in Greater New York.

CLOSE-IN PROPERTY SELLS.

Fifty-three Lots in Old Second-Street Park Bring Seventy-eight Thousand Dollars.

Tyler & Co. and J. F. Jones report the sale of fifty-three lots in Joseph Bayer's First street and Lake Shore Boulevard tract, for $78,000. This is the property known as the old Second-street Park, and is a good example of the demand for close-in property on the hills. This tract has really not been placed on the market for sale on account of the street work and improvements not being in proper shape. The demand, however, has been very keen and the tract was practically sold out in two weeks. At present the low ground is being filled at the rate of 500 loads a day, and street work of the best grade is to be put in as soon as the City Engineer establishes the grades.

BUSINESS PROPERTIES.

Tracy, Compton & Haugh report these sales: Millie Rose Miner to Alexander Keating, lot 50x155 to twenty-foot alley, vacant, east side of Flower street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, price $12,000; George H. Bancroft to W. F. Snell, lot 48x160 feet, running through from Bunker Hill avenue to Hope street, with nine-room house, renting for $55 per month, No. 137 South Bunker Hill avenue, price $12,000. J. A. Cook to Mrs. M. A. Shinkwin, lot 50x225 feet, formerly owned by Jacob Starr, bounded by San Pedro, Wall, Fourth and Winston streets, price $20,000.

Tracy, Compton & Haugh and W. A. Choate & Co., have acted in conjunction in the following sales: J. G. Burgess to Thomas Dugan, three lots, 180x170 feet, unimproved, on south side of Twenty-seventh street, about 450 feet west of Figueroa, price $13,500. Thomas Dugan to J. G. Burgess, lot 42x76 feet, No. 2817-2819 Central avenue, improved with modern building of two stores and 9 rooms above; income about $100 per month; price $12,500.

OTHER DEALS.

E. P. Vernon & Co. have sold for the Southwest Land Company in Vermont Avenue Square the southeast corner of Forty-sixth and Beach streets, 50x145 feet, to a 15-foot alley, for $1200.

J. W. Weightman reports the sale of a lot on Vermont avenue near Forty-third street, 50x205 feet, F. H. Messmore to H. C. Gower; price, $3000.

Also jointly with M. L. Samson the southeast corner of Vermont and Thirty-seventh streets to Conroy & Hessler, a flatiron shape lot, 112 feet on Vermont avenue and 124 feet on Thirty-seventh, unimproved; price, $5500.

The lot sold on Hill street a few days ago adjoining the Hotel Lillie on the south was sold by Wright & Collander Company and Mines & Farish, representing the syndicate of owners, and O. W. Childs, representing the buyers. The lot is on the east side of Hill street, between Fifth and Sixth, and faces the park. It is 60x155 feet to a 15-foot alley. There is a substantial two-story house on the property, rented for $125 per month. About a year ago Wright & Collender sold this lot to the syndicate selling at this time for $90,000. It is now sold for $120,000, making a profit of $30,000. There is said to be no other Hill-street property in the vicinity for sale at $2000 a foot.

WRECKED, BUT CREWS SAFE.

DETROIT (Mich.) Oct. 25.—Another gale was blowing on the Great Lakes last night, a maximum wind velocity of forty-six miles an hour being reported at Macknica. Smaller craft are suffering great hardship. Two schooners have been wrecked, the T. M. Mason at Two Rivers, Wis., and the Emma L. Neilson, on False Presque Isle, near Alpena. The crews of both vessels are safe.

SUES TAX COLLECTOR.

HELENA (Mont.) Oct. 25.—Atty.-Gen. Galen today began suit in the District Court against the present State treasurer and his bondsmen and the two predecessors and bondsmen to recover $240,000 alleged to have been received by those officials as interest on public money deposited in different banks. The sum of $60,000 is asked from J. H. Rice, the present treasurer; $80,000 from A. H. Barrett, his predecessor and $105,000 from Timothy E. Collins, Barrett's predecessor.

The bodies of three miners who had died by inhaling gas were found dead in the James Luna Mine No. 1, near Philadelphia, O., yesterday.

Another baby, thrown from the upper windows, was caught by a fireman uninjured.

Long after the floors had fallen in, piling up household goods in one great mass, which were quickly attacked by the flames, gas from an open main that entered the building continued to burn, reducing to ashes nearly everything within its reach. The total financial loss is estimated at $100,000. Of this amount, $60,000 was on the building, owned by W. A. Bunker, and insured for $40,000.

Dealer Peck Regards Them as Unfair Competition—Merchant Terry Said He Was Formerly Discriminated Against—St. Louis Judge Calls for Records in Terminal Case.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 25.—The hearing on grain trade conditions was continued before Interstate Commerce Commissioners Clarke and Lane today. E. P. Peck, an Omaha grain dealer, told of the methods of arranging prices a year or two ago, during the life of the Nebraska Grain Dealers' Association, but said no agreement of that kind now exists. He said he regarded "shovel houses" as unfair competition and used all means to drive them out of business.

C. G. Crittenden of the Central Grain Company, Lincoln, Neb., said his company operated elevators on the Burlington. They received from that road an allowance of 1¼ cents a hundred pounds to cover elevator charges until last summer, when it was discontinued. He knew of no "shovel houses" in his territory.

F. M. Terry, a general merchant of Little Sioux, Iowa, who operates a "shovel house," said he was formerly discriminated against by the Northwestern Railway.

Millers at Marshalltown, Iowa, also refused to buy his grain, he said, because he had no elevators and was not a member of the Iowa Grain Dealers' Association.

MUST PRODUCE RECORDS.

ST. LOUIS TERMINAL INQUIRY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25.—In the United States Circuit Court, today, Judge Finklenburg decided that Robert M. Fraser, the chairman of the Eastbound Freight Committee, must produce before Special Commissioner Rombeau the records of the committee wanted by the government in its ouster proceedings against the Terminal Railroad Association.

In issuing the order on Fraser to turn over his rate books, Judge Finklenburg commented on the fact that the terminal suit is a matter of vital interest throughout the United States. Fraser recently was constructively placed under arrest for refusing to produce his records at the hearing.

After the court's decision, today, Fraser handed over his records. In order to give the government time to inspect them, the hearing was adjourned until next Tuesday.

IT'S A GREAT PROGRAMME.

Benefit Performance for Police Relief Fund, Opening Tonight, Is an Assured Success.

The performance for the benefit of the Police Relief Association fund, which is to be given in Simpson Auditorium tonight and tomorrow night and Saturday matinée is now an assured success. Through the work of the committee in charge of the programme it was finished yesterday. On it will appear many of the leading theatrical artists now in Los Angeles.

One of the leading features of the card will be a boxing exhibition by Tommy Burns, heavyweight champion of the world, and D. M. Long, a well-known patrolman, who had a ring career. Jack O'Brien will appear in a bout with Patrolman Long, and will give illustrations of physical culture.

The musical numbers include some of the best artists of the local stage. They will be a strong attraction. Added to these features will be other performers from the leading theaters. There are over twenty numbers on the programme, and all participants are "stars" in their lines.

The programme follows:

Overture, orchestra and company; tenor song, J. P. Dupuy; coon song, Elmer E. Lissenden; bass song, F. W. Wallace; comic song, Billy Arlington; "Little Darling, Dream of Me," Euterpean Quartette; James Thornton, celebrated monologist; guitar solo, C. S. Delano; lecture on female suffrage, Billy Arlington; the society entertainer, Elmer E. Lissenden; La Belle Carmen, in her great dislocation and ring act; cornet solo, Willie Spitzel.

DIES OF BURNS.

Mrs. McDonnell Expires in a St. Louis Hospital—Flames Caught Her Dress from Bonfire.

Word reached Los Angeles yesterday that Mrs. Catherine McDonnell of this city, died at the Mullanphy Hospital, in St. Louis, Wednesday, from injuries received from flames which caught her dress while she was throwing leaves on a bonfire in the yard of her daughter's home last Monday.

Her daughter, Sarah McDonnell, was badly burned attempting to tear the burning clothes from her mother, but will recover.

Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until Mrs. McDonnell's son, Rev. Father P. H. McDonnell, treasurer of St. Vincent's College, arrives in St. Louis from Los Angeles this evening. Mrs. McDonnell is survived by her husband and eight children.

PALMER CURIOS WANTED.

Archaeological Society Asks for Them. Chamber of Commerce to Be Repaired Immediately.

Charles F. Lummis, E. W. Jones and Dr. Palmer of the Archaeological Society appeared Wednesday before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and asked that the Palmer collection of curios, which is the property of the Chamber of Commerce, be turned over to the Archaeological Society. The matter will probably be decided at the next meeting of the directors.

The insurance companies, which held policies on the Chamber of Commerce building, reported that they are ready to pay all damages, and the work of restoring the building and the exhibits injured by the recent fire will be started immediately.

The chamber is preparing for an excursion to the Grand Cañon November 10, and Mr. Skinner reported considerable unanimity among the members as to chartering a special train.

Information was received at the meeting yesterday that Hon. Charles D. Walcott of the United States Reclamation Service, will arrive in Los Angeles Saturday. A committee consisting of A. B. Cass, F. Q. Story, Senator Frank P. Flint, C. B. Boothe and J. B. Lippincott was appointed to meet Mr. Walcott and arrange for his entertainment while in the city.

OCCIDENTAL'S DAY.

Large Tent Reared and Everything Is Ready for Inauguration of President Baer.

The exercises appertaining to the inauguration of John Willis Baer as president of Occidental College will commence this morning at 9:45, preceded by the academic procession from the Hall of Letters to the large tent on the athletic field, where the exercises will be held.

Arrangements have been made for the accommodation of 1500 people and the Christian associations of the college will serve lunch for the convenience of those coming from a distance. The south and west gates to the athletic field will be used by visitors and only the students will enter by the east gate.

This will be the greatest event in local college history, as it will bring together men of note in the world of education as no other has done. President Wheeler of Berkeley, President Jordan of Stanford, President Bovard of U.S.C., and Dean Norton of Pomona, will be the college representatives. Mayor McAleer of this city and Mayor Waterhouse of Pasadena will represent the civic side of the ceremonies; Superintendent Moore, the schools of this city; William Shaw of Boston, the World's Christian Endeavor Union; official Presbyterianism, Robert E. Speer of New York; the trustees of the college, Hon. F. P. Flint. Besides these, many local men will have part in the ceremonies.

The day will be climaxed by a banquet in honor of President Baer, at the Hotel Westminster in the evening.

The intention of holding a series of evangelistic meetings in the tent on the college grounds has been abandoned.

ATTACKS BEN WARD.

Gas Company Thinks That It Is Over-Assessed, and Cries "Fraud."

Now that it is just before election the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company has suddenly found out that it is assessed more than it thinks it should be, and upon this ground yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court against Los Angeles County Tax Collector Welch to prevent the collection of the tax on the ground that the assessments were made "arbitrarily and fraudulently" by the County Assessor.

In a long and sad complaint the gas company goes into comparisons of assessments and in spite of the fact that the Board of Equalization refused to reduce the assessment, weeps hot legal tears over the fact that they are assessed for $1,445,785. The company explains all about its pipe lines—except its political pipe line—and asserts that Ben Ward did all this alleged discriminating assessing to impress upon his political followers "his antagonism to and hatred for this plaintiff."

When told of this suit, Ben Ward said: "The company is raising the same issue that it raised before the Board of Equalization and which that board turned down. There is not a scintilla of truth in the statement that I discriminated against them. It's the same old issue they raised before, and there is nothing in it."

WEAK-KNEED SURRENDER.

One Merchant Tailor Toadies to Labor Union and Signs Agreement. Main Body Firm.

The strike of the Tailors' Union yesterday assumed larger proportions when Hardy, a weak-kneed man who has a shop uptown, capitulated to the totemites and signed their agreement. Hardy was a member of the Merchant Tailors' Association, and up to yesterday morning was extremely loud in his denunciations of the totemites, and expression of his intention to employ only free workingmen.

The success of the strikers with Hardy has emboldened them and they are now picketing almost every shop in the city.

A few of the merchant tailors, makers of the cheaper sort of clothing, have signed up with the totemites, as they find some of their business lies with that class.

The Citizens' Alliance is backing up the employing tailors' organization. The main body of merchant tailors will stand firm for the open shop, and the employers will conduct their own business.

MESSENGER BOY ACCUSED.

B. De Lanco, a messenger boy, is accused by the police of having run down K. D. Eagon, the man who died, Tuesday, as a result of injuries received from a motorcycle last Saturday. He is being held under police surveillance, pending a Coroner's inquest this morning. Eagon was stepping from a car at the corner of Fourth and Hill streets when a swift motorcycle crashed into him. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital and then to the California Hospital. He died in the latter institution from a fractured skull.

DEATH TAKES YOUNG MAN.

Though only 19 years old, Ladd Woodward, son of Patrolman G. W. Woodward of the East Side station, is being mourned by a host of young friends because of his sudden death at his home, No. 2934 Manitou avenue, Wednesday night from a fever contracted last Saturday. The young man recently graduated from the Los Angeles High School, and was a youth of great promise. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Eastside Congregational Church, and the burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery. A father, mother, sister and brother survive him.

The Cologne (Germany) Gazette yesterday semi-officially affirmed that Chancellor Von Buelow does not approve of the attacks made by the German press on the new French Premier, M. Clemenceau.

Heck Stock Increased November 1st to 20 Cents a Share, And Then to 30 or 40 Cents

Read This Announcement. Your Future Is Weighing In the Balance

NEARLY 60,000 SHARES OF HECK GOLD MINING STOCK SOLD YESTERDAY. Our entire 15c allotment went at one fell swoop. Never in the history of mining, has a conservative company made such sales, with the possible exception of those made during the boom days of '49. Only by special permission of the Heck Gold Mining Company are we now able to sell you at 15 cents, but we have to renig on our time limit. Unfortunately, we thought we could deliver stock at 15 cents, up to Saturday night, November 3, but remember we reserved the right to return subscriptions if we were oversubscribed.

To prevent any misunderstanding, we make the following announcement, to deliver to any subscriber, stock at 15 cents 'till Thursday, 9:00 P. M. At that hour the stock will go to 20 cents, then we will be compelled to raise the price to at least 30 cents within a few days thereafter.

Please bear in mind that the phenomenal sale of this stock does not account for our rapid increase. Development is going on daily and rich ore is looming up in great quantities.

To any one proving we did not sell 50,000 shares yesterday, we will pay to any charity named by this paper, the sum of $1000. This is sufficient guarantee, and any person desiring to examine our books can do so, provided, if our statements are true, they will purchase at least 1000 shares of stock.

Why Heck stock is selling:

1st. It is surrounded on all sides by producers.

2nd. It has the most favorable outlook of any mine in this rich section. It's practically at the door of the famous Gold Rhodes mine paying $1.00 a year on each share of its stock in dividends. A good mine in Arizona is worth two prospects in any other country.

3rd. It adjoins directly the German-American, which mine, we understand, has been held at $400,000.00.

4th. The Heck mine is handled by men "who know," and who offer the best references right here in Los Angeles. Its superintendent is the president of the company, and he is working continually on the mine, and is the only officer receiving a salary, and that is only $5.00 a day. This self same man has been mining for thirty years, and is pinning his life long hope on this one property.

5th. Our Company has examined thoroughly into this property, and we know whereof we speak. Incidentally, we can furnish bank or other references ourselves.

Call, write, telephone or telegraph your order at our expense. Your future is weighing in the balance.

"Gentlemen: Complying with request, I may say that the fact that I have devoted more than a quarter of a century of my life to the development of Arizona mines, and am staying with the work, may be accepted as a somewhat emphatic expression of my opinion regarding the resources of the Territory and its future as a producer of mineral wealth.

"Yours very respectfully,

JORDAN WAVES KINGS ASIDE.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT IS PASADENA SPEAKER.

Says at Civic Men's Banquet That Monarchs Are Stepping Out Now and That Nations Do Not Count but That It Is What a Man Is Himself That Counts.

Office of The Times, No. 24 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Oct. 25.—Ten cities of Southern California were represented in the civic federation convention which met this morning in Woodmen Hall.

Following a greeting by Vice-President Bertonneau and the members of the Reception Committee little time was lost in getting to business. President Walter A. Edwards of Throop Polytechnic Institute was chosen chairman and Secretary J. A. Miller of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce was named as temporary secretary. Mayor William Waterhouse extended to the visitors the freedom of the city and presented Rev. Robert J. Burdette, who delivered an address of welcome.

In happily chosen phrases Dr. Burdette welcomed the visitors, calling attention to the different attractions which Pasadena had to offer. No single institution was overlooked, and when the speaker had finished the delegates had a very clear idea of the possibilities which the city offered in the way of entertainment.

John A. Goodrich explained the purpose of the convention. He spoke of what had been accomplished by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the Pasadena Board of Trade and the other civic bodies of Southern California, and hinted at what might be accomplished were all the organizations working in unison for one end.

Attorney Works of Los Angeles replied on behalf of the visiting delegates. He expressed his approval of the project under consideration, and called attention to what might be accomplished by the convention.

A committee on permanent organization was appointed. The suggestion that the committee should draft a set of bylaws did not meet with universal approval, as most of the delegates stated that they had no authority to bind their respective bodies to any agreement without first conferring with them.

After a brief recess the following permanent officers were chosen for the present convention: Attorney Works of Los Angeles, president; C. D. Daggett of Pasadena, vice-president; J. A. Miller of Long Beach, secretary.

Prof. Carl Plehn of Berkeley addressed the convention in the afternoon on "Taxation." Methods of taxing the corporations were suggested, and the matter of railroad taxation was carefully gone into. In closing the speaker stated that he considered the present methods of taxation in vogue very bad, in that they forced realty to bear nearly 85 per cent. of the taxes.

This evening the delegates gathered at Hotel Maryland, where a banquet was served. Over 100 guests sat down at dinner. Vice-President Bertonneau of the Pasadena Board of Trade delivered the opening address and introduced Seward A. Simons, the toastmaster of the evening. Mr. Simons made a suitable speech and introduced President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University. President Jordan was welcomed with handclapping when he arose to make his address.

"I want to give tonight, as far as is possible in a few words, an idea of the meaning of democracy and good government. Democracy and good government must go together, they are closely allied. Democracy depends a good deal on minding our own business. If democracy fails it is because we do not mind our business, the business of the nation.

"America represents the common man. It was Justice Marshall who said, 'America has but one class, just men, citizens.' It took centuries for the common man to reach his present state. Kings are stepping aside now. Nations do not count. It is what a man is himself that counts in this world, not what nation he belongs to. Kings have ceased to be political functionaries in most lands, they are now simply social functionaries. The fact of the disappearance of caste, of aristocracy, of all rule except the rule of the plain citizen marks the advancement of the world. With the uplifting of the common man comes progress in science and other directions.

"The fact is sometimes pointed out that, in countries where the people are not supreme, conditions are better. There is hardly a city in America that compares with the towns of Germany, where paternalism is the rule. The fact has been pointed out that under the tronclad rule of Gen. Funston San Francisco was a more orderly city than it is today. That may be so, but we do not want that kind of rule. Paternalism carried to excess becomes tyranny. The government by the people is the strongest in the world."

PASADENA BRIEFS.

For some unknown reason the electric-light plant bids were not brought up at the meeting of the City Council held this afternoon. This special meeting of the Council was called for the purpose of listening to the report on the bids and why the matter was not acted upon is a mystery.

Edward Giebe, assistant stereotyper for the Star, lost the first finger of his left hand through an unfortunate accident while threading the paper through the lower section of the press last evening.

Residents and property owners of Linda Vista who live near or own property adjoining the proposed site of the new health camp for tuberculosis sufferers are making strong opposition to having the camp located at that place.

The Linda Vista Dairy, the Home Dairy and the Del Coronado Dairy, the three largest of the independent dairies, have made the announcement today that after October 30 they will charge 10 cents a quart for milk and raise prices on other dairy products in proportion. This now puts in force the 20 per cent. advance announced by the combined dairies several weeks ago. A few of the very small dairies and individual people having one or two cows may continue to sell milk at lower prices.

The societies of the Presbyterian churches will hold an all-day meeting at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday. In the morning session Frank DeWitt Talmage of Los Angeles will deliver an address.

The residence of Mrs. M. Hilbish at No. 105 Dayton was entered during the early hours of this morning and thoroughly ransacked by a burglar. The family did not retire before 12 o'clock last evening and was surprised this morning upon entering several unoccupied rooms of their house to find all of the dresser drawers pulled out and burned matches scattered over the floors.

All of the eastern mail has arrived here from six to twenty-four hours late every day this week on account of the big storms in New Mexico and Colorado.

The annual gymnasium men's banquet, held this evening at the Y.M.C.A. Hall, was one of the most successful in the history of that organization. The woman's auxiliary of the association served supper.

At the Christian Endeavor rally, held last evening at the First Presbyterian Church, eight hundred of Pasadena's Christian Endeavorers gathered to listen to one of their foremost leaders, Dr. William Shaw of Boston. Upon the platform with the speaker of the evening were Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College; Paul C. Brown, California State president of the Christian Endeavor Society; Jesse O. Smith, former State secretary; E. McKinley, State treasurer, and Leonard Merrill. Dr. Shaw delivered an address.

Miss Mabel Cregier of No. 53 Vale street was the hostess this afternoon at a dainty prenuptial china shower given in honor of Miss May Wachob, whose marriage is set for next Wednesday.

Those present were Mmes. Charles Hutchins, Rex McCoy, A. A. Fletcher, Walter Hawkins, Charles Brenner, Ralph Chaffin, Virgil Vail, J. A. Wachob, Frank Reynolds, Carrie Goodrich, Misses Eileen Doty, Grace Sutliff, Mabel Thornburg, Jessie Allin, Florence Allin, Lelia Vail, Clara Thompson, Ethel Neer, Florence Smith, Florence Fitch, Marion Bisbee, Alice Allin, Hannah Cregier.

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California arrived today from Berkeley. He is a guest of O. S. A. Sprague of No. 184 South Orange Grove avenue. Mr. Wheeler is here to attend the installation of President John Willis Baer of Occidental College tomorrow. President Wheeler and President David Starr Jordan will be the guests of honor at a dinner given by the Cornell University Club at the Angelus Hotel in Los Angeles Saturday evening.

At the home of Miss Marguerite Austin on West California street a new bridge whist club was formed Tuesday. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Miss Gladys Gardner at No. 320 East Colorado street, November 6.

A large number of Pasadena friends are included in the 300 invitations issued by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette for a musicale to be given in the Choral Hall of the New Temple Auditorium in Los Angeles on November 7. Mrs. Walter Raymond of this city is to sing, and Miss Gertrude Cohen will give several piano solos. The accompanist for the evening is Bruce Kingsley.

Mrs. W. T. Aust of No. 1921 Lincoln avenue was surprised last evening upon the occasion of her birthday by a party of her friends dropping in to spend the evening.

RAIDS SURPRISE THEM.

Descents on Alleged Blind Pigs Are Unexpected by Citizens of Long Beach.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 25.—The raid of blind pigs last night came as a surprise to the citizens when they read The Times at breakfast. So closely had the secret been kept that not a dozen people were aware of the best clean-up made in a long time. Indications today are that the offenders will fight against conviction, especially as three have been convicted for similar offenses before. Friends of Clarence Feetham, the restaurant man, and Dr. Prittie say that if liquor was purchased in their business houses, it was not sold by either in person, as both have been absent for several days.

Druggist Jackson strongly asserts his innocence as does Brown, owner of the billiard-room. But Mayor Downs says that in a valise at his home is plenty of evidence to corroborate the testimony of the detectives who have been at work.

F. L. Holmes, who made the gun play last night, when the door to his storeroom was smashed, was arraigned today, but on motion of City Attorney Daly, the hearing was continued until Monday, to examine an alleged defect in the warrant. The hearing of E. H. Jackson and L. L. Brown has been set for Monday morning before Recorder Hart.

SEASHORE NEWS JOTS.

The associated secretaries of the commercial organizations of Southern California met in this city yesterday in executive session. Those present were J. F. Paulding, Los Angeles; A. N. Youngloo, Riverside; N. A. Ulin, Santa Ana; C. J. Baker, San Bernardino; A. J. Klunk, Orange; John Diehl, Santa Barbara; A. Moore, Whittier, and J. G. Delozier of Fullerton. The secretary indorsed the pure food law and appointed a committee to present several new laws to the next Legislature, among them one to permit of the organization of a merchants' mutual fire insurance company to operate in the small cities outside of Los Angeles.

Carl Overholzer, alias Carl Anderson, charged with forging a deed to land he did not own, whose preliminary examination was set for today, has been granted a continuance until November 5, and was released on $500 cash bail.

Riggs, late Company E, Ninth Illinois Infantry, who was found dead in Santa Monica yesterday, were brought to the home this morning and his funeral took place this afternoon. Riggs had been on furlough in Santa Monica for some time. He was a native of England, admitted from Duarte, in 1899, and aged 64.

James World, late Company C, Fourth California Infantry, a native of Indiana, admitted from Los Angeles in 1901, died October 21, aged 53.

FOOTHILL CITY IS GROWING VERY RAPIDLY.

Gas Company Makes Large Addition to Its Plant and Storage Capacity — Municipal Improvements Hardly Keep Up With the Increasing Demand for the Same.

WHITTIER, Oct. 25.—The big growth of this city is proving a source of actual inconvenience to some of its business houses, who try hard to keep up with the demand for expansion. There is scarcely a house to rent in the place; each year sees the schools crowded, although each year additional rooms and teachers are provided; water, street and sidewalk work is continually being done, yet with all the extensions, the needs seem almost as great as before. At the gas plant of the Edison company this need for expansion has resulted in the installation of a plant by which the company can make fourteen times the amount of gas which was found sufficient when the present plant was put in about three years ago. The new holder will have a capacity of 75,000 cubic feet of gas. A new washing and scrubbing system, and a new purifier are other items made necessary by the big growth of the city.

DEATH OF IRVING E. STRATTON.

A peculiarly sad death was that of Irving E. Stratton of Newberg, Or., who passed away at the Whittier Hospital Tuesday of spinal trouble. Mr. Stratton, who was only 24 years old, was not considered alarmingly ill until about two weeks ago, tuberculosis of the spine having come on suddenly and progressed with great rapidity. His father, William Stratton, lives at Newberg, Or., and after a pathetic little service at White's undertaking parlors the body was shipped to that place.

TRACK MEET.

The first interclass track meet will be held at Whittier College tomorrow afternoon, and the first basketball game of the season, between the Union High School and Los Angeles Polytechnic School teams, will come off on Saturday afternoon at the High School courts.

HIGH SCHOOL Y.M.C.A. FORMED.

Tuesday afternoon a Y.M.C.A. association was formed among the young men students at the Union High School, with Clark Moore as president, Mr. Hopkins vice-president, and Kyle Buckmaster as secretary. Thirty-five young men became active members.

RIVERA SHIPPING WALNUTS.

Fifty Carloads Have Already Gone Forward During the Past Two Weeks.

RIVERA, Oct. 25.—Although less than a fortnight has passed since the first car of walnuts was ready for shipment, the Los Nietos and Ranchito Association has already sent out fifty cars of high-grade nuts. This is but a fraction of the season's output, which will run well into three figures. Growers who at the beginning of the season thought their orchards were bearing but a small crop, find that as the harvest progresses the nuts show up better than they thought, and are now much pleased at the outlook. Prices this season are 11 and 10½ cents per pound, respectively, for soft-shells and standards, with three cents less for second grades.

As this is the first year for the new machinery at the two shipping houses of the association, the 200 or so members of that body have watched the work this year with especial interest. The new machinery includes apparatus for grading, blending and bleaching the nuts. The sacks of walnuts, which have been washed thoroughly, are dipped into a chemical bath, which lightens the tint of the shells, the consumer demanding a lighter shade than nature provides. This chemical bath, which in no wise injures the meat of the nut, displaces a process which the growers have used for many years in which sulphur largely enters. After the nuts are bleached and again washed, they are carried by means of an elevated belt to big bins, from which they are sacked, labeled and shipped. The expense of bleaching, blending and sacking the nuts, with the maintainance of the building, interest on investment, etc., has averaged in this association for the past years only about 1 per cent. of the crop value, and is said to be one of the best records among the twelve similar California associations. The Los Nietos and Ranchito Association markets the crop from about 6000 acres, and annually distributes to its members about a third of a million dollars.

CARNIVAL AT POMONA.

POMONA, Oct. 25.—The carnival of nations, arranged by the ladies of St. Joseph's Church, opened at Fraternal Aid Theater last night and will continue through to Saturday night. The theater is artistically decorated and many attractive booths have been erected about the building. Each evening entertaining programmes are being given on the stage.

Rev. T. T. Creswell was formally installed pastor of the local Presbyterian Church this afternoon, the ceremonies occurring in the large auditorium of the First Methodist Church. Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker of Los Angeles, President John Willis Baer of Occidental College and Dr. Speer of New York were the principal speakers. The church was crowded and Mr. Creswell starts his pastorate here most auspiciously.

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 25.—At the meeting of the Board of Trustees Monday night a notice was given by J. S. M. Hill, owner of the Magonagle Block, that after November 1 the rent of the Council room would be raised from the present rate of $25 to $30 per month. A committee was appointed to find another room in which to hold the board meetings.

The City Attorney was instructed to request the Pacific Electric Railway Company to have its conductors stop cars at all street crossings between Mission and Columbia streets.

San Diego and back $4. Good returning until Nov. 15th.

PYTHIANS START BUILDING.

Alhambra Lodge Is Soon to Have a Three-story Structure for Its Home.

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 25.—Ground has been broken for the new $20,000 home of the Knights of Pythias. The building, which will have three stories and basement, will be of pressed brick and trimmed with ornamental mastic. The third floor, where the Knights will be quartered, will consist of a large assembly hall, banquet hall, social room and a thoroughly-equipped kitchen.

The first floor will be occupied by a furniture house, and the second floor will be divided into several five-room flats and offices. The contractor, J. G. Hall, promises to rush the completion of the building so that the lodge will be enabled to entertain its friends in the new home before the close of the winter social season.

BUILD NEW HOTEL AT SANTA MONICA.

A HALF-MILLION-DOLLAR HOSTELRY PLANNED.

Paul Morton Said to Be Interested in the Syndicate of New York Capitalists and the Palisades Will Be Chosen for the Location of the Tourists' Paradise.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 25.—Paul Morton is at the head of a syndicate of New York capitalists that plans the erection, within a few months, of a great tourist hotel on San Vicente boulevard, overlooking the cañon and the sea. It is planned to spend $500,000 in building and equipment, which will place it among the famous hostelries of the West Coast. The location is ideal, being in the Palisades, where only fine residences can be constructed. The building restrictions are so high there and the lots so expensive that only the very best homes will be built in that part of the city.

The site selected for the hotelry is the one that became famous in the early days of the eighteenth century as the home of the pioneer Castilian settlers of the beach. It was the site of the first adobe house built here. That house was torn down only a few weeks ago, after an effort was made to have the Reclamation Society interest itself in reclaiming the relic of another civilization.

THE ARCADIA TO CLOSE.

The closing of the Arcadia on the first of the year as a hotel will leave Santa Monica without a hostelry suitable for the accommodation of the tourist visitors. The California Military Academy, now being conducted on the Seventh Street Park campus, expects to find a new home in the Arcadia, beginning with the first of the year.

HONEYMOON IN JAIL.

Pity 'tis, but true, and sad to relate, Mrs. Albert L. Vincent spent the first night of her honeymoon in the City Jail. Yesterday, until shortly after the noontime, she was Miss Letitia Bethurum, and her home was South Santa Monica. She was married in Los Angeles during the afternoon of yesterday, and the couple apparently at once began to enjoy the honeymoon by filling their tanks with bad booze. So well had they succeeded in this that by the time they arrived home, early in the evening, both were in a disgraceful state of intoxication. The bridegroom calmly retired to the privacy of his bedchamber and began to snooze off the effects of the booze, but the bride preferred the open air and by her maudlin song and vulgar yell attracted a curious crowd that lined the street in front of the home of the bridal couple on Seventeenth street, near Oregon avenue. The noise grew as the crowd increased, and the police officers were summoned to bring the disgraceful performance to a close. The bride was hurried into jail, and this morning, when arraigned before City Recorder Guidinger, was fined $50 for disturbing the peace. Upon being released from jail she set out, hot foot, in search for the groom, who is an employé at the brickyards, and, having found him, the interrupted honeymoon was resumed where the officers had cut it short.

A NEW SUBDIVISION.

Tracey Drake, the Chicago millionaire, who recently purchased two hundred acres on San Vicente boulevard, adjoining Brentwood Park, is preparing to make extensive improvements to the tract, which is to be subdivided under plans submitted by a landscape architect. The tract is to be called Carlos Heights. The plans call for winding drives and improvements of the same character as those in Brentwood.

RANGERS TRANSFERRED.

Two Mountain Forest Policemen Receive Assignments to New Stations.

MONROVIA, Oct. 25.—The work of E. B. Long, ranger in charge of the Monrovia district, has won for him what appears to be a promotion. He is going to San Bernardino to take charge of the building of a big firebreak to protect that district—a movement which has back of it the people of that section, who have subscribed $2000 to supplement $1000 appropriated by the government. According to word received here, the firebreak is to be thirty miles long, and will extend from City Creek around Mentone and to Riverside. It is to be thirty feet in width where the ridge is steep and extending to fifty feet through places where the brush is high. A big force of men will be employed immediately and the firebreak is to be rushed to completion.

Jesse Sevier, the ranger who takes Long's place in this district, will be transferred from the Rincon district, and Ranger Will Bacon will patrol both Pine Flats and Rincon, a task made lighter through the fact that the people have come out of the back mountains in anticipation of the cold weather, and the patrol is less strenuous. The ranger service will take up for its first work when the rainy season begins, the extension of the trail from Monrovia Cañon across the ridges into Rincon.

MONROVIA JOTTINGS.

What is said to be the biggest price ever obtained for property outside the business district was paid yesterday for the lot adjoining the Woman's Club House on Myrtle avenue. A Los Angeles citizen, R. L. Reynolds, paid $3000 for the privilege of a home in the shadow of this stronghold of femininity. The lot is 53 1-2 feet front and runs back 150 feet. It contains a small cottage.

The Duarte-Monrovia Farmers' Club will hold its regular meeting at Mrs. T. S. Forbes's home tomorrow afternoon.

Capt. T. R. Crandell is at his home with some improvement in his health caused by a stay in a hospital in Los Angeles.

George Lawrence has gone to Searchlight, Nev., and will be joined on Monday by Jack Crandell, who goes in the interest of a Los Angeles company.

BREAKWATER MAN HURT.

Worker Employed on the San Pedro Seawall Injured by Drop Through Trestle.

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 25.—H. Linby, employed by the California Construction Company on the breakwater in the outer harbor was seriously injured this morning by falling through the trestle while engaged in unloading rock from flat cars. The injured man was treated by Dr. John Gwaltney, who says that he will probably recover.

TRUSTEES FILE IT.

The Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday adapted a resolution favoring the granting to the Southern Pacific of 123 acres in the outer harbor recently asked for by that corporation and which was denied by the Board of Trustees, if the Southern Pacific would grant terminal rates to San Pedro, complete the fill and work in three years, provide a permanent location for the Craig Shipbuilding Company on the fill, allow ocean freights to pass over the wharves free of charge from the ship's tackle, increase the public wharfage at the foot of Fifth street and open other streets to the waterfront.

This resolution was presented to the Board of Trustees that night with a request that it be adopted. The board promptly filed the resolution.

Much adverse criticism has been heard here relative to the action of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce. It is stated that only four votes of the executive committee were recorded in favor of the resolution granting the concession to the Southern Pacific. There is no doubt that the sentiment of the citizens of San Pedro is overwhelmingly adverse to granting any further waterfront concession at present.

The Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce also requested the Board of Trustees to vacate the concession of H. E. Huntington in the outer harbor at the foot of San Pedro street, on the grounds that he was showing no semblance of good faith and criticised his delay. The agreement of Mr. Huntington with the city was read. It provides simply, "That work must be started within six months and completed within five years." The request was filed.

Mrs. Reidecinda Dodson offered a park site of twenty acres to the city, which was accepted with thanks.

DRY FOR SUNDAY.

After next Sunday, San Pedro will be as dry as her sister city of Long Beach is supposed to be. An ordinance was passed last night closing the saloons on Sundays and fixing the license of saloons at $85 a month. Those persons who become exceptionally thirsty on Sunday are already planning pilgrimages to Redondo and Ocean Park.

A large number of oil experts have been here lately making an examination of the hills between San Pedro and Redondo. It is stated that several companies will soon begin work to demonstrate the territory and that wells will be sunk to a sufficient depth to thoroughly prove whether or not oil exists in this locality.

BURBANK BITS.

BURBANK, Oct. 25.—John McClure has completed his $40,000 winery, and is making wine. His vineyard contains over 500 acres.

Quail hunters have been numerous here during the last week.

HE DIDN'T FORGET.

The Pompous Lawyer Found an Apt Student in His New Office Boy.

There's a certain lawyer in a big office building at Broad and Chestnut streets whom we will call Samuel Smith, though that surname by no means resembles his real one. He is an exceedingly dignified man, by some thought to be a trifle pompous. At any rate, he is held in no little awe by his numerous clerical force. A few days ago he had occasion to employ a new office boy, and a morning or two after his arrival Mr. Smith missed his waste basket from its accustomed place by his desk.

"John," he called, "where is my waste basket?"

"Mr. Jackson took it out to empty it, sir," was the answer of the new boy.

This was a new one on the lawyer.

"Who is Mr. Jackson?" he asked.

"The janitor, sir."

Next day Mr. Smith felt a draft, and looking around, saw a window open which he had ordered kept closed.

"John, who opened that window?" he asked, testily.

"Mr. Pierce, sir."

"Who in the name of common sense is Mr. Pierce?"

"The man that washes the windows, sir."

"See here, John. I want you to understand that we don't 'mister' the men around here. Call them by their first names. Now, remember."

"Yes, sir," replied John, shutting the window, and Mr. Smith turned again to his desk, his ruffled temper slightly mollified by the boy's politeness. In about half an hour the door leading into his private office was thrust ajar and the boy's head appeared in the aperture.

"Say, Sam!" he yelled, "there's a man out here wants to see you."—[Philadelphia Bulletin.

BRYAN'S TOES STUCK OUT.

Laid the Fault on the Japanese Because He Bought His Socks in Japan.

The Commoner relates with much glee an incident that befell William Jennings Bryan in Japan. He went to one of the temples in Tokio to see the shrines of some of Japan's departed statesmen. It was at Shiba Park where the most beautiful of the Tokugawa temples are located. This was the first Japanese temple that Mr. Bryan had ever visited. He was accompanied by several dignitaries of the municipality of Tokio, who had come to act as an escort of honor.

At the temple door the Japanese gentlemen began to remove their shoes, according to unalterable custom. Mr. Bryan took off his Oxford tie, but was horrified to find that one of his great toe and part of the other toe of one of his feet were protruding boldly from his sock. There was no help for it; the great American statesman, with his guard of honor, had to patter over the bronze floor of the shrines at Shiba with two toes exposed.

"Never have I felt the host of Japan so much as on that occasion," said Mr. Bryan. "Anyway, I blame it on the socks in Japan, and that is why for the fact that such a hole should be worn between the time I put them on in the morning and the time I took off my shoes at the temple that afternoon."

RIVERSIDE BELLE WEDDED.

Miss Irma Willard Becomes Mrs. McCall—Beautiful Occasion at the Bride's Home.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 25.—A wedding notable by reason of the beauty of its appointments and the prominence of its principals was celebrated at the first Methodist Church this evening, when Miss Irma Willard of this city became the bride of Hope G. McCall of St. Paul. Three hundred invitations were issued to the wedding, and half as many guests were bidden to the reception that followed at the home of the bride on East Eighth street. Rev. E. J. Inwood officiated.

Miss Allis Miller was maid of honor and Miss Constance Willard, sister of the bride, assisted as bridesmaid. Master John Day of Minneapolis attended as ring bearer. E. J. McCall of Minneapolis supported the groom as best man. Miss Miller wore a gown of white lace and carried pink roses. The bridesmaid was attired in pink crepe de chine. The bride was radiant in a Paris gown of soft white satin. Eugene Day of Minneapolis, uncle of the bride, gave her away. The wedding music was played by C. B. Wingate of Riverside, assisted by a stringed orchestra from Los Angeles. The ushers were Bruce Carruthers of Minneapolis, Sidney H. Bruce of Highland, Mr. Caldwell of New York, Russell Ray of Los Angeles, A. H. Halsted, Phil Wallace, Norton Edwards and M. M. Millice.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. David Willard and one of the belles of Riverside's smart set. Mr. and Mrs. McCall will be at home after December 5 at the Angus, St. Paul.

ACCIDENT ON THE BOULEVARD.

If Samuel Y. Case had not been born under a lucky star he would doubtless have been killed in an accident that precipitated him thirty feet down the rocky side of Mount Rubidoux yesterday afternoon. While he was at work on the west side of the mountain a dynamite charge that had dislodged a large boulder also loosened some smaller rocks upon which he was standing. When the big rock started down the hill it jarred the other boulders and started them downward, carrying the unfortunate man with them. Luckily none of the rocks struck him, and when he had regained his footing it was found that his injuries were confined to severe cuts and bruises. This is the first accident that has occurred on the new scenic boulevard since work was started.

The last Republican rally of the campaign will be held November 1, when Senator George C. Perkins will address the voters on the issues of the day. George Frost, the war horse of Riverside Republicanism, will preside and the vice-presidents will include all local men who voted for Perkins for Governor in 1879. An enthusiastic demonstration is planned.

ELECTRICS TO SANTA BARBARA.

Connection Expected With Los Angeles—Construction Already Begun.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 25.—A revival of the oft-repeated statement that an electric road is to be built to this city from Los Angeles has gained substantial credence from the fact that the steam schooner Samoa is expected at this port early next week with a full cargo of railroad ties, 400,000 feet of lumber in all, consigned to the Edison Electric Company of this city; and that another large order is expected in a few weeks. Work of construction from State street along the eastern boulevard is now under way.

It is generally understood that the right of way along the county road from the city limits to Ortega Hill, near Summerland, a distance of about four miles, is to be abandoned for a private right of way. It is probable that the company would not make this expensive move if the line was not intended to extend beyond a few miles from this city.

CONFERENCE OF BAPTISTS.

The thirteenth annual conference of the Baptist Association will meet in this city tomorrow. About fifty delegates, representing the parishes of San Luis Obispo, Paso Robles, Lompoc, Goleta, Carpinteria, Hueneme, Santa Paula, Oxnard, Pleasant Valley, Buckhorn and Santa Barbara, are expected at the conference.

Among the speakers will be Rev. A. M. Petty, general missionary of Southern California. Rev. Albert Hatcher Smith of the First Church of Pasadena, Rev. McLean of Carpinteria, Rev. C. N. Hill, president of the Baptist Theological Seminary at Berkeley, and Rev. C. J. Banks of Paso Robles. Rev. George C. Wright of Santa Barbara is moderator of the Baptist Association, and Rev. John Smithers of San Luis Obispo is clerk.

The important topic for discussion will be the proposed consolidation of the denominational schools of Southern California, including the Congregational, Christian and Baptist colleges and seminaries of the southern counties. Among the larger educational institutions to be affected are the Congregational College at Pomona, and the Baptist College with its splendid property near Westlake, in Los Angeles, which has been leased for several years as a military school. A note will be taken at the conference on this subject and reported at the Southern California Association meeting, later in the year, at Pasadena.

FULLERTON WANTS GAS.

Proposition That a Company Be Formed of Local Capitalists to Hold Most of the Stock.

FULLERTON, Oct. 25.—There is talk of forming a local gas company in Fullerton to install a complete system here at once, covering the business and residence portion of the city. Many residents are anxious to get gas for cooking purposes, and some will use it for lights, both in stores and their homes. A subscription list in circulation to ascertain how much stock can be secured in Fullerton at $1 per share. The proposition is to incorporate for $20,000 and to raise about $18,000 in stock here. Mr. Willits of Orange holds a gas franchise here and offers to put $2000 into the enterprise. The company would manufacture its own gas, instead of piping natural gas from the oil wells, according to plans discussed a year ago.

SHOOTS; CRIES "HOLD-UP."

Unknown Assailant Escapes After Wounding Santa Fe Painter at Kelso.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KELSO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Keily of Gallup, N. M., a painter for the Santa Fé Railway, was shot in the back and fatally injured by an unknown bad man from Searchlight in front of the Japanese restaurant at this place tonight.

As soon as Keily fell his assailant shouted that he had killed a hold-up man, and in the excitement that followed, disappeared.

No one has been found here to identify the gun man. The wounded man was placed aboard the Salt Lake overland to be taken to Los Angeles for medical treatment

EDISON COMPANY'S FOREST RIGHTS.

PRETTY SLAP FOR BARLOW AT SANTA ANA.

Democratic Candidate for Congress Asks Some Questions for Campaign Effect, but General Manager Selig Promptly Makes Candid Statement in the Matter.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 25.—When C. A. Barlow, candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket, was in Santa Ana he questioned Congressman Smith's statements with reference to national legislation affecting the rights of the Edison Electric Company in the forest reserves. It was considered that his remarks were intended to impeach those of Congressman S. C. Smith, relative to the special act of Congress passed at the last session, confirming to the Edison Electric Company certain rights in the San Bernardino and Sierra forest reservations. Mr. Barlow defied anybody to show that there was any provision made for a rental to be paid by the company.

A. L. Selig, general manager of the Edison Electric Company, over his own signature, states in part regarding that bill: "That said company (the Edison Electric Company) shall pay annually in advance to the proper officer of the forest service, as compensation for the privileges hereby granted, such reasonable sum as the Secretary of Agriculture may fix from year to year," etc.

Mr. Selig states that the policy of his company is never to pay any attention to statements by irresponsible parties, but in justice to the Hon. S. C. Smith he feels that it is incumbent upon the company to make the facts plain. He states emphatically that the only benefit the Edison company derived from this special legislation is that its permits may not hereafter be revoked without cause. They must pay for the timber cut or removed, assist in fighting fires, help protect the reserves, etc. This statement is considered to effectually squelch Mr. Barlow in his attitude toward Congressman Smith.

GUN CLUB SHOOT.

Members of the recently-formed Aliso Gun Club held their first shoot yesterday. A party composed of W. H. Burnham of Orange, R. H. Sanborn and son, Sherman Stevens and W. H. Comstock of Tustin and W. S. Derby of Los Angeles spent the day on the grounds. They succeeded in bagging about eighty ducks. The club is located on the San Joaquin ranch, about eight miles from Santa Ana, and is considered one of the best preserves in Orange county.

PERSONAL POINTERS.

The funeral of Dr. E. F. Greenleaf, who died at his home on Greenleaf street Tuesday was held this afternoon. Dr. Greenleaf was one of the pioneers of Santa Ana. He came here over thirty years ago from Mississippi. He was a large property owner, and probably the most prominent grower of walnuts and apricots in this valley. He leaves a widow and a number of children.

R. F. Chilton, cashier of the Orange County Savings Bank, resigned his position at a meeting of the board of directors Wednesday morning. Mr. Chilton has been in failing health for some time. He retires in the hopes of being able to recuperate by a long rest. Mr. Chilton's successor was not appointed.

J. W. Freeman, a well-known fruit grower and rancher of this section, has sold his ranch and will move to Covina, where he expects to engage in the oil business.

Bleeker K. Gillespie, age 25 years, and Bessie L. Northrop, age 18 years, both residents of Fruitvale, secured a license here today, and were later married by the justice of the peace.

Judge J. W. Taggart of Santa Barbara occupied the Superior Court bench Wednesday afternoon in place of Judge West. Arguments in a civil case between Emil Kaiser and N. M. Barrows were heard. The suit is to quiet title.

CANNING TOMATOES.

Huntington Beach Cannery Cannot Keep Up With Its Orders—Also Put Up Celery.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 25.—Canned tomatoes seem to be in great demand.

The Huntington Beach Cannery, Pickling and Produce Company is turning out 4000 cans daily and has stored in the cannery a thousand barrels of tomato pulp for catsup. The company has disposed of $15,000 worth of canned goods and the demand is greater than the company is able to supply. It is said that 200,000 cases of tomatoes could easily be disposed of this week could the cannery fill the order. The tomato and chili season will soon be over just in time to handle the celery which will last longer than any other product, the season opening in two or three weeks and extending into the spring.

This is expected to be the "hit" of the cannery as it is said to be an entirely new and original idea. The company will use that part of the celery that is usually left in the field to waste, not being considered good enough for shipment. It will be taken green and fresh from the field and put through a process by the cannery, making it a valuable and palatable product. Some prefer the canned article to the fresh celery, as the stringy exterior is entirely overcome in the preparation.

A "celery wine" or compound is to be made at the cannery. It is pronounced a wholesome drink, non-alcoholic, and said to be excellent for nerves and used as a tonic.

Following the celery will come the peas, which are now being put in over large acreages by the farmers north of here.

BEET SHIPMENTS.

Beet shipments are at their best at present, amounting to twenty cars daily. A carload of beets will yield 5800 pounds of sugar. Up to date there have been shipped 1100 cars. The beets so far shipped averaged about 14 per cent. in sugar.

PECULIAR BIRD CAPTURED.

Miss Zalinsky captured a beautiful white bird yesterday at the old Northam Ranch, north of Huntington, which she prizes highly and has refused a $50 offer for it. It is thought by some to be a cockatoo and that the bird may have been lost by the circus recently at Santa Ana. It resembles a parrot in form and size, but is pure white and eighteen inches high. The beautiful bird had been around the home for several days and by throwing out food the young lady was able to secure it alive. It has been admired by many.

TAKE BOGUS HOTEL MAN.

Colton Officers Arrest Alleged Passer of Bad Paper and Put Him in Jail.

COLTON, Oct. 25.—Constable Bagley and Night Watchman Magill last night arrested William S. Simon, who has been representing himself to be assistant manager of the Hotel St. Francis of San Francisco. On Sunday evening Simon left his card at Robert Deacon's store on I street, where he attempted to purchase seven or eight boxes of cigars.

He disappeared from sight until last night, when the officers were notified that the man was in town. Simon was taken to San Bernardino by Constable Bagley, where he will be prosecuted for the alleged passing of a worthless check.

The officers think that he is wanted elsewhere for similar work.

Sheriff Ralphs has been informed by wire from Manager Wood of the St. Francis that Simon is undoubtedly crooked, as he has no manner of connection with the hotel, and is not known at all by any one connected with its management.

SAN DIEGO PARAGRAPHS.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 25.—Before Judge Conklin is being heard today the suit of E. J. Rother against A. S. Heineman of Los Angeles for $15,000 damages. The cause of the action is an automobile accident which occurred November 25, 1905, inflicting injuries which rendered amputation of the plaintiff's leg necessary. Heineman is a wealthy Los Angeles resident, who was on his way home when he ran down Rother at the corner of Fifth and Thornton streets.

A big forest fire is raging below the international boundary line between Campo and Potrero, in the vicinity of Tecarte. Hundreds of acres have been burned over in the past few days, although the land is of little value and the brush only is destroyed. The fire is beyond means of communication from here, though it has sent clouds of smoke in this direction.

PROMINENT ENGINEER DIES.

One Who Assisted in Construction of Santa Fe Railway Passes Away at Lordsburg.

LORDSBURG, Oct. 25.—R. I. Swisher died last night at his residence in La Verne. He came here two months ago with his family. He had been a prominent civil engineer. He was employed by the Santa Fé when that company's line was laid across the continent. He was also engineer for Cuba, and for the last eighteen years had been civil engineer for the Mexican government. Mr. Swisher was 50 years of age. He leaves a widow and one child. His father and brother also reside here. The interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Lordsburg, at 2 p.m. Friday.

LOCATES WATERBURY.

Harry Waterbury, who left his ranch in La Verne and mysteriously disappeared three months ago, has been found. His agent here, C. Doutt, who was much alarmed as to Waterbury's fate, has kept up investigations which ultimately led to his discovery. Waterbury is quietly working as a carpenter in the northern part of the State and oblivious to the fact that his prolonged absence caused his friends to mourn him as dead.

Only $4 to San Diego and back. Good returning until Nov. 15th.

ORANGE GROVE SELLS.

COVINA, Oct. 25.—H. H. Smith has sold his twenty-acre Valencia grove on Grand avenue to a Mr. Bailey, of Pasadena, for $27,000. Mr. Smith has owned the grove for one year, paying $24,000 for the property. The grove is planted solid to Valencias, 1400 trees, the crop from which netted him a little over $8000 for the year just closed. This property was also formerly a part of the Ruddock estate.

Clifton J. Platt, of Platt & Pyle, of Pasadena, has purchased from C. Horn, a corner on Citrus avenue and Italia street, 50x110 feet, for $2600. There is a small frame building valued at $400 on the property.

George Seward has sold his ten-acre orange grove on Cypress avenue to W. T. Miner of Pomona; consideration $7000. The property is planted to navel oranges.

CHURCH HOME SOLD.

Holiness Congregation Disposes of Valuable Property at Santa Fe Springs.

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Oct. 25.—The Holiness Church of Southern California has just sold, through Rev. Fred Lewis, the Whittier pastor, its property here, known as the "Home of Rest." The property consists of large buildings, the main dwelling containing twenty or more rooms, and a smaller one, for dining-rooms, kitchens, etc. Eight acres of rich land, set to fruit trees, and a fine vineyard, added to the attractiveness of the place, which, as its name would indicate, was established several years ago as a home for superannuated or overworked church people of the Holiness denomination. The new owner, Henry Steinly, will make the place his home.

RANCH PROPERTY SOLD.

Woodhead & Black af Chino recently purchased of Fred Humpler the latter's forty-acre ranch, paying $12,000 for it. The same people purchased of Mrs. H. A. Kelly her twenty-acre piece for $3000, but turned this property over to Mr. Humpler, in making the transfer of his forty-acre ranch.

SCHOOL BOOKS COSTING LESS.

PEOPLE OF STATE SAVED $33,148 LAST YEAR.

Result of the State Doing Its Own Printing Instead of Buying of the School Book Publishers—Almost a Half Million School Books Sold Last Year.

The report of State Printer W. W. Shannon for the fifty-sixth and fifty-seventh fiscal years—July 1, 1904, to June 30, 1906—has been filed with Gov. Pardee.

The report shows that there was a steadily increasing demand for school text-books, the sale being 50,000 more books for the year ending June 30 last than for the preceding year. The appropriation of $35,000 by the Legislature for new machinery and repairs in the State Printing Office makes it possible to meet the increased demand.

State Printer Shannon hopes, according to his report, that in another year reductions can be made in the prices, so that California pupils may get the text-books at lower rates than now obtained. Even now, the State Printer says, the people of the State were saved $33,148.13 last year. These figures are based on the price of the same text-books in the East.

It is interesting to know that 411,226 books were sold to the school pupils last year, at a cost of $209,374.47. The same books at eastern prices would cost $242,522.60.

According to the report, the growth of the sale of school text-books since 1899 has been wonderful. In that year 192,610 books, at a cost of $72,846.01, were sold. In 1905, 407,727 books were sold, aggregating a total cost of $210,878.56.

Since the Legislature made the appropriation of $35,000 for new machinery and repairs, $20,554.60 of this amount has been expended, leaving $14,786.77 in the fund. More machinery will be installed, and the report of the printer asserts that next year the State will be in a better position to supply the demand for text-books, and it is estimated that no less than $50,000 will be saved to the people of the State over the cost of the same books in the East.

The price of paper and other material used in making books has taken bounds and leaps, so that now they are top-notch, but, notwithstanding these advances, State Printer Shannon claims that the great saving can be made.

During the thirty-sixth session of the Legislature, $92,500 was appropriated for the State printing fund, and $84,758.71 was expended.

These expenditures were as follows: Senate, $37,414.26; Assembly, $41,412.60; other legislative expenses, $5931.85. The total cash business for the fifty-sixth fiscal year was $12,017, and the total charges for all work, $184,172.81. The pay roll amounted to $190,630.05.

The figures for the fifty-seventh fiscal year are as follows: Appropriations, $119,550; expenditures, $101,683.33; the expenditures for the Senate printing, $3247; Assembly, $3283.10; legislative, $1164.25, making a total of $7684.85. The cash business amounted to $7627.50, while the pay rolls amounted to $61,139.65.

Blood Poison
Strictly Reliable

On account of its frightful hideousness, specific or contagious poison in the blood is the worst of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted. Once the system is tainted with it, the diseases may manifest itself in the form of scrofula, eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, eruptions or copper-colored spots on face or body—little ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, swollen tonsils, falling out of the hair or eyebrows, and finally a leprous-like decay of the flesh and bone. Our specific treatment for this trouble, varied and modified to suit each individual case, is an unfailing cure to which a vast army of restored men today owe their sturdy health.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The demand for produce yesterday was very good, and the situation showed little change over that of the previous day.

Eggs were ruling about the same—firm on ranch stock and steady on other grades. No eggs were offered for sale on 'change. It is said in market circles that there should be still further advances in the price of local stock eggs this week. Only a few dealers had stocks yesterday, and they were in limited supply.

Butter was scarce and firm. Fancy potatoes hold strong.

Sales on 'change yesterday were as follows: Two cases of fresh northern cheese; 5 barrels of cranberries. Bellefleur apples that are now arriving are not satisfactory, and most of the fruit dealers are drawing on cold storage
